Israel Demands Egypt Take Strife Blame; France's Head Man in Morocco Quits Post

Successor Will Try For Peace

Colonists Blame Strife on Policy

Paris, Aug. 31 (AP)—France today announced the resignation of Gilbert Grandval, her top administrative officer in her troubled Moroccan protectorate.

As expected, Gen. Pierre Boyer de Latour was named to succeed Grandval as resident general. The general, who has been resident general in Tunisia, left Tunis today for Rabat, the Moroccan capital.

"WITH ALL my heart I will try to find a reasonable and peaceful solution for the situation in Morocco," Boyer de Latour told newsmen in a farewell statement.

Grandval, who went to Rabat July 7 with orders to relax French rule, built up popularity with many Moroccan nationalists but drew the ire of European residents of the protectorate who oppose giving the natives a stronger hand.

The Colonists blamed his "weak" policy for the native uprising Aug. 20 in which more than 1,000 Moroccans and French were killed. Neutral observers considered the uprisings were due to the French government's delay in granting some measure of self-rule to the Nationalists.

A STATEMENT from the Hotel Matignon, Premier Edgar Faure's official residence, said that Grandval's long rumored resignation "has been accepted by the government as of Aug. 31."

The French hope that Boyer De Latour, who for many years held military commands in Morocco, will satisfy both Nationalists and French Colonials. During his tenure in Tunisia, the French granted the protectorate a large measure of home rule. While he was in Morocco Boyer De Latour used a firm hand against unruly Moroccans.

The plan to secrifice Grandval was worked out by Faure and top members of his cabinet last week during conferences with leaders of all Moroccan factions at Aix Les Bains. The French cabinet approved the premier's plans for the protectarate after long meetings Sunday and Monday.

ALSO SLATED for displacement is the aged, unpopular sultan of Morocco, Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafa. He was installed by the French two years ago when they exiled his pro-Nationalist relative, Sultan Mohammed Ben Youssef, to Madagascar. Since then Ben Youssef

Planes to Fly Farther Apart

Wiesbaden, Germany, Aug. 31 (AP)—A board of U. S. Air Force officers investigating the collision of two flying boxcars that killed 66 American servicemen Aug. 11 said today planes on such formation ferry flights should fly farther apart.

A spokesman for headquarters of the U. S. Air Forces in Europe promptly announced the recommendation would be adopted as a safety measure for ferry flights. But he added that tight formations will still have to be flown when air drops are being made.

"Otherwise, paratroopers and their weapons might be dangerously scattered," the spokesman said.

RedCrossHas $457 More to Help Victims

The disaster relief fund of Ulster County Chapter, American Red Cross, was increased today by $457, bringing the total amount of gifts to $3,796.40, it was announced.

Although the immediate emergency has passed the work of rehabilitation is just beginning for the families affected by the recent catastrophe, Bernard Feeney, disaster chairman of the Ulster County Red Cross Chapter, said this morning.

COMMENTING that many people believed that the Red Cross had completed its task by supplying food, shelter and clothing, Mr. Feeney acted to clarify the Red Cross role in the rehabilitation of families affected.

"Important as the immediate emergency work of the Red Cross is in time of disaster," he said, "it is the slower, less spectacular rehabilitation which accomplishes most toward helping families and individuals back to the normal tenor of their daily lives and their proper place in the community."

After the immediate emergency services of food, clothing, shelter and medical care are completed, the period of rehabilitation begins, Mr. Feeney stated. On the basis of family and individual needs, the Red Cross makes available household furnishings, and the building and repair of homes.

"NEED IS the basis for all help," Mr. Feeney asserted. Those who can help themselves are expected to do so. Where persons have only limited means, the Red Cross will bridge the gap to help such individuals re-

Harriman Appoints Kelly County Judge

William A. Kelly, prominent Kingston attorney and civic leader, was named by Gov. Harriman today to fill the unexpired term of County Judge John M. Cashin, who has resigned to accept appointment as federal judge of the Southern District of New York.

The Freeman was notified of Mr. Kelly's appointment this morning by Charles Van Devander, the governor's press secretary. He said Judge Cashin's resignation is effective today at midnight and Mr. Kelly will be sworn in at 9 a. m. Thursday, by Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirick of Kingston.

JUDGE W. A. KELLY

MR. VAN DEVANDER said the swearing-in ceremony was scheduled at that hour in order that the newly-appointed judge may take his seat on the bench at the opening of court on Thursday at 10 a. m. The next session of Children's Court is scheduled for that time and it is expected that presiding at that session will be Mr. Kelly's first judicial act.

Mr. Kelly, a member of the firm of Napoletano, Kelly and Saccoman, 241-43 Wall street, will serve until December 31. He is a candidate for Ulster county judge in the fall elections.

PRESIDENT of the Kingston Men's Democratic Club, Mr. Kelly has taken an active role in the party and has on two occasions been offered for public office. He was a candidate for the Ulster county judgeship 12 years ago when Judge Cashin was elected. He was also a candidate for district attorney on another occasion, opposing N. Le Van Haver.

Mr. Kelly served at one time as secretary to the late Chief Justice John T. Loughran of the Court of Appeals of the State of New York. At that time, 1938, Judge Loughran was an associate justice of the Court of Appeals.

Mr. Kelly moved to Kingston in 1920, attended St. Joseph's School and Kingston High School where he was graduated in 1927. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree at Fordham University in 1931 and his law degree at the Fordham Law School

Resenting Order on Cease-Fire

Gaza Skirmishes Continue 7th Day

Jerusalem, Aug. 31 (AP)—Israel bridled today at joining Egypt in a cease-fire on the strife-torn Gaza front, demanding that Egypt first take the blame for starting border violence that continued into the seventh straight day.

Israel's resentment was aimed in part at the phrasing of the UN-proposed cease-fire order. An Israeli government spokesman here said it put "Israel, which was being attacked and invaded by terrorist bands, on the same level as Egypt, which is the attacker."

IT WAS REGARDED highly unlikely that Egypt would acknowledge itself the aggressor.

Egypt agreed yesterday to a cease-fire beginning at 6 p. m. (noon EST) today. The proposal was designed to halt the week-long outbreak of pitched battles, infiltrations, and ambushes that has left more than a score of Israelis and Egyptians dead and many others wounded.

In Cairo, an Egyptian communique said Egyptian commandos had entered Israeli territory and blown up a broadcasting station only six miles from Tel Aviv. It said the commandos also had blasted two Israeli armored cars near Magdal.

THESE COMMANDOS were believed to be irregulars operating across the frontier in retaliation for continuing Israeli attacks, according to Egyptian observers. Before the Cairo communique was issued, Egyptian newspapers said commandos had penetrated Israel for about 25 miles yesterday to carry out "punitive action" against the population, killing 15 to 20 Israelis.

The only reference to such raids from the Israeli side was the announcement by a military spokesman here that infiltrators fired after midnight on a military car near Falujah in southern Israel, wounding one of the occupants.

Canadian Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, chief of staff to the UN Palestine Truce Observers Commission, is trying strenuously to restore peace to the troubled border area where at least 21 Israelis and 8 Egyptians have been killed since last Thursday.

A UN COMMISSION spokesman said Israeli Premier Moshe Sharett's government replied last night to Burns' proposal for a cease-fire with a request that Burns get Egypt's ackknowledgment of responsibility for the past week's bloodshed. A letter setting forth Israel's views was signed by Arthur Lourie, deputy director general of the foreign office.

A later UN announcement said Israeli authorities, in view of further border incidents last night, "were doubtful of whether to accept the (cease-fire) proposal, and it was stated the final decision would not be made until the morning of Aug. 31."

The Israeli government spokesman took exception to this announcement, saying Israel's answer was contained in Lourie's letter.

"We now are waiting for Egypt's reply," he added.

Lourie's letter demanded that Egypt, in addition to acknowl-

Meeting Is Set Today On Relief

South Reported After Factories

Washington, Aug. 31 (AP)—Representatives of 10 federal agencies gathered for a White House meeting today to check up on their vast rehabilitation programs for the flood-ravaged northeastern states.

They wanted to see where the project might be speeded up and whether any new aids could be supplied with existing funds and personnel.

THE CLOSED DOOR conference was set up by White House staff members here at the request of President Eisenhower now vacationing in Colorado.

Meanwhile, AFL President George Meaney called for a congressional investigation of reports that "agents" of southern communities are at work in the flood areas trying to entice mill owners to abandon their damaged plants and relocate in the south. He did not specify the communities the "agents" came from.

North and South Carolina officials last week denied a similar report that appeared in the New York World Telegram and Sun.

North Carolina's conservation and development director, Ben E. Douglas, said his state "naturally" welcomes new industries but "we are not taking advantage of the misfortune of the people of New England" to lure away their plants. South Carolina's acting state development board director, S. W. Cable, called any such action by his state "unthinkable."

MEANY SAID the more than 100,000 workers thrown out of work by the floods and others are shocked by the "piratical activities" of outsiders who "hurried into the stricken areas with lush inducements to mill owners to migrate and abandon their workers."

He urged that Congress investigate the reports, which he said had been received from the AFL United Textile Workers and

May Continue Ferry to Feb. 1

Conference Proposes Time for State Study

Newburgh, N. Y., Aug. 31 (AP)—Operators of the Newburgh-Beacon Ferry say they will consider keeping it running until Feb. 1, which would give the 1956 legislature time to consider a proposal that the state take over the ferry and continue it in operation.

Plans to abandon ferry service across the Hudson river on Sept. 30 have been announced by the operators, Homer Ramsdell and his sister, Mrs. Pauline R. O'Dell, of Newburgh.

A proposal that the ferry be kept in operation until the next legislature can act was made at a conference here yesterday. At the meeting the operators turned down a proposal that they continue the ferry until the proposed Newburgh-Beacon Bridge is built. The project is still in the planning stage, and it will be three or four years before the bridge can be built.

The ferry, which has three boats, is now the only river crossing between Bear Mountain bridge and the bridge at Poughkeepsie.

The operators said yesterday that if the abandonment date is to be postponed, they would need an agreement with the AFL United Marine Division, which represents the 90 employes. The union now is operating under terms of a contract which expired July 1.

Auto Parts Makers Cite Price Control

Washington, Aug. 31 (AP) — A spokesman for independent car parts makers testified today that three big automobile manufacturers "set and establish the price for almost every part and replacement" needed to repair cars and trucks.

Harold T. Halfpenny of Chicago, counsel to the National Standard Parts Assn., told Senate investigators this occurs while the Federal Trade Commission "stands idly by."

HALFPENNY SPOKE in testimony prepared for the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly Subcommittee, which is investigating whether prices paid by the consuming public are kept artificially high by the Robinson-Patman Act. This law forbids price discrimination that tends to reduce competition in the business world.

Halfpenny said "three major vehicle manufacturers dominate" their own industry and the sale of parts to repair the vehicles.

Declaring that competition "must be preserved, or each vehicle manufacturer will have a complete monopoly" over the sale of parts for its cars, Halfpenny said this competition can come only from independents.

COMPETITION for the sale of parts for a Chevrolet, he said, "comes not from Ford or Chrysler . . . the same is true with all vehicles."

"No independent (parts manufacturer or dealer) can successfully price his product higher than the three major car manufacturers, under the risk of being put out of business competitively," he said.

"No one in the automotive replacement industry has any incentive to price his product lower, since no matter how low the price, there is no opportunity to capture any significant portion of the automotive replacement market that is at present under the control and domination of the three major car manufacturers."

Halfpenny said "the thousands of car dealers are re-

400 Traffic Deaths Are Forecast Over Labor Day

Chicago, Aug. 31 (AP)—A Labor Day weekend traffic death toll of 400 was forecast today by the National Safety Council.

This would be 100 deaths more than would occur if the weekend were not a holiday. The period covered by the estimate will run from 6 p. m. Friday until midnight Monday.

"Our figures on past experience compel us to estimate the Labor Day traffic death toll at 400," Ned Dearborn, council president, said. "But we are convinced those 100 unnecessary deaths—and more—can be prevented if every driver and pedestrian meets the extra danger with extra care."

More than 40 million cars will be on the roads over the last long weekend of the summer, the council figured.

Not Sure of Enough Steel

National Shortage May Affect Bridge

A growing steel shortage in the nation is not expected to affect construction of the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge, a spokesman for the Harris Structural Steel Co., contractor for the super-structure, said today, but he was not certain whether enough steel was on hand to see the job to its end.

"We are too well along, and I don't think the shortage will affect us, but I cannot be sure," he said. Usually, he noted, however, once production of steel is started for such projects, "they try to keep moving it on a large scale," and far enough ahead to keep the job moving.

STEEL HAS been arriving here for the trusswork on the bridge as the heavy steel girder and deck work on the west approach is nearing completion. Work is now in progress between Piers 12 and 13. The latter is at the shore of the river.

Work also is progressing on piers in the river and on those for the eastern approach on the other side of the river.

An Associated Press report from New York today noted that consumers' inventories of hard-to-get steel are approaching the critical point, according to a national metalworking weekly.

"SOME USERS are pointing to low inventories as a weapon to bludgeon producers into expediting deliveries," the publication said. "It's a last-ditch effort to stave off production line slowdowns."

Floods in the northeast, Iron Age said, have been "an added starter in the tight steel market. Flood-stricken communities in New England and elsewhere are receiving preferential treatment on steel requirements for rehabilitation of bridges, highways and other structures. . . . There's no telling how much steel will be required for flood repairs, but producers and consumers already are anticipating a further tightening in supplies of structural, plate and other critical items."

Warning that "the outlook for virtually all steel products is decidedly gloomy," the weekly added that major consumers show no signs of easing their pressure for deliveries already running as much as two months late.

Advance Preparations Made for Announcement

Followers of Peron Demonstrate, Urge Him Not to Resign Post as President

Buenos Aires, Argentina, Aug. 31 (AP)—President Juan D. Peron offered to resign today. The response was mass demonstrations of strength by his followers who insisted that he continue in office.

The president addressed his offer to the Central Confederation of Labor (CGT) and the leadership of his own Peronista Party. Both clearly had been primed to receive and reject it.

The long message said:

"The time for fighting has passed. The time has come to work and consolidate our revolutionary gains. I offer my retirement to insure pacification. I do not want to be an obstacle. . . . It is not possible to destroy what we have built."

"They speak of civil war," it continued. "I do not believe it will happen here. There will be peace or dictatorship. I have no taste for dictatorship. If that is the solution, someone else will have to do it."

First word of the message came in a broadcast by Hugo Di Pietro, CGT secretary, who summoned workers to the plaza De Mayo in the heart of the capital and to plazas in other cities and towns and instructed them to remain there until the President withdraws his resignation offer.

Di Pietro also called a general "stoppage of activities" throughout the country for 15 minutes begining at 5 p. m. today, excluding only essential public services. But offices, stores and factories began closing down soon after he spoke.

His broadcast was followed by speeches by Alejandro Leloir and Mrs. Delia D. de Parodi, presidents of the Men's and Women's Peronista Parties. Both demanded the withdrawal of Peron's offer to step out.

Preparations for the massing of workers in Plaza de Mayo outside the main government offices had been made during the night. Trucks and buses had been assembled to transport the demonstrators from outlying sections. Reinforced guards armed with field guns were placed at government buildings in the neighborhood and police detachments were spotted strategically.

BEARING TROUBLE POSTPONES TESTS—It has been announced by builders of the 56,650-ton USS Forrestal that they still hope to deliver the aircraft carrier to the navy on schedule September 24, even though bearing troubles Tuesday have postponed full power speed tests until September 19. Wreckage Burns Three Hours

Five Die in Plane Crash At Dover Plains Tuesday

Dover Plains, N. Y., Aug. 31 (AP)—All five persons aboard a small private plane died yesterday when the laboring aircraft plummeted to earth in a mountain forest and burned in fierce flames.

The crash occurred minutes after the plane took off from the Monroe, Conn., airport for Middlebury, Vt. The wreckage burned for more than three hours and left only twisted, fused metal.

There was difficulty identifying the badly burned bodies. They were finally determined to be:

Benjamin Hurd, 55, a veteran pilot who leaves a widow and seven children. He owned the plane and operated the Monroe Air Service.

Barrett Fisher, 48, of Trumbull, Conn., and his 9-year-old son, Fred.

Frederick H. Brown, 30, of West Bethlehem, Conn.

Lucille Woodward, 17, Brown's sister-in-law, also of West Bethlehem.

Fisher and Brown, sales representatives of two chemical firms, were flying to Middlebury with samples of their products.

The crash was witnessed by Edward Luppi, who has a summer home nearby. He said the engine of the Stinson plane was laboring as it emerged from a patch of fog and then died, drooping the plane to the ground. The trees around the plane showed it came straight down.

This would be 100 deaths more than would occur if the weekend were not a holiday. The period covered by the estimate will run from 6 p. m. Friday until midnight Monday.

"Our figures on past experience compel us to estimate the Labor Day traffic death toll at 400," Ned Dearborn, council president, said. "But we are convinced those 100 unnecessary deaths—and more—can be prevented if every driver and pedestrian meets the extra danger with extra care."

More than 40 million cars will be on the roads over the last long weekend of the summer, the council figured.

BEARING TROUBLE POSTPONES TESTS—It has been announced by builders of the 56,650-ton USS Forrestal that they still hope to deliver the aircraft carrier to the navy on schedule September 24, even though bearing troubles Tuesday have postponed full power speed tests until September 19. The flat-top is due back at Newport News, Thursday, for repairs to a propellor shaft bearing that melted 100 miles off Cape Henry, Va. Dedication ceremonies are set for October 1. (NEA Telephoto)

Resenting Order on Cease-Fire

Gaza Skirmishes Continue 7th Day

Jerusalem, Aug. 31 (AP)—Israel bridled today at joining Egypt in a cease-fire on the strife-torn Gaza front, demanding that Egypt first take the blame for starting border violence that continued into the seventh straight day.

Israel's resentment was aimed in part at the phrasing of the UN-proposed cease-fire order. An Israeli government spokesman here said it put "Israel, which was being attacked and invaded by terrorist bands, on the same level as Egypt, which is the attacker."

IT WAS REGARDED highly unlikely that Egypt would acknowledge itself the aggressor.

Egypt agreed yesterday to a cease-fire beginning at 6 p. m. (noon EST) today. The proposal was designed to halt the week-long outbreak of pitched battles, infiltrations, and ambushes that has left more than a score of Israelis and Egyptians dead and many others wounded.

In Cairo, an Egyptian communique said Egyptian commandos had entered Israeli territory and blown up a broadcasting station only six miles from Tel Aviv. It said the commandos also had blasted two Israeli armored cars near Magdal.

THESE COMMANDOS were believed to be irregulars operating across the frontier in retaliation for continuing Israeli attacks, according to Egyptian observers. Before the Cairo communique was issued, Egyptian newspapers said commandos had penetrated Israel for about 25 miles yesterday to carry out "punitive action" against the population, killing 15 to 20 Israelis.

The only reference to such raids from the Israeli side was the announcement by a military spokesman here that infiltrators fired after midnight on a military car near Falujah in southern Israel, wounding one of the occupants.

Canadian Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, chief of staff to the UN Palestine Truce Observers Commission, is trying strenuously to restore peace to the troubled border area where at least 21 Israelis and 8 Egyptians have been killed since last Thursday.

A UN COMMISSION spokesman said Israeli Premier Moshe Sharett's government replied last night to Burns' proposal for a cease-fire with a request that Burns get Egypt's ackknowledgment of responsibility for the past week's bloodshed. A letter setting forth Israel's views was signed by Arthur Lourie, deputy director general of the foreign office.

A later UN announcement said Israeli authorities, in view of further border incidents last night, "were doubtful of whether to accept the (cease-fire) proposal, and it was stated the final decision would not be made until the morning of Aug. 31."

The Israeli government spokesman took exception to this announcement, saying Israel's answer was contained in Lourie's letter.

"We now are waiting for Egypt's reply," he added.

Lourie's letter demanded that Egypt, in addition to acknowl-

Advance Preparations Made for Announcement

Followers of Peron Demonstrate, Urge Him Not to Resign Post as President

Buenos Aires, Argentina, Aug. 31 (AP)—President Juan D. Peron offered to resign today. The response was mass demonstrations of strength by his followers who insisted that he continue in office.

The president addressed his offer to the Central Confederation of Labor (CGT) and the leadership of his own Peronista Party. Both clearly had been primed to receive and reject it.

The long message said:

"The time for fighting has passed. The time has come to work and consolidate our revolutionary gains. I offer my retirement to insure pacification. I do not want to be an obstacle. . . . It is not possible to destroy what we have built."

"They speak of civil war," it continued. "I do not believe it will happen here. There will be peace or dictatorship. I have no taste for dictatorship. If that is the solution, someone else will have to do it."

First word of the message came in a broadcast by Hugo Di Pietro, CGT secretary, who summoned workers to the plaza De Mayo in the heart of the capital and to plazas in other cities and towns and instructed them to remain there until the President withdraws his resignation offer.

Di Pietro also called a general "stoppage of activities" throughout the country for 15 minutes begining at 5 p. m. today, excluding only essential public services. But offices, stores and factories began closing down soon after he spoke.

His broadcast was followed by speeches by Alejandro Leloir and Mrs. Delia D. de Parodi, presidents of the Men's and Women's Peronista Parties. Both demanded the withdrawal of Peron's offer to step out.

Preparations for the massing of workers in Plaza de Mayo outside the main government offices had been made during the night. Trucks and buses had been assembled to transport the demonstrators from outlying sections. Reinforced guards armed with field guns were placed at government buildings in the neighborhood and police detachments were spotted strategically.

Wreckage Burns Three Hours

Five Die in Plane Crash At Dover Plains Tuesday

Dover Plains, N. Y., Aug. 31 (AP)—All five persons aboard a small private plane died yesterday when the laboring aircraft plummeted to earth in a mountain forest and burned in fierce flames.

The crash occurred minutes after the plane took off from the Monroe, Conn., airport for Middlebury, Vt. The wreckage burned for more than three hours and left only twisted, fused metal.

There was difficulty identifying the badly burned bodies. They were finally determined to be:

Benjamin Hurd, 55, a veteran pilot who leaves a widow and seven children. He owned the plane and operated the Monroe Air Service.

Barrett Fisher, 48, of Trumbull, Conn., and his 9-year-old son, Fred.

Frederick H. Brown, 30, of West Bethlehem, Conn.

Lucille Woodward, 17, Brown's sister-in-law, also of West Bethlehem.

Fisher and Brown, sales representatives of two chemical firms, were flying to Middlebury with samples of their products.

The crash was witnessed by Edward Luppi, who has a summer home nearby. He said the engine of the Stinson plane was laboring as it emerged from a patch of fog and then died, drooping the plane to the ground. The trees around the plane showed it came straight down.

State Is Raked By Violent Storms Damage Is Heavy

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 31 (AP)—Violent thunderstorms raked New York state following a brief tornado-alert last night. Barns were wrecked, part of a city street was washed away and lightning started a barn fire.

No personal injuries were reported.

Winds clocked as high as 68 miles an hour whipped pieces of lumber about like matchsticks and blew down trees and power lines in scattered areas. Torrential rains accompanied the winds.

IN THE HAMLET of Berkshire, Tioga county, a resident said the one-minute blow sounded "like a cannon." Four barns and 20 trees were toppled, causing damage estimated unofficially at $50,000.

Another heavy windstorm rocked Townsend, near Watkins Glen in Schuyler county. Claude Claflin of Townsend said his barn was picked up by the wind and dropped 100 feet away—a mass of wreckage. All the windows in the Claflin home were blown in.

An inch of rain fell in less than an hour at Syracuse, Binghamton and Massena. Some streets in Syracuse was under a foot of water for a while. Part of one Syracuse street was washed away.

TWO DAIRY barns were destroyed by fire after one was struck by lightning on the farm occupied by Mr. and Mrs. James Race near Oxford, Chenango county. The fire threatened the farmhouse and a third barn for a while. There was no estimate of the loss.

The Buffalo weather bureau in midafternoon warned that a tornado might develop in the southern tier and Finger Lakes region as a cold front swept across the state from west to east. The alert was called off in early evening and the Albany weather bureau said the threat of serious wind damage had ended shortly before midnight.

THE HEAVIEST winds recorded were at Rochester, where gusts up to 68 miles an hour were clocked. Gusts reached 60 in Utica, 50 in Massena and 48 in Syracuse.

Trees fell across power lines and cut off power for a time in Berkshire, a hamlet of 400 persons about 15 miles north of Owego.

The wind ripped sections of roof from several houses. Pieces of lumber piled near one home were blown through the windows and the wall.

Trees and power lines were felled at Townsend too. A chicken house with 100 chickens was smashed against the home of Hughston Boyce.

"I'm 68 years old and I never went through anything like this before," Mrs. Boyce said.

The harness-racing program at Vernon Downs was cancelled because of heavy rain and wind.

The weather bureau at Hartford said flood-stricken Connecticut and western Massachusetts would be spared severe weather or heavy rains that could cause new floods. The bureau said the storms had weakened rapidly before leaving New York state.

Snake Action

Bloomsburg, Pa. (AP) — "Keep your eyes open, there may be another one around," the state road worker told Mrs. Ario Sweppenheiser after he killed a 35-inch rattlesnake in her back yard with a shovel. Still a little nervous, the woman started out her back door only to find a bigger rattler coiled on the steps. Carl Hunsinger, a neighbor, shot it. It measured 40 inches.

Two Bandits Hold Up Patrolman in Car With $20,000

New York, Aug. 31 (AP)—Two bandits kidnaped a policeman yesterday and took over a truck with $20,000 locked inside, but bungled the job as a pal failed to keep a cemetery rendezvous and a siren burglar alarm went off.

Their victim, Alexander Panella, 48, a Triborough Bridge and Tunnel Authority patrolman, was not harmed.

The robbers were unable to force open the truck door to get at the $20,000, in bags of coins and bills. The money was toll collections from authority installations.

Panella, who had been picking up toll money, stopped the truck for a red light at a busy downtown Brooklyn intersection, Atlantic avenue and Clinton street. Two men approached from either side and climbed into the truck.

ONE OF THE robbers, who took over as driver, seized Panella's revolver while the other held a gun at Panella's head and forced him to crouch on the floor of the front seat. "Don't look at us," the robbers ordered as they drove around Brooklyn for 15 minutes.

The robbers kept looking at their watches, as if expecting to meet some one. They finally drove into Greenwood Cemetery. There they ordered Panella out of the truck and told him to open the rear door, which is wired with an alarm. He said he did not have a key to the door.

PEERING around the cemetery, one of the robbers said nervously: "Where is that guy who was supposed to meet us here?"

The other robber, apparently afraid to wait any longer, snapped at Panella: "Gimme your glasses and start walking." Panella did so, and moved about 100 feet farther into the cemetery.

Panella, glancing over his shoulder, saw the robbers trying to force open the truck door with their hands.

Then the alarm went off. Panella bolted to a nearby tool shack. The two robbers ran away and disappeared.

State Is Raked By Violent Storms Damage Is Heavy

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 31 (AP)—Violent thunderstorms raked New York state following a brief tornado-alert last night. Barns were wrecked, part of a city street was washed away and lightning started a barn fire.

No personal injuries were reported.

Winds clocked as high as 68 miles an hour whipped pieces of lumber about like matchsticks and blew down trees and power lines in scattered areas. Torrential rains accompanied the winds.

IN THE HAMLET of Berkshire, Tioga county, a resident said the one-minute blow sounded "like a cannon." Four barns and 20 trees were toppled, causing damage estimated unofficially at $50,000.

Another heavy windstorm rocked Townsend, near Watkins Glen in Schuyler county. Claude Claflin of Townsend said his barn was picked up by the wind and dropped 100 feet away—a mass of wreckage. All the windows in the Claflin home were blown in.

An inch of rain fell in less than an hour at Syracuse, Binghamton and Massena. Some streets in Syracuse was under a foot of water for a while. Part of ope Syracuse street was washed away.

TWO DAIRY barns were destroyed by fire after one was struck by lightning on the farm occupied by Mr. and Mrs. James Race near Oxford, Chenango county. The fire threatened the farmhouse and a third barn for a while. There was no estimate of the loss.

The Buffalo weather bureau in midafternoon warned that a tornado might develop in the southern tier and Finger Lakes region as a cold front swept across the state from west to east. The alert was called off in early evening and the Albany weather bureau said the threat of serious wind damage had ended shortly before midnight.

THE HEAVIEST winds recorded were at Rochester, where gusts up to 68 miles an hour were clocked. Gusts reached 60 in Utica, 50 in Massena and 48 in Syracuse.

Trees fell across power lines and cut off power for a time in Berkshire, a hamlet of 400 persons about 15 miles north of Owego.

The wind ripped sections of roof from several houses. Pieces of lumber piled near one home were blown through the windows and the wall.

Trees and power lines were felled at Townsend too. A chicken house with 100 chickens was smashed against the home of Hughston Boyce.

"I'm 68 years old and I never went through anything like this before," Mrs. Boyce said.

The harness-racing program at Vernon Downs was cancelled because of heavy rain and wind.

The weather bureau at Hartford said flood-stricken Connecticut and western Massachusetts would be spared severe weather or heavy rains that could cause new floods. The bureau said the storms had weakened rapidly before leaving New York state.

Snake Action

Bloomsburg, Pa. (AP)—"Keep your eyes open, there may be another one around," the state road worker told Mrs. Ario Sweppenheiser after he killed a 35-inch rattlesnake in her back yard with a shovel. Still a little nervous, the woman started out her back door only to find a bigger rattler coiled on the steps. Carl Hunsinger, a neighbor, shot it. It measured 40 inches.

Two Bandits Hold Up Patrolman in Car With $20,000

New York, Aug. 31 (AP)—Two bandits kidnaped a policeman yesterday and took over a truck with $20,000 locked inside, but bungled the job as a pal failed to keep a cemetery rendezvous and a siren burglar alarm went off.

Their victim, Alexander Panella, 48, a Triborough Bridge and Tunnel Authority patrolman, was not harmed.

The robbers were unable to force open the truck door to get at the $20,000, in bags of coins and bills. The money was toll collections from authority installations.

Panella, who had been picking up toll money, stopped the truck for a red light at a busy downtown Brooklyn intersection, Atlantic avenue and Clinton street. Two men approached from either side and climbed into the truck.

ONE OF THE robbers, who took over as driver, seized Panella's revolver while the other held a gun at Panella's head and forced him to crouch on the floor of the front seat. "Don't look at us," the robbers ordered as they drove around Brooklyn for 15 minutes.

The robbers kept looking at their watches, as if expecting to meet some one. They finally drove into Greenwood Cemetery. There they ordered Panella out of the truck and told him to open the rear door, which is wired with an alarm. He said he did not have a key to the door.

PEERING around the cemetery, one of the robbers said nervously: "Where is that guy who was supposed to meet us here?"

The other robber, apparently afraid to wait any longer, snapped at Panella: "Gimme your glasses and start walking." Panella did so, and moved about 100 feet farther into the cemetery.

Panella, glancing over his shoulder, saw the robbers trying to force open the truck door with their hands.

Then the alarm went off. Panella bolted to a nearby tool shack. The two robbers ran away and disappeared.

LAYING IT ON THE LINE

In his years in office President Eisenhower has made clear to all the world his abhorrence of war. Just as firmly, he has set himself against peace without honor, justice and dignity.

The concept of a just peace is not new in America. But consciousness of it was greatly freshened when in 1945 the late Senator Vandenberg reminded the harassed U.N. founders at San Francisco that they were overlooking it.

Mr. Eisenhower perhaps fears that once again it is being overlooked in important capitals. So he has spoken out forcefully against any policy that would sell men's freedom "for the pottage of a false peace."

This summer's Geneva conference disclosed a new mood of conciliation—on the surface—among the leaders in Russia's Kremlin. In their terrible anxiety over war, some of our European friends were prepared to take almost anything the Communists might package under the label "peace."

There appeared a disposition, especially, to accept a settlement which would have the effect of approving the status quo in Europe. That would mean indirectly sanctioning the Russian conquest of the peoples of Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Rumania and Bulgaria.

The United States is not going to war to liberate these peoples, who still wish passionately to be free. But neither will we endorse their slavery. Said the President at Philadelphia:

"The domination of captive countries cannot longer be justified by any claim that this is needed for purposes of security."

The simple tenets of justice demand that we refrain from any settlement which accepts that domination as regular and proper.

In the President's view, we should go still further in our support of these principles. We should ask, as proof that such injustice shall not be practiced henceforth under the banner of an "agreed peace," that world-wide organized subversion of other governments be ended.

His words on this point:

"An international political machine, operating within the borders of sovereign nations for their political and ideological subversion, cannot be explained away as a cultural movement."

This is plain common sense. If Russia means sincerely to end the Cold War, it cannot demonstrate by mere assertion. It must cease trying to undercut the very governments it may profess to accept in coexistence.

At Geneva Mr. Eisenhower rightfully earned respect for kindling the spirit of cooperation among nations. The Russians said they were impressed, and smiled their agreement. He now gives them—and our friends as well—new notice that the United States wants the spirit of Geneva fulfilled by a peace of real substance and justice.

IMMIGRANT'S TRIBUTE

An Italian immigrant who felt that he owed a debt to his adopted city has given a monument to Youngstown, Ohio. It is called "Man on a Monument," and portrays a soldier in the War Between the States.

Some Americans born on this soil, look down on those from abroad. They forget that newcomers pay the United States the highest possible tribute, that of so greatly admiring this country that they come from thousands of miles to become its citizens.

Now that President Eisenhower announces that we will soon be launching man-made satellites into space, apparently the sky is no longer the limit.

Why fret about the hot weather? In a few short months complaints about the cold will be in order.

A fellow recommended a good book to us for reading in a hammock. He says it rests easy over his eyes when he's snoozing.

When rising in the morning one should shine, we're told. First, of course, we'd like to learn how to rise easily.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

LENINIST FOREIGN POLICY

Soviet sweetness and light has finally come by a name, "The Leninist Foreign Policy of the Soviet State." The name appears in the speech of the Chairman of the Council of Ministers of the USSR, N. A. Bulganin, on August 5, 1955. Bulganin said:

"The Soviet Government delegation at the Geneva Conference consistently pursued the peace-loving Leninist Foreign policy of the Soviet State, responding to the vital interests of the Soviet people, and the interests of preserving peace and security in the whole world.

"The very foundation of this policy was, is, and remains the great Lenin principle of peaceful coexistence of states belonging to different social systems. The Government of the Soviet Union will undeviatingly continue to pursue a foreign policy directed toward a further easing of tension, toward strengthening trust in relations between states, and toward the preservation of stable and durable peace and security, basing itself on the fact that such a policy responds to the deep-rooted interests and the very great desire of all peoples—the desire for peace and tranquility. (applause)"

The use of this term marks a revolution in Soviet thought and activity which needs to be studied and analyzed. The phrase used to be "Leninist-Stalinist." Both Lenin and Stalin are dead. Stalin is not only dead, he is obliterated. How is it possible to wipe away more than 30 years of history?

We are not only to forget history, but the psychology of a people over this long period. Stalin was a tough guy, but was Lenin sweet and gentle? I used to see Lenin at the Smolny Institute in Petrograd in 1917-18. I sat through the sessions of the Constituent Assembly which was to give the Russian people a constitution—and I saw Lenin smash that meeting as one smashes a glass with his heel.

Nevertheless, there is a reminder of something in the current emphasis on Lenin and the rejection of Stalin. It goes back to 1921, when Lenin instituted NEP, the New Economic Policy, a mixed capitalist-socialist policy and procedure, designed to give Soviet Russia time and facilities to establish Socialism as a road to Communism. Stalin smashed the New Economic Policy and instituted a regime of hunger, particularly in the Ukraine, to do by brutality what Lenin hoped to achieve by foreign trade and concessions to foreigners.

So now, under the leadership of Nikita Khrushchev, there is a reversion to the less drastic methods of Lenin, but it comes after Stalinism which altered the map of Europe, eliminated some 15 free countries in the world and made them satellites of the Kremlin, imposed upon the United States what seems to be a permanent military budget and created an unmannerly atmosphere of distrust and even hate among the nations of the Earth. Except for one or two public statements in 1941-42, when Great Britain and the United States went to the rescue of Soviet Russia, Stalin never said anything like this:

"Despite different positions on the essence of the problems under discussion, the heads of Government of the United States, Britain, and France, just as we, showed good-will and a sincere striving to find a common language and to mark paths for the solution of international questions which are most significant for the cause of general peace and security."

So, we are to have an era of good-will, but when one hears that a sort of voluntary censorship is coming out of Washington to the effect that nothing unpleasant is to be said about Russia or the Russians, true or false, is one not to gain the impression that we are to be brainwashed? And are we not to note that the Resolution of the USSR Supreme Soviet explains the era of sweetness by the following Soviet victories:

"This easing of international tension was facilitated in the first place by the cessation of the war in Korea, as well as of the military activities in Indochina; the concluding of the State Treaty with Austria; the normalization of relations between the USSR and Yugoslavia which opened the path for developing friendship and collaboration between the two countries; the successful holding of the conference of countries of Asia and Africa in Bandung; and the visit to the USSR, Prime Minister Nehru of India, as a result of which friendly relations were still further strengthened between the USSR and India."

That Body of Yours

PSYCHIATRY, PAST AND PRESENT

During the recent dedication of the Mayo Memorial Building, University of Minnesota, Dr. Francis Braceland, Psychiatrist-in-chief, Institute of Living, pointed out that "It is probable that when the companion structures of this great new Mayo Memorial were dedicated, there was no mention of psychiatry at the exercises and no idea that some day it would have an important part to play in both medical education and a changing medical practice."

In those days, psychiatry was isolated from medicine and those who dealt with the treatment of mental disorders were called "alienists." Alien is certainly a word that emphasizes how apart from general medicine psychiatry (then called alienism) actually was. Medicine was immersed in its newly found "scientific" phase and considered the methods of the alienists as being "unscientific". "Unscientific" was almost an insult just a few years ago, but times are changing.

It was not until World War 2, with its widespread coming to light of mental and emotional ills, that psychiatry really attained its present level and recognition.

Today, the modern psychiatrist presents a challenge, and the attitude of his professional colleagues toward him is curiously two-sided. At the same time, he is regarded with a considerable measure of suspicion and, accordingly, comes in for a fair amount of (sometimes ill-natured) banter and he is quite confidently expected to work healing miracles, and in double quick time and strangely enough, he often comes up to expectation.

Today, while it is still the custom for physicians and students to distinguish sharply between "organic" or true disease and "functional" or "untrue" disease, nature does not seem to be aware of this sharp distinction. The question is not whether the problem is organic or functional in nature, but rather, how much of each is involved. Though the statement: "It is just as important to know who has the disease as it is to know the disease he has" has been repeated too often, it is still true and should be kept in mind.

Dr. Braceland believes that the student should come to medical school as well prepared in the knowledge of the psychological reactions as he is in the physical sciences such as physics and chemistry. He is usually not so prepared. Lacking this knowledge, it is the physicians' task to present it to him in his first year, along with the other basic medical sciences. Psychiatry, therefore, from the beginning should be taught as a basic science and not an isolated specialty, for it has a fundamental contribution to make to the subject matter of all departments of medicine and medical education. It should be kept in mind that this specialty started 50 years later than the others, but its progress has been faster than any of the others. Its future is intimately tied to advances in medicine.

"How Do We Know He Isn't a Teetotaler?"

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA) — John Strohm, editor of the Ford Almanac, who conducted the 12-man Russian farm delegation all over 12,000 miles of 12 principal U. S. farm states for 37 days, says now in hindsight that the thing could have been done better.

Not that the expedition was not a success. The Russians learned a lot about the United States and the Americans who met with them learned a lot about Russians.

But assuming this is merely the first of more official exchange visits to come in the new spirit of peace there are mistakes to avoid next time.

Strohm was handpicked to escort the Russians both because he is an American farm expert and because he knows his way around Russia. Ten years ago he browbeat Premier Stalin himself into granting a visa that permitted Strohm to roam the Russian farm areas. His series of articles on that trip, written for NEA Service newspapers, was the first "inside rural Russia" report after the war.

STROHM ADMITS NOW it was a mistake to try to map out in advance one trip for the whole group. These Russians were not dirt farmers like the American exchange group that toured Russia.

The Russians were all government officials.

They were all farm policy men—specialists. Some were interested only in corn. Others in livestock, soil conservation, wheat, farm machinery, tractor production, collective farms. The machinery men wanted to go through factories and had no interest in agricultural education or experiment stations.

For maximum effectiveness, says Strohm, the Russians should have been asked what they wanted to see, then broken up in smaller groups and taken to see it. That was done toward the end of the junket, for another 8,000 miles.

If it had been done all the way, the circus and side-show aspects of the grand tour might have been avoided. Maybe it was necessary to make a spectacular out of this first visit. In the future that won't be necessary.

IT WASN'T A PARTY crowd at all, says Strohm. The Russians got just as bored with all the entertainment in their honor as the Americans touring Russia got tired of vodka and caviar.

The difference was that the Americans finally rebelled, whereas the more polite revolutionists took whatever came their way and let on they liked it.

Some of the American corn—the humor, not the cereal—irked the Russians. They were annoyed at being asked so much about vodka. Actually, they had it only twice on the whole trip—once at a Des Moines reception and at the end of the tour when the Soviet embassy in Washington threw them a party.

Vladimir V. Matskevich, first deputy minister of agriculture, who headed the delegation, was given a bottle of Russian vodka on arrival in New York, as a welcome. Matskevich, who doesn't drink at all, gave it to one of his assistants.

Matskevich is a trained agricultural scientist. He found a common language with American experts by identifying plants according to their Latin names. The one thing that seemed to impress him most was Santa Gertrudis cattle. This is the King Ranch, Texas, cross of Brahman and Short Horn which can be fattened on grass, is resistant to disease and thrives in hot countries.

Strohm believes all the information the Russians picked up will be put to good use. It will get to the top leadership in the Soviet and it will be acted on. The Russians filled notebook after notebook and took hundreds of photos.

THEY PAID ALL their own expenses, except for guest lunches and entertainment. They paid all their own hotel bills, chartered private airplanes and air-conditioned buses, and never once complained of the prices charged them.

The trip must have cost each of the 12 Russians around $4,000, or say $50,000 for the whole mission. They were all well-heeled. They went shopping everywhere and they're taking home as souvenirs a raft of clothing, luxury goods and gadgets that will have little use on any farm.

So They Say..

I would rather have Mr. Eisenhower for President, even if he were 80, than most men of 60.
—Sen. Norris Cotton (R.-N.H.).

* * *

Democrats are not nearly as afraid President Eisenhower will run as Republicans are afraid he won't. I think the President ought to let them off the hook. When he talked about the physical erosion of a man in the presidency he aged some of these other Republicans 10 years.
—Sen. Robert Kerr (D.-Okla.).

Twenty and Ten Years Ago

Aug. 31, 1935—Mrs. Helen Winchell of Atwood, was seriously injured in an automobile accident on the Lomontville road.

Horace S. Maxon, of West O'Reilly street, resigned his position with the J. T. Johnson hardware store on the Strand where he had been employed 32 years.

Barmann Park won the annual track and games in city planyground meet.

Police Chief J. Allan Wood was on vacation and Sgt. Charles Phinney was acting chief.

Aug. 31, 1945 — Final plans were made for the annual Knights of Columbus picinic in the Spring Lake grove Sept. 2.

Nine air scouts form Ulster-Greene Council were scheduled to take training at Stewart Field.

Forecasts indicated poor coal and sugar supplies, but more meat and gasoline.

Edward King, Sr., died at his home on South Partition street, Saugerties.

Security Right of Nation Is Above Individual's Job

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 30—Which is more important—the safety of the United States or the continued assurance of a government job to some individual about whom there is a reasonable doubt as to whether a foreign enemy could subject him to pressure and use him to its advantage?

This is the fundamental issue which is overlooked in many investigations and studies being started now to shift the burden of proof and to make it more and more difficult for the detective agencies of the government to fight against clandestine enemies. For it isn't the voluntary but the involuntary yielding under pressure which brings trouble to persons themselves innocent yet with ties to relatives behind the Iron Curtain or with relationships to persons in this country duped by Communist intrigue. Why should the American government take chances on persons with doubtful connections?

THE SENATE CIVIL SERVICE subcommittee has decided to give a lot of time to take testimony from those who, while wholly sincere in their belief that a government employe must be protected at all costs, seem to be unmindful of the main purpose of a security program and the enemy's techniques. Today there is a tendency in some quarters to belittle as "farcically remote" or trivial the questions that have to be asked in a security hearing. There is much talk also of separating "sensitive" and "nonsensitive" positions, as if, once inside a government building, an employe's movements or associations can be regulated with respect to contacts with persons in "sensitive" and "nonsensitive" positions.

Few of the critics probably have read the text of the regulations, for instance, of the Secretary of Defense. One regulation, which covers all security cases in the armed services reads as follows:

"An officer or warrant officer of the armed services holds a sensitive position by virtue of his commission or warrant regardless of the duties and responsibilities of the assignment. Likewise, an enlisted member whose qualifications would normally require that he have access to classified information or material will be considered to hold a sensitive position regardless of the duties and responsibilities of his assignment."

ONE OF THE MANY criteria applied in hearing security cases in the armed services requires information about "membership in, affiliation or sympathetic association with any... association, movement, group or combination of persons which is totalitarian, Fascist, Communist or subversive."

But this is not all. Another criterion is whether there is a "sympathetic association" or a "close continuing association with a person who has engaged in activities or associations" of the type referred to in the regulations. In addition, hearing boards must ask questions to obtain the following:

"Any facts . . . which furnish reason to believe that the individual may be subjected to coercion, influence, or pressure which may cause him to act contrary to the best interests of national security. Among matters which should be considered in this category would be the presence of a spouse, parent, brother, sister, or offspring in a nation, a satellite thereof, or an occupied area thereof, whose interests are inimical to the interests of the United States."

A HULLABALOO was raised recently when the executive departments considered instances of government employes with relatives behind the Iron Curtain or cases where a mother or father had been in the Communist movement. These cases always awaken public interest and lots of sympathy, but all the background is rarely explained. It usually is inferred that testimony about the loyalty and integrity of the employe is all that's needed to clear an employe. The real question is whether the United States must take the risk of maintaining in its employ persons who could be subjected to pressure or blackmail.

That's why the President's executive order of April 27, 1953, puts into precise form the experience of the previous administration with security risks by requiring that information be obtained from government employes or applicants which relates to "any criminal, infamous, dishonest, immoral, or notoriously disgraceful conduct, habitual use of intoxicants to excess, drug addiction or sexual perversion."

THIS SHOWS the necessarily large range that the questions must cover and, since the F.B.I. canvasses friends and neighbors, all the unverified gossip as well as the incontrovertible facts have to be appraised. As the Secretary of Defense puts it in his regulation, "the ultimate determination of whether acceptance or retention in the armed services is clearly consistent with the interests of national security must be an over-all common sense determination based on all available information."

Theoretically, as in criminal cases, the individual should be given the benefit of the doubt but, since employment in government is a privilege and not a right, it is the superior right of the government to say, in effect, in a given case that an employe may seem loyal and be devoid of any intention to do anything improper but as long as he has ties which can subject him to pressure or habits that could be taken advantage of by the enemy, there is every reason why the government should protect itself by taking no chances.

THE GREATEST danger the American government faces today on the whole security problem comes from those who either are naive and unfamiliar with the operations of the enemy in our midst or who are still obsessed with the idea that a security case in a government department and a criminal case in a court of law are the same thing and must be procedurally handled exactly the same way.

The eleven Communists convicted in Judge Medina's court after a lengthy trial gave a dramatic example of what security case suspects and their lawyers could do to harass and frustrate governmental operations if the same rules were applied inside the executive agencies. There has nver been any decision of the Supreme Court of the United States which says the rights of an individual supersede those of the government itself in the field of security and national defense. The Bill of Rights protects the government too.

Geneva — I have always said that if you do not smirk about it or go around chalking walls, sex can be a beautiful thing. But now, I just don't know. These scientists at the international conference on the peaceful uses of atomic energy have been springing repulsive surprises that make one yearn for one's old belief in the stork or the cabbage plant. These were two rival schools and rather contentious in an innocent little way, but never really bitter. In our old neighborhood Stork boys grew up and married Cabbage girls and vice versa and they had children, whether stork or cabbage, I never thought to inquire, but never any mutations, I can tell you that. Do you know what they mean by "mutations"? They mean freaks.

These scientists have waited until now to spring it on us that radioactive "materials" scattered over the earth and emanations from power plants will produce freaks unless the human race can be persuaded to exercise restraints in matters that it is not nice to talk about except to one's doctor or spiritual advisor.

They proved it on fruit flies and mice. Male fruit flies which had been exposed to small degrees of radioactivity went right out and dated up little female fruit flies. Actually, they should have waited four or five minutes, which is quite a long time, relatively, in the life-span of a fruit fly, but the scientists had no way of warning them and, anyway, the flies have very low moral standards and probably would have paid no attention.

Some of those scientists are no better, if it comes to that. Professor Oppenheimer not only married one Communist but shacked up with another and he didn't know it was wrong to lie. So then, these unfortunate little female flies had thousands and thousands of babies and most of them were idiots. Some were even two-headed. Instead of buzzing in the normal way these defectives would just blow bubbles and drool. Some did not know fruit was good to eat and starved to death.

Mice are more closely related to human beings and their mutation rate was 15 times that of the fruit flies. The Mickey Mouse, after exposure to those rays, would pick out a nice-looking little Minnie Mouse and in four days the poor little thing would have six or eight moron mice who wouldn't know cheese from laundry soap. And they would pair off with their own little sisters and brothers. I don't have to spell things out, do I?

Here are all these great savants, with all these machines brought together in the greatest intellectual field-day in human experience, and now they tell us that they have been producing idiot flies and mongoloid mice deliberately.

It gets worse and worse. For example, in 45 years they will produce in Britain as much power as now is produced by 200 million tons of coal. So the British miners who are producing little more than half as much as Britain requires today, will then produce none. They will be unemployed but they will never move away from the coal pits. So they will stay where they are and the radiations from the atomic plants producing the power that coal used to produce will make them utter gibbering slobs. They will develop thumbs on their feet and there will be nobody left to pay the taxes to pay them the dole because everybody else will be two-headed from the same radiations.

This is the fate which these characters have inflicted on Humankind on a pretext of relieving us from the burdens and dangers of existence. They all agree that if males who are exposed to such radiations will exercise self-control for a certain length of time, whether weeks, months or years, depending on the intensity and duration of the exposure, the danger to progeny will be diminished although not certainly conquered. Some children might still cut up pet rabbits but others might make it through Dartmouth. Shall we be frank about this delicate subject of self-restraint? Or shall we just exchange knowing looks and let it go?

They are producing cereals so well fertilized by radiation that the corn, oats and wheat will ear-up and the Bob Whites begin to call when the seed has hardly hit the ground. That sounds promising, but so many of the people will be freaks that nobody will know how to harvest the crops.

They keep talking about another Beethoven as compensation for all this, but who wants another Beethoven? George Sokolsky runs him into his column every few days to evince culture, but isn't one enough?

And this is the price we pay for the peaceful use of the marvels of radioactivity. A world of imbeciles will be spared merciful obliteration by the hydrogen bomb.

LAYING IT ON THE LINE

In his years in office President Eisenhower has made clear to all the world his abhorrence of war. Just as firmly, he has set himself against peace without honor, justice and dignity.

The concept of a just peace is not new in America. But consciousness of it was greatly freshened when in 1945 the late Senator Vandenberg reminded the harassed U.N. founders at San Francisco that they were overlooking it.

Mr. Eisenhower perhaps fears that once again it is being overlooked in important capitals. So he has spoken out forcefully against any policy that would sell men's freedom "for the pottage of a false peace."

This summer's Geneva conference disclosed a new mood of conciliation—on the surface—among the leaders in Russia's Kremlin. In their terrible anxiety over war, some of our European friends were prepared to take almost anything the Communists might package under the label "peace."

There appeared a disposition, especially, to accept a settlement which would have the effect of approving the status quo in Europe. That would mean indirectly sanctioning the Russian conquest of the peoples of Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Rumania and Bulgaria.

The United States is not going to war to liberate these peoples, who still wish passionately to be free. But neither will we endorse their slavery. Said the President at Philadelphia:

"The domination of captive countries cannot longer be justified by any claim that this is needed for purposes of security."

The simple tenets of justice demand that we refrain from any settlement which accepts that domination as regular and proper.

In the President's view, we should go still further in our support of these principles. We should ask, as proof that such injustice shall not be practiced henceforth under the banner of an "agreed peace," that world-wide organized subversion of other governments be ended.

His words on this point:

"An international political machine, operating within the borders of sovereign nations for their political and ideological subversion, cannot be explained away as a cultural movement."

This is plain common sense. If Russia means sincerely to end the Cold War, it cannot demonstrate by mere assertion. It must cease trying to undercut the very governments it may profess to accept in coexistence.

At Geneva Mr. Eisenhower rightfully earned respect for kindling the spirit of cooperation among nations. The Russians said they were impressed, and smiled their agreement. He now gives them—and our friends as well—new notice that the United States wants the spirit of Geneva fulfilled by a peace of real substance and justice.

IMMIGRANT'S TRIBUTE

An Italian immigrant who felt that he owed a debt to his adopted city has given a monument to Youngstown, Ohio. It is called "Man on a Monument," and portrays a soldier in the War Between the States.

Some Americans born on this soil, look down on those from abroad. They forget that newcomers pay the United States the highest possible tribute, that of so greatly admiring this country that they come from thousands of miles to become its citizens.

Now that President Eisenhower announces that we will soon be launching man-made satellites into space, apparently the sky is no longer the limit.

Why fret about the hot weather? In a few short months complaints about the cold will be in order.

A fellow recommended a good book to us for reading in a hammock. He says it rests easy over his eyes when he's snoozing.

When rising in the morning one should shine, we're told. First, of course, we'd like to learn how to rise easily.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

LENINIST FOREIGN POLICY

Soviet sweetness and light has finally come by a name, "The Leninist Foreign Policy of the Soviet State." The name appears in the speech of the Chairman of the Council of Ministers of the USSR, N. A. Bulganin, on August 5, 1955. Bulganin said:

"The Soviet Government delegation at the Geneva Conference consistently pursued the peace-loving Leninist Foreign policy of the Soviet State, responding to the vital interests of the Soviet people, and the interests of preserving peace and security in the whole world.

"The very foundation of this policy was, is, and remains the great Lenin principle of peaceful coexistence of states belonging to different social systems. The Government of the Soviet Union will undeviatingly continue to pursue a foreign policy directed toward a further easing of tension, toward strengthening trust in relations between states, and toward the preservation of stable and durable peace and security, basing itself on the fact that such a policy responds to the deep-rooted interests and the very great desire of all peoples—the desire for peace and tranquility. (applause)"

The use of this term marks a revolution in Soviet thought and activity which needs to be studied and analyzed. The phrase used to be "Leninist-Stalinist." Both Lenin and Stalin are dead. Stalin is not only dead, he is obliterated. How is it possible to wipe away more than 30 years of history?

We are not only to forget history, but the psychology of a people over this long period. Stalin was a tough guy, but was Lenin sweet and gentle? I used to see Lenin at the Smolny Institute in Petrograd in 1917-18. I sat through the sessions of the Constituent Assembly which was to give the Russian people a constitution—and I saw Lenin smash that meeting as one smashes a glass with his heel.

Nevertheless, there is a reminder of something in the current emphasis on Lenin and the rejection of Stalin. It goes back to 1921, when Lenin instituted NEP, the New Economic Policy, a mixed capitalist-socialist policy and procedure, designed to give Soviet Russia time and facilities to establsh Socialism as a road to Communism. Stalin smashed the New Economic Policy and instituted a regime of hunger, particularly in the Ukraine, to do by brutality what Lenin hoped to achieve by foreign trade and concessions to foreigners.

So now, under the leadership of Nikita Khrushchev, there is a reversion to the less drastic methods of Lenin, but it comes after Stalinism which altered the map of Europe, eliminated some 15 free countries in the world and made them satellites of the Kremlin, imposed upon the United States what seems to be a permanent military budget and created an unmannerly atmosphere of distrust and even hate among the nations of the Earth. Except for one or two public statements in 1941-42, when Great Britain and the United States went to the rescue of Soviet Russia, Stalin never said anything like this:

"Despite different positions on the essence of the problems under discussion, the heads of Government of the United States, Britain, and France, just as we, showed good-will and a sincere striving to find a common language and to mark paths for the solution of international questions which are most significant for the cause of general peace and security."

So, we are to have an era of good-will, but when one hears that a sort of voluntary censorship is coming out of Washington to the effect that nothing unpleasant is to be said about Russia or the Russians, true or false, is one not to gain the impression that we are to be brainwashed? And are we not to note that the Resolution of the USSR Supreme Soviet explains the era of sweetness by the following Soviet victories:

"This easing of international tension was facilitated in the first place by the cessation of the war in Korea, as well as of the military activities in Indochina; the concluding of the State Treaty with Austria; the normalization of relations between the USSR and Yugoslavia which opened the path for developing friendship and collaboration between the two countries; the successful holding of the conference of countries of Asia and Africa in Bandung; and the visit to the USSR, Prime Minister Nehru of India, as a result of which friendly relations were still further strengthened between the USSR and India."

That Body of Yours

PSYCHIATRY, PAST AND PRESENT

During the recent dedication of the Mayo Memorial Building, University of Minnesota, Dr. Francis Braceland, Psychiatrist-in-chief, Institute of Living. pointed out that "It is probable that when the companion structures of this great new Mayo Memorial were dedicated, there was no mention of psychiatry at the exercises and no idea that some day it would have an important part to play in both medical education and a changing medical practice."

In those days, psychiatry was isolated from medicine and those who dealt with the treatment of mental disorders were called "alienists." Alien is certainly a word that emphasizes how apart from general medicine psychiatry (then called alienism) actually was. Medicine was immersed in its newly found "scientific" phase and considered the methods of the alienists as being "unscientific". "Unscientific" was almost an insult just a few years ago, but times are changing.

It was not until World War 2, with its widespread coming to light of mental and emotional ills, that psychiatry really attained its present level and recognition.

Today, the modern psychiatrist presents a challenge, and the attitude of his professional colleagues toward him is curiously two-sided. At the same time, he is regarded with a considerable measure of suspicion and, accordingly, comes in for a fair amount of (sometimes ill-natured) banter and he is quite confidently expected to work healing miracles, and in double quick time and strangely enough, he often comes up to expectation.

Today, while it is still the custom for physicians and students to distinguish sharply between "organic" or true disease and "functional" or "untrue" disease, nature does not seem to be aware of this sharp distinction. The question is not whether the problem is organic or functional in nature, but rather, how much of each is involved. Though the statement: "It is just as important to know who has the disease as it is to know the disease he has" has been repeated too often, it is still true and should be kept in mind.

Dr. Braceland believes that the student should come to medical school as well prepared in the knowledge of the psychological reactions as he is in the physical sciences such as physics and chemistry. He is usually not so prepared. Lacking this knowledge, it is the physicians' task to present it to him in his first year, along with the other basic medical sciences. Psychiatry, therefore, from the beginning should be taught as a basic science and not an isolated specialty, for it has a fundamental contribution to make to the subject matter of all departments of medicine and medical education. It should be kept in mind that this specialty started 50 years later than the others, but its progress has been faster than any of the others. Its future is intimately tied to advances in medicine.

"How Do We Know He Isn't a Teetotaler?"

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA) — John Strohm, editor of the Ford Almanac, who conducted the 12-man Russian farm delegation all over 12,000 miles of 12 principal U. S. farm states for 37 days, says now in hindsight that the thing could have been done better.

Not that the expedition was not a success. The Russians learned a lot about the United States and the Americans who met with them learned a lot about Russians.

But assuming this is merely the first of more official exchange visits to come in the new spirit of peace there are mistakes to avoid next time.

Strohm was handpicked to escort the Russians both because he is an American farm expert and because he knows his way around Russia. Ten years ago he browbeat Premier Stalin himself into granting a visa that permitted Strohm to roam the Russian farm areas. His series of articles on that trip, written for NEA Service newspapers, was the first "inside rural Russia" report after the war.

STROHM ADMITS NOW it was a mistake to try to map out in advance one trip for the whole group. These Russians were not dirt farmers like the American exchange group that toured Russia.

The Russians were all government officials.

They were all farm policy men—specialists. Some were interested only in corn. Others in livestock, soil conservation, wheat, farm machinery, tractor production, collective farms. The machinery men wanted to go through factories and had no interest in agricultural education or experiment stations.

For maximum effectiveness, says Strohm, the Russians should have been asked what they wanted to see, then broken up in smaller groups and taken to see it. That was done toward the end of the junket, for another 8,000 miles.

If it had been done all the way, the circus and side-show aspects of the grand tour might have been avoided. Maybe it was necessary to make a spectacular out of this first visit. In the future that won't be necessary.

IT WASN'T A PARTY crowd at all, says Strohm. The Russians got just as bored with all the entertainment in their honor as the Americans touring Russia got tired of vodka and caviar.

The difference was that the Americans finally rebelled, whereas the more polite revolutionists took whatever came their way and let on they liked it.

Some of the American corn—the humor, not the cereal—irked the Russians. They were annoyed at being asked so much about vodka. Actually, they had it only twice on the whole trip—once at a Des Moines reception and at the end of the tour when the Soviet embassy in Washington threw them a party.

Vladimir V. Matskevich, first deputy minister of agriculture, who headed the delegation, was given a bottle of Russian vodka on arrival in New York, as a welcome. Matskevich, who doesn't drink at all, gave it to one of his assistants.

Matskevich is a trained agricultural scientist. He found a common language with American experts by identifying plants according to their Latin names. The one thing that seemed to impress him most was Santa Gertrudis cattle. This is the King Ranch, Texas, cross of Brahman and Short Horn which can be fattened on grass, is resistant to disease and thrives in hot countries.

Strohm believes all the information the Russians picked up will be put to good use. It will get to the top leadership in the Soviet and it will be acted on. The Russians filled notebook after notebook and took hundreds of photos.

THEY PAID ALL their own expenses, except for guest lunches and entertainment. They paid all their own hotel bills, chartered private airplanes and air-conditioned buses, and never once complained of the prices charged them.

The trip must have cost each of the 12 Russians around $4,000, or say $50,000 for the whole mission. They were all well-heeled. They went shopping everywhere and they're taking home as souvenirs a raft of clothing, luxury goods and gadgets that will have little use on any farm.

So They Say..

I would rather have Mr. Eisenhower for President, even if he were 80, than most men of 60.
—Sen. Norris Cotton (R.-N.H.).

Democrats are not nearly as afraid President Eisenhower will run as Republicans are afraid he won't. I think the President ought to let them off the hook. When he talked about the physical erosion of a man in the presidency he aged some of these other Republicans 10 years.

Security Right of Nation Is Above Individual's Job

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 30—Which is more important—the safety of the United States or the continued assurance of a government job to some individual about whom there is a reasonable doubt as to whether a foreign enemy could subject him to pressure and use him to its advantage?

This is the fundamental issue which is overlooked in many investigations and studies being started now to shift the burden of proof and to make it more and more difficult for the detective agencies of the government to fight against clandestine enemies. For it isn't the voluntary but the involuntary yielding under pressure which brings trouble to persons themselves innocent yet with ties to relatives behind the Iron Curtain or with relationships to persons in this country duped by Communist intrigue. Why should the American government take chances on persons with doubtful connections?

THE SENATE CIVIL SERVICE subcommittee has decided to give a lot of time to take testimony from those who, while wholly sincere in their belief that a government employe must be protected at all costs, seem to be unmindful of the main purpose of a security program and the enemy's techniques. Today there is a tendency in some quarters to belittle as "farcically remote" or trivial the questions that have to be asked in a security hearing. There is much talk also of separating "sensitive" and "nonsensitive" positions, as if, once inside a government building, an employe's movements or associations can be regulated with respect to contacts with persons in "sensitive" and "nonsensitive" positions.

Few of the critics probably have read the text of the regulations, for instance, of the Secretary of Defense. One regulation, which covers all security cases in the armed services reads as follows:

"An officer or warrant officer of the armed services holds a sensitive position by virtue of his commission or warrant regardless of the duties and responsibilities of the assignment. Likewise, an enlisted member whose qualifications would normally require that he have access to classified information or material will be considered to hold a sensitive position regardless of the duties and responsibilities of his assignment."

ONE OF THE MANY criteria applied in hearing security cases in the armed services requires information about "membership in, affiliation or sympathetic association with any... association, movement, group or combination of persons which is totalitarian, Fascist, Communist or subversive."

But this is not all. Another criterion is whether there is a "sympathetic association" or a "close continuing association with a person who has engaged in activities or associations" of the type referred to in the regulations. In addition, hearing boards must ask questions to obtain the following:

"Any facts . . . which furnish reason to believe that the individual may be subjected to coercion, influence, or pressure which may cause him to act contrary to the best interests of national security. Among matters which should be considered in this category would be the presence of a spouse, parent, brother, sister, or offspring in a nation, a satellite thereof, or an occupied area thereof, whose interests are inimical to the interests of the United States."

A HULLABALOO was raised recently when the executive departments considered instances of government employes with relatives behind the Iron Curtain or cases where a mother or father had been in the Communist movement. These cases always awaken public interest and lots of sympathy, but all the background is rarely explained. It usually is inferred that testimony about the loyalty and integrity of the employe is all that's needed to clear an employe. The real question is whether the United States must take the risk of maintaining in its employ persons who could be subjected to pressure or blackmail.

That's why the President's executive order of April 27, 1953, puts into precise form the experience of the previous administration with security risks by requiring that information be obtained from government employes or applicants which relates to "any criminal, infamous, dishonest, immoral, or notoriously disgraceful conduct, habitual use of intoxicants to excess, drug addiction or sexual perversion."

THIS SHOWS the necessarily large range that the questions must cover and, since the F.B.I. canvasses friends and neighbors, all the unverified gossip as well as the incontrovertible facts have to be appraised. As the Secretary of Defense puts it in his regulation, "the ultimate determination of whether acceptance or retention in the armed services is clearly consistent with the interests of national security must be an over-all common sense determination based on all available information."

Theoretically, as in criminal cases, the individual should be given the benefit of the doubt but, since employment in government is a privilege and not a right, it is the superior right of the government to say, in effect, in a given case that an employe may seem loyal and be devoid of any intention to do anything improper but as long as he has ties which can subject him to pressure or habits that could be taken advantage of by the enemy, there is every reason why the government should protect itself by taking no chances.

THE GREATEST danger the American government faces today on the whole security problem comes from those who either are naive and unfamiliar with the operations of the enemy in our midst or who are still obsessed with the idea that a security case in a government department and a criminal case in a court of law are the same thing and must be procedurally handled exactly the same way.

Ford Foundation Head Favors Big Classes in College

Philadelphia, Aug. 31 (AP)—Large classes in colleges were defended today as a means of letting the most students hear the best teachers.

In fact; said Dr. Thomas H. Carroll, vice president of the Ford Foundation and a former dean at Syracuse and North Carolina Universities, colleges can raise their academic standards in spite of swollen enrollments and larger classes.

Carroll spoke at a meeting of the American Accounting Assn., in sessions at the University of Pennsylvania.

In his prepared address he attacked what he called the "myth of the small class."

Carroll said:

"The inefficient way to utilize a given number of available faculty is to have them teach a large number of small sections; the efficient way is to have large lectures accompanied by small discussion sessions under really effective section men.

"A truly outstanding lecturer can be as effective—perhaps more so—lecturing to a group of 300 as 30.

"In most academic departments the faculty ranges from the truly inspired teacher through the satisfactory classroom performer to the downright mediocre.

"Does it not make more sense to give every student the benefit of the truly inspired teacher through large lectures than to confine his influence to the lucky few who manage to get into his sections and leave the rest to the mercies of the mediocre?"

Three New Countries Join Scout Conference

Niagara Falls, Ont., Aug. 31 (AP)—The International Conference of Boy Scouts has accepted for membership three new countries—Iran, Jordan and Kuwait.

The action was taken at a session here yesterday. About 150 delegates from 50 countries were attending the meetings, which end today.

New members elected to six-year terms on the International Committee were: Eli Boyaner of St. John, New Brunswick, Canada; Bent Junker, Sweden; Dr. Paul Konig, Germany, and John Schiff, Oyster Bay, N. Y.

Lynn Bari Weds

Beverly Hills, Calif., Aug. 31 (AP)—Actress Lynn Bari and Dr. Nathan Rickles, Beverly Hills psychiatrist, were married last night in the doctor's home. Municipal Judge Sidney W. Kaufman of nearby Compton performed the ceremony. Attendants included Mrs. Kaufman and the bridegroom's brother, Dr. George Rickles, and his wife. Miss Bari, 35, previously was married to agent Walter Kane and producer Sid Luft.

'Ginger' Grand Fun at Playhouse

Woodstock, Aug. 31—Every so often a girl turns up in a family and it seems—for a time at least—that it might have been better if she had been born a boy. Such a one is the auburn-haired daughter, Virginia in the Carol family, the football star heroine of Time Out for Ginger which opened Tuesday night at the Woodstock Playhouse. Ginger was fashioned from a more rugged pattern than those of her two older sisters Joan and Jeannie, and it wasn't her fault that she could run faster than the captain of the football team, sister Joan's beau, Eddie Davis. It was simply the way she was made, and her father Howard Carol was pretty proud of his daughter. In fact it was Papa Carol who started the entire chain of physical fireworks with a speech before the high school based vaguely on the Bill of Rights.

No one counted on Ginger becoming a national figure, least of all the president of Pop's bank, and a fine tempest is brewed in a mess of coke bottles.

"Time Out for Ginger" is a fitting end to a good summer of theatre, a hilarious commentary on the pursuits of a busy American family clashing together happily all under one roof. Pop writes speeches, Mom dabbles in ceramics and the girls go about the business of trapping a man each in her own way. It is all grand fun, funny and frequently hilarious.

VIOLA HARRIS and Frank Overton are Mom and Pop, the happy but tried parents of three teen-agers, the kind of good parents who have had a whale of a good time growing up with their children. They are both excellent. Beverly Minor and Sandra Kazan play Ginger's sisters Joan and Jeannie with zest and youthful charm, one the football hero's best girl and the other the embryo actress.

Phyllis Wynn is a fortunate person. She was born for the role of Ginger, and no doubt the role was designed especially for her. She romps through the Carol family home, down the length of the football field and straight into the heart of her audience.

THE SURPRISE of the evening was the first appearance on stage of John Freimann, as the loquacious Tommy Green. Freimann is familiar to Playhouse audiences as the designer of the consistently striking sets for the plays during the past season. He is obviously equally talented as a performer drawing rounds of applause for Tommy's speeches.

Ernestine McClendon as Lizzie, the maid takes no small part in the proceedings and her word bears as much weight in family affairs as anyone else's.

OTHERS LENDING their able support are Howard Wierum as the bank president, William Grannell as the football captain and James Karen as the school principal, each one contributing one or more fine bits to the production.

This is Director Michael Howard's farewell bow for another season, an au revoir that sends with it the wish that he will return again next year. He has made a host of friends in the entire community, for providing another excellent summer's entertainment.

Paralytic Polio Believed Reduced By Salk Vaccine

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 31 (AP)—The New York State and City Health Departments report that incidence of paralytic polio among children inoculated with the Salk vaccine is less than half that among unvaccinated children of the same ages.

Dr. Herman E. Hilleboe, state health commissioner, said yesterday that from May 21 through Aug. 26 there were 2.5 cases per 100,000 children in the 6-10 age group outside New York city. This compared, he said, with 6.8 per 100,000 among children in that age group who did not deceive the vaccine.

The city health department said a rate of 3.6 cases per 100,000 was noted among vaccinated children aged 6 and 7. Among the unvaccinated children of the same age group the incidence was 8 per 100,000.

BOTH DEPARTMENTS cautioned that the data was preliminary and that the results might be different before the polio season ends.

Hilleboe noted that almost 300,000 of the 353,000 vaccinated outside the city had received only one shot. Three must be given to make the vaccine most effective, he said.

The number of polio cases reported outside New York city this year exceeds last year's total by almost 200 but the ratio of paralytic cases has been much lower.

The aim of the Salk vaccine is to prevent paralytic polio.

Only 16 per cent of Japan's 142,000 square miles of area is considered suitable for agriculture.

State Will Stand Legal Fees When Benefits in Doubt

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 31 (AP)—The state will pay lawyer's fees and court costs, beginning tomorrow, for unemployment insurance claimants whose benefit rights have been upheld by a state board but challenged in the courts.

Industrial Commissioner Isador Lubin announced the change yesterday and said it had been authorized at the last session of the Legislature. Lubin called it a "long overdue improvement."

The state will pay attorney fees up to $150 and printing and other court costs up to $50 when:

1. The employer or the industrial commissioner appeals to the Appellate Division of State Supreme Court from a ruling of the Unemployment Insurance Appeal Board favorable to the claimant.
2. The employer or the Industrial Commission appeals or seeks to appeal to the Court of Appeals an Appellate Division decision on a finding of the board favorable to the claimant.
3. The claimant appeals to the Court of Appeals from an Appellate Division reversal of a board finding favorable to him and the Court of Appeals finds his appeal has merit.

The commissioner said the payments would come from the Unemployment Insurance Administration fund.

Heresy Trial Board Orders Secret Parley

Milwaukee, Aug. 31 (AP) — A trial board sitting for the second heresy trial in the 65 year history of the Northwest Synod of the United Lutheran Church ordered another secret meeting today to hear the remaining specifications against a small town pastor.

The Rev. John Gerberding, 33, was accused by the synod, in a trial that began yesterday behind closed doors, of eight counts of deviating from official church doctrine. He pleaded innocent.

The board of seven pastors took up five of the charges in two sessions the first day of the trial. The board said it would take up the remaining three in a session planned for today (10 AES).

Only one allegation against Pastor Gerberding was made public, and he spelled that out himself. It accused him of "denying the divine authority of the holy scriptures."

Publisher Dies

Rye Beach, N. H., Aug. 31 (AP) —E. Lansing Ray, who rose from a $10 a week job to editor and publisher of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, died of a heart attack at his summer home here yesterday as he was observing his 71st birthday. His unexpected death ended 52 years on the Globe-Democrat which had been under his direction for 36 of those years. Ray was opening gifts at a family birthday party. Suddenly he felt weak, excused himself and went to his bedroom. A physician was called but life quickly ebbed. Death was attributed to a coronary thrombosis.

PSC Declines To Dismiss Bid For Phone Hikes

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 31 (AP)—The Public Service Commission declined today to dismiss the New York Telephone Co.'s bid for a stop-gap rate increase of 34 million dollars a year.

Commissioner Glen R. Bedenkapp announced that the full, six-member commission had upheld a ruling by Bedenkapp on a motion by New York city that the company's petition be thrown out.

THE COMMISSION left the door open, however, for further motions to dismiss the company's petition after all evidence on the rate-increase proposal has been received.

The commission said in its opinion:

"Whether the evidence submitted by the company is sufficient to justify all or any part of the relief requested by it is a matter which must be determined at the conclusion of the case."

Bedenkapp made his announcement as the PSC resumed a hearing on the company's proposal. The company wanted to increase rates by about 30 cents monthly on most home telephones and 75 cents on most business phones, pending a final decision on a request for a permanent boost.

THE COMPANY has asked the Court of Appeals to order the PSC to rehear the company's case for a permanent boost of $68,850,000 a year.

The commission, in acting on the dismissal motion, noted that the argument had been advanced that the PSC "has no power" to hear the current application for a rate change because there was an appeal from a previous decision now before the court.

"We think that, irrespective of any other pending proceedings," the PSC said, "the commission at all times has complete jurisdiction over the rates of utilities in this state . . .

"THE RULING of the hearing examiner is sustained without prejudice to the renewal of the motion upon completion of the hearing."

New York city wants the commission to order a temporary decrease of $31,800,000 in intrastate phone rates. It also has asked for a PSC investigation aimed at ordering a permanent slash of 41½ million dollars in intrastate rates.

The commission is considering the rate-cut request while it hears the company's case for an increase.

New York city's Democratic administration had asked for a review by the full commission of Bedenkapp's refusal July 29 to dismiss the company petition.

The commission, comprising three Republicans and three Democrats, considered the appeal at its regular meeting yesterday.

VanNostrand Is Found Guilty of Entering Trailer

Kenneth VanNostrand, 42, of 99 North Front street, was found guilty after trial today before City Judge Raymond J. Mino on a charge dealing with the unlawful entry of a Taylor street trailer earlier this month.

Judge Mino imposed a sentence of 11 dqays in jail which the defendant has served, and after sentence he was due to be held by authorities as a parole violator.

VanNostrand was arrested at 2:12 a. m., Aug. 20 after Mrs. Jean Mosier told police that she was asleep on a couch in the trailer when she awoke and saw a man. She said she screamed and he ran out of the trailer.

OFFICERS William Slover and Ira Hadsel apprehended VanNostrand on Hurley avenue, and Mrs. Mosier identified him.

Attorney Bernard A. Cullcton appeared for the defendant and John E. Gotelli for the district attorney's office at today's trial.

Police said VanNostrand's record shows an arrest on Nov. 23, 1943 on a first degree rape charge. Other arrests on his record were on a reckless driving charge in 1934 and another on a parking violation charge in 1941.

No Epidemic in Europe As Polio Hits Its Peak

London, Aug. 31 (AP)—Polio appears to have hit its summer peak in Europe without reaching epidemic proportions anywhere. The number of cases for the year to date ranges from a low of 10 in Denmark to as high as 1,519 in England and Wales.

Only Denmark carried out a large scale program of inoculation. The Danish Health Board reported 10 cases of polio in the first eight months of the year compared to 120 in the same period of 1954. The board said 430,000 school children from 7 to 12 years old were inoculated with a vaccine produced by the Danish State Serum Institute. No polio cases have yet developed among those vaccinated, the board added.

Severe localized outbreaks occurred in some areas of Europe.

Radford Slated To Confer With Ike on Defense

Denver, Aug. 31 (AP)—President Eisenhower, refreshed by more than two weeks of rest, reportedly is about to break his vacation routine for conferences with key administration officials —including his top military adviser.

The word here at summer White House is that Adm. Arthur W. Radford will fly out from Washington soon to bring the President up to date on the defense picture.

There is no hint of any emergency. When Eisenhower is in Washington he sees Radford about twice a week to keep abreast of developments in the military field.

Last year while the President was vacationing in Colorado Radford traveled to Denver and said he came out for a conference simply because he had not reported to the Chief Executive in quite a while.

It's pretty much the routine pattern being repeated. For the first couple weeks of the President's annual summer vacation here his staff tries to keep his official engagements to a minimum and his golf and fishing at a maximum. They feel he is entitled to as close to complete relaxation as is possible.

Sinatra Mum on Film Suit Against Him

Hollywood, Aug. 31 (AP)—Frank Sinatra is back in California, with nothing to say about the million dollar suit filed against him in New York by 20th Century-Fox studios.

Sinatra flew in last night and parried all inquiries about the suit with a curt "See my lawyers!"

He did, however, vouchsafe that Gordon Macrae "is a good man and should do fine" in "Carousel," the film Sinatra walked out on last week.

The movie version of the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical is being filmed at Boothbay, Maine. Sinatra left his role because, he told newsmen in the east, he objected to working on two films at once. The picture is being shot in two processes and two camera crews are employed, but Fox denied that the procedure constituted working in two films at once.

Foreign Ministers to Meet

Washington, Aug. 31 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles and the British and French foreign ministers will meet in New York Sept. 27 to coordinate western views in advance of their meeting with Russia's V. M. Molotov in October. The State Department, in announcing the New York meeting, said today it will last two days and will deal with "matters of common interest.

Haymes Confident

Hollywood, Aug. 31 (AP) — Crooner Dick Haymes says he is convinced that he and his wife, Rita Hayworth, will be reunited, although he admits he hasn't even talked to her since she left him Sunday night. "I have heard from Rita—indirectly," he told newsmen at a press conference last night. He declined to elaborate. He did say he knew where she was and that the children were with her. Asked where she was, he declared, "I wouldn't tell. I wouldn't do that to Rita."

Priest Met Newsman

Berlin, Aug. 31 (AP)—A German Catholic priest just released from the Soviets' Vorkuta labor camp has told church authorities in West Berlin that he met a former American journalist in the Arctic camp just west of the Urals. The Rev. Hermann Tiehen was unable to identify the American, but said he had been arrested in Bucharest, Romania, several years ago. He said the man was a Soviet citizen at the time of his arrest.

To Lay Off 2,500

Farmingdale, N. Y., Aug. 31 (AP)—The Republic Aviation Corp. has announced it will lay off 2,500 employes, beginning Sept. 16. Company officials said yesterday the layoff is the result of "production adjustments caused by the tapering off of production on one fighter model." They said it is not because of government cutbacks on contracts. The personnel cut will leave 17,000 on the payroll, compared with 29,000 a year ago.

Misplaced Water Pipe

Meriden, Conn., Aug. 31 (AP)—Meriden has a plumbing problem because somebody 80 or 90 years ago forgot to mark a certain pipe on the map of the city water system. As the result, many of the city's 44,000 people don't have any water at all while others get only a trickle out of the kitchen faucet.

Fair Street Church Fair Set Sept. 7-8

The Fair Street Reformed Church annual fair which will be held on the church grounds, Fair and Pearl streets, on Wednesday and Thursday, September 7 and 8, will take on an international trend this year.

Among the booths will be a "Parcel Post" booth, Miss Marjorie Darrow, chairman, where gifts sent from all parts of the world will be on sale. This year there will be an exceptionally wide coverage with parcels already having been received from Italy, Brazil, Norway, England, Spain, France and Germany. In addition to the parcels from foreign countries there will also be a wide variety from distant points in the United States. These parcels will be on sale at the Parcel Post booth, unopened and with the original postage still intact.

ANOTHER new comer to the fair will be the "Kiddie Corner" where various childrens gifts, toys and articles will be on sale.

On Wednesday evening a "chicken and biscuit" dinner will be served in the church assembly room under the supervision of the Service Club and on Thursday evening there will be a cafeteria style supper served by the Eendracht Guild of the church. Throughout the day refreshments will be on sale at the refreshment booth on the fair grounds and at noon a luncheon menu will be available at the booth.

THE FAIR will be held afternoon and evening on both days and there will be entertainment of various kinds with various forms of entertainment for the kiddes.

Many unusual articles will be found at the Christmas Booth where early shoppers will find useful gifts for the holiday season.

In addition to the new booths there will be the usual domestic booth, fancy articles, and other places to purchase useful articles, gifts and novelties.

The fair this year is under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Smith, assisted by a number of co-workers and booth chairmen.

Reach Agreement In Firestone Contract Talks

Cleveland, Aug. 31 (AP)—Beating a threatened midnight strike deadline by less than one hour, negotiators for the CIO United Rubber Workers and the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. last night reached a tentative contract agreement affecting 22,000 workers in eight cities.

The settlement provides for a general increase of 12 cents an hour for Firestone employes in Akron, Ohio; Des Moines, Iowa; Fall River, Mass; Los Angeles, Calif.; Memphis, Tenn.; New Castle and Noblesville, Ind.; and Pottstown, Pa.

Union and company negotiators, in a joint statement, declared that "details of the agreement are being drawn up for final approval and signatures as soon as possible."

Under the old agreement which expired at midnight, workers received an average hourly rate of $2.20.

The new agreement calls for special adjustments above the general increase for an unspecified number of employes, one additional paid holiday, an improved vacation plan for employes with 11 to 15 years of service, jury pay, and free hospitalization and surgical insurance for retired employes on pensions.

Report Attempted Suicide

New York, Aug. 31 (AP)—Three patrolmen struggled in the Hudson river off 96th street for 20 minutes early today before rescuing a swimmer who had warned them "don't come near me—I'll drown." The man identified himself as Edward Wallach, 40, of 95 Shertrook Road, Lindenhurst, N. Y., on Long Island. Police listed the case as attempted suicide. Police said he had visited his mother on the west side of Manhattan last night, argued with her, then departed to meet his wife nearby at 96th street and Broadway about 2 a .m.

Assault Charged

Fred Eggerman, 54, of Route 9W, Port Ewen, who was arrested by Deputies Delbert Sapp and George Bynner last night charged with assault third degree, was committed to the Ulster county jail pending hearing before Justice of the Peace F. E. Palen, Jr., of Port Ewen. Complainant in the case is Greta Eggerman, the defendant's wife. The hearing will be held at 7 p. m. Saturday.

Israeli sources said two Jews riding in a truck were ambushed on Israel's southern coastal plain north of Gaza last night. They reported one was killed instantly and the other died on the way to a hospital.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug. 31 (AP)—The stock market was higher and more active early this afternoon.

Industrials and rails were stronger as the tempo of trading speeded up slightly from yesterday's sluggish pace.

Activity was greater in the first hour than thereafter and earlier gains were moderated somewhat as the trading pace slowed.

Steels as a group were higher. Aircrafts, the stars of yesterday's mediocre performance, continued to gather strength. Coppers and chemicals also shaded higher although there were some soft spots.

Heresy Trial Board Orders Secret Parley

Milwaukee, Aug. 31 (AP) — A trial board sitting for the second heresy trial in the 65 year history of the Northwest Synod of the United Lutheran Church ordered another secret meeting today to hear the remaining specifications against a small town pastor.

The Rev. John Gerberding, 33, was accused by the synod, in a trial that began yesterday behind closed doors, of eight counts of deviating from official church doctrine. He pleaded innocent.

The board of seven pastors took up five of the charges in two sessions the first day of the trial. The board said it would take up the remaining three in a session planned for today (10 AES).

Only one allegation against Pastor Gerberding was made public, and he spelled that out himself. It accused him of "denying the divine authority of the holy scriptures."

Publisher Dies

Rye Beach, N. H., Aug. 31 (AP) —E. Lansing Ray, who rose from a $10 a week job to editor and publisher of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, died of a heart attack at his summer home here yesterday as he was observing his 71st birthday. His unexpected death ended 52 years on the Globe-Democrat which had been under his direction for 36 of those years. Ray was opening gifts at a family birthday party. Suddenly he felt weak, excused himself and went to his bedroom. A physician was called but life quickly ebbed. Death was attributed to a coronary thrombosis.

PSC Declines To Dismiss Bid For Phone Hikes

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 31 (AP)—The Public Service Commission declined today to dismiss the New York Telephone Co.'s bid for a stop-gap rate increase of 34 million dollars a year.

Commissioner Glen R. Bedenkapp announced that the full, six-member commission had upheld a ruling by Bedenkapp on a motion by New York city that the company's petition be thrown out.

THE COMMISSION left the door open, however, for further motions to dismiss the company's petition after all evidence on the rate-increase proposal has been received.

The commission said in its opinion:

"Whether the evidence submitted by the company is sufficient to justify all or any part of the relief requested by it is a matter which must be determined at the conclusion of the case."

Bedenkapp made his announcement as the PSC resumed a hearing on the company's proposal. The company wanted to increase rates by about 30 cents monthly on most home telephones and 75 cents on most business phones, pending a final decision on a request for a permanent boost.

THE COMPANY has asked the Court of Appeals to order the PSC to rehear the company's case for a permanent boost of $68,850,000 a year.

The commission, in acting on the dismissal motion, noted that the argument had been advanced that the PSC "has no power" to hear the current application for a rate change because there was an appeal from a previous decision now before the court.

"We think that, irrespective of any other pending proceedings," the PSC said, "the commission at all times has complete jurisdiction over the rates of utilities in this state . . .

"THE RULING of the hearing examiner is sustained without prejudice to the renewal of the motion upon completion of the hearing."

New York city wants the commission to order a temporary decrease of $31,800,000 in intrastate phone rates. It also has asked for a PSC investigation aimed at ordering a permanent slash of 41½ million dollars in intrastate rates.

The commission is considering the rate-cut request while it hears the company's case for an increase.

New York city's Democratic administration had asked for a review by the full commission of Bedenkapp's refusal July 29 to dismiss the company petition.

The commission, comprising three Republicans and three Democrats, considered the appeal at its regular meeting yesterday.

VanNostrand Is Found Guilty of Entering Trailer

Kenneth VanNostrand, 42, of 99 North Front street, was found guilty after trial today before City Judge Raymond J. Mino on a charge dealing with the unlawful entry of a Taylor street trailer earlier this month.

Judge Mino imposed a sentence of 11 dqays in jail which the defendant has served, and after sentence he was due to be held by authorities as a parole violator.

VanNostrand was arrested at 2:12 a. m., Aug. 20 after Mrs. Jean Mosier told police that she was asleep on a couch in the trailer when she awoke and saw a man. She said she screamed and he ran out of the trailer.

OFFICERS William Slover and Ira Hadsel apprehended VanNostrand on Hurley avenue, and Mrs. Mosier identified him.

Attorney Bernard A. Cullcton appeared for the defendant and John E. Gotelli for the district attorney's office at today's trial.

Police said VanNostrand's record shows an arrest on Nov. 23, 1943 on a first degree rape charge. Other arrests on his record were on a reckless driving charge in 1934 and another on a parking violation charge in 1941.

No Epidemic in Europe As Polio Hits Its Peak

London, Aug. 31 (AP)—Polio appears to have hit its summer peak in Europe without reaching epidemic proportions anywhere. The number of cases for the year to date ranges from a low of 10 in Denmark to as high as 1,519 in England and Wales.

Only Denmark carried out a large scale program of inoculation. The Danish Health Board reported 10 cases of polio in the first eight months of the year compared to 120 in the same period of 1954. The board said 430,000 school children from 7 to 12 years old were inoculated with a vaccine produced by the Danish State Serum Institute. No polio cases have yet developed among those vaccinated, the board added.

Severe localized outbreaks occurred in some areas of Europe.

Radford Slated To Confer With Ike on Defense

Denver, Aug. 31 (AP)—President Eisenhower, refreshed by more than two weeks of rest, reportedly is about to break his vacation routine for conferences with key administration officials —including his top military adviser.

The word here at summer White House is that Adm. Arthur W. Radford will fly out from Washington soon to bring the President up to date on the defense picture.

There is no hint of any emergency. When Eisenhower is in Washington he sees Radford about twice a week to keep abreast of developments in the military field.

Last year while the President was vacationing in Colorado Radford traveled to Denver and said he came out for a conference simply because he had not reported to the Chief Executive in quite a while.

It's pretty much the routine pattern being repeated. For the first couple weeks of the President's annual summer vacation here his staff tries to keep his official engagements to a minimum and his golf and fishing at a maximum. They feel he is entitled to as close to complete relaxation as is possible.

Sinatra Mum on Film Suit Against Him

Hollywood, Aug. 31 (AP)—Frank Sinatra is back in California, with nothing to say about the million dollar suit filed against him in New York by 20th Century-Fox studios.

Sinatra flew in last night and parried all inquiries about the suit with a curt "See my lawyers!"

He did, however, vouchsafe that Gordon Macrae "is a good man and should do fine" in "Carousel," the film Sinatra walked out on last week.

The movie version of the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical is being filmed at Boothbay, Maine. Sinatra left his role because, he told newsmen in the east, he objected to working on two films at once. The picture is being shot in two processes and two camera crews are employed, but Fox denied that the procedure constituted working in two films at once.

Foreign Ministers to Meet

Washington, Aug. 31 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles and the British and French foreign ministers will meet in New York Sept. 27 to coordinate western views in advance of their meeting with Russia's V. M. Molotov in October. The State Department, in announcing the New York meeting, said today it will last two days and will deal with "matters of common interest.

Haymes Confident

Hollywood, Aug. 31 (AP) — Crooner Dick Haymes says he is convinced that he and his wife, Rita Hayworth, will be reunited, although he admits he hasn't even talked to her since she left him Sunday night. "I have heard from Rita—indirectly," he told newsmen at a press conference last night. He declined to elaborate. He did say he knew where she was and that the children were with her. Asked where she was, he declared, "I wouldn't tell. I wouldn't do that to Rita."

Priest Met Newsman

Berlin, Aug. 31 (AP)—A German Catholic priest just released from the Soviets' Vorkuta labor camp has told church authorities in West Berlin that he met a former American journalist in the Arctic camp just west of the Urals. The Rev. Hermann Tiehen was unable to identify the American, but said he had been arrested in Bucharest, Romania, several years ago. He said the man was a Soviet citizen at the time of his arrest.

To Lay Off 2,500

Farmingdale, N. Y., Aug. 31 (AP)—The Republic Aviation Corp. has announced it will lay off 2,500 employes, beginning Sept. 16. Company officials said yesterday the layoff is the result of "production adjustments caused by the tapering off of production on one fighter model." They said it is not because of government cutbacks on contracts. The personnel cut will leave 17,000 on the payroll, compared with 29,000 a year ago.

Misplaced Water Pipe

Meriden, Conn., Aug. 31 (AP)—Meriden has a plumbing problem because somebody 80 or 90 years ago forgot to mark a certain pipe on the map of the city water system. As the result, many of the city's 44,000 people don't have any water at all while others get only a trickle out of the kitchen faucet.

Fair Street Church Fair Set Sept. 7-8

The Fair Street Reformed Church annual fair which will be held on the church grounds, Fair and Pearl streets, on Wednesday and Thursday, September 7 and 8, will take on an international trend this year.

Among the booths will be a "Parcel Post" booth, Miss Marjorie Darrow, chairman, where gifts sent from all parts of the world will be on sale. This year there will be an exceptionally wide coverage with parcels already having been received from Italy, Brazil, Norway, England, Spain, France and Germany. In addition to the parcels from foreign countries there will also be a wide variety from distant points in the United States. These parcels will be on sale at the Parcel Post booth, unopened and with the original postage still intact.

ANOTHER new comer to the fair will be the "Kiddie Corner" where various childrens gifts, toys and articles will be on sale.

On Wednesday evening a "chicken and biscuit" dinner will be served in the church assembly room under the supervision of the Service Club and on Thursday evening there will be a cafeteria style supper served by the Eendracht Guild of the church. Throughout the day refreshments will be on sale at the refreshment booth on the fair grounds and at noon a luncheon menu will be available at the booth.

THE FAIR will be held afternoon and evening on both days and there will be entertainment of various kinds with various forms of entertainment for the kiddes.

Many unusual articles will be found at the Christmas Booth where early shoppers will find useful gifts for the holiday season.

In addition to the new booths there will be the usual domestic booth, fancy articles, and other places to purchase useful articles, gifts and novelties.

The fair this year is under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Smith, assisted by a number of co-workers and booth chairmen.

Reach Agreement In Firestone Contract Talks

Cleveland, Aug. 31 (AP)—Beating a threatened midnight strike deadline by less than one hour, negotiators for the CIO United Rubber Workers and the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. last night reached a tentative contract agreement affecting 22,000 workers in eight cities.

The settlement provides for a general increase of 12 cents an hour for Firestone employes in Akron, Ohio; Des Moines, Iowa; Fall River, Mass; Los Angeles, Calif.; Memphis, Tenn.; New Castle and Noblesville, Ind.; and Pottstown, Pa.

Union and company negotiators, in a joint statement, declared that "details of the agreement are being drawn up for final approval and signatures as soon as possible."

Under the old agreement which expired at midnight, workers received an average hourly rate of $2.20.

The new agreement calls for special adjustments above the general increase for an unspecified number of employes, one additional paid holiday, an improved vacation plan for employes with 11 to 15 years of service, jury pay, and free hospitalization and surgical insurance for retired employes on pensions.

Report Attempted Suicide

New York, Aug. 31 (AP)—Three patrolmen struggled in the Hudson river off 86th street for 20 minutes early today before rescuing a swimmer who had warned them "don't come near me—I'll drown." The man identified himself as Edward Wallach, 40, of 95 Sherbrook Road, Lindenhurst, N. Y., on Long Island. Police listed the case as attempted suicide. Police said he had visited his mother on the west side of Manhattan last night, argued with her, then departed to meet his wife nearby at 96th street and Broadway about 2 a .m.

Assault Charged

Fred Eggerman, 54, of Route 9W, Port Ewen, who was arrested by Deputies Delbert Sapp and George Bynner last night charged with assault third degree, was committed to the Ulster county jail pending hearing before Justice of the Peace F. E. Palen, Jr., of Port Ewen. Complainant in the case is Greta Eggerman, the defendant's wife. The hearing will be held at 7 p. m. Saturday.

Israeli sources said two Jews riding in a truck were ambushed on Israel's southern coastal plain north of Gaza last night. They reported one was killed instantly and the other died on the way to a hospital.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug. 31 (AP)—The stock market was higher and more active early this afternoon.

Industrials and rails were stronger as the tempo of trading speeded up slightly from yesterday's sluggish pace.

Activity was greater in the first hour than thereafter and earlier gains were moderated somewhat as the trading pace slowed.

Steels as a group were higher. Aircrafts, the stars of yesterday's mediocre performance, continued to gather strength. Coppers and chemicals also shaded higher although there were some soft spots.

Russia Must Ease Travel Curbs if U. S. Is to Do So

Washington, Aug. 31 (AP)—The United States is standing pat on its determination to ease travel curbs on Russians only when the Kremlin does likewise for Americans inside Russia.

The "spirit of Geneva" of which the Russians talk these days has generated no change whatever in the Soviet travel restrictoins. These restrictions against American visits include border zones, key cities and other regions for a total of about one-third of the Soviet land area.

BECAUSE U. S. policy in this respect is tit-for-tat there has been no change either in the U. S. rules. These, likewise, bar Russians from America's borders, major cities and other regions for a total of about one-third of the U. S. land area.

Exceptions are made from time to time by both sides. An example was seen yesterday when three Russian military attaches drove to Ft. Benning, Ga., from the Soviet embassy in Washington to witness a technical military demonstration. A similar privilege had been accorded U. S. military men in Russia.

THE TRAVEL restrictions on Soviet citizens in the United States, as made public last Jan. 3 and still in force, include:

1. At least 48 hours advance notice for travel of more than 25 miles from Washington or New York city—the only places where Soviet citizens are now residing.

2. No travel by Soviet citizens allowed within a 15-mile band around America's border.

3. No travel in large parts of 39 of the 48 states.

Exceptions have included those Soviet citizens temporarily in the United States—such as a church leader or the 12-member Soviet farm delegation which recently completed a five-week tour. Also exempted are Russians who work for the United Nations.

THE RULE of thumb used by American officials in drawing up these stringent regulations was "reciprocity and security." They made no bones about the fact that the real criterion was reciprocity, with security a poor second, and they have suggested that if Moscow would ease its curbs Washington would do likewise.

The Russians started this by play in the cold war by imposing travel restrictions back in 1948. They have revised their regulations three times since then, once in 1952 and twice in 1953.

The United States reacted with its 25-mile limit rule in 1952 and then the further regulations of last January.

Power Output Nears Record

New York, Aug. 31 (AP)—The nation's output of electricity climbed last week to a near record level 18.2 per cent over the year ago mark, Edison Electric Institute reported today.

Power production in the week ended Aug. 27 amounted to 10,906,000,000 kilowatthours, compared with 10,812,000,000 kilowatthours the week before, and with 9,227,000,000 kilowatthours in the like week last year. The record was 10,925,000,000 kilowatthours in the week ended Aug. 6.

Output in the central industrial area jumped 28.1 per cent over the year ago week. Utility sources attributed the sharp rise to the heavy industrial load in the region, hot weather use of air conditioning and refrigeration, and greater consumption by Atomic Energy Commission installations.

All other sections reported gains over a year ago as follows: New England 5.8 per cent; mid-Atlantic 12.8; west central 11.7; southeast 21.6; south central 12.8; Rocky Mountain 15.6; Pacific northwest 17.2; and Pacific southwest 12.

Ice Box Rescue

Fort Worth, Tex., Aug. 31 (AP)—Two small Negroes were rescued yesterday from an abandoned ice box where they faced possible suffocation. Juvenile detectives checking vandalism heard a pounding inside the box at Arthur King's garage. Inside they found King's stepson, James Yates, 10, and his half-brother, James King, 1. King said his stepdaughter, Oma Thompson, 8, apparently had put the boys in the box and forgotten about them.

Youth Stops Bullet Meant for Another

New York, Aug. 31 (AP) — A youth talking with a group of teen agers in front of the East Harlem tenement where he lives was struck down last night by a bullet apparently intended for someone else.

His companions told police the shot appeared to come from two youths who fled from the opposite side of the street after the shooting.

Police later sent out an alarm for two unidentified youths wanted for questioning. One, about 16, was described as armed with a gun and wearing a blue jacket. The other, about 17, was wearing a yellow shirt with brown stripes.

William Hearne, 18, collapsed on the sidewalk and was taken to a hospital where he was put on the serious list but said to be in no danger. The shot, which hit him in the lower back, passed through his body.

Prize Elephant Dies

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 31 (AP)—Queen, an elephant at the Marsalis Park zoo who has been pleasing crowds in Dallas since 1913, died yesterday at the zoo. Federal Judge William H. Atwell bought Queen in Kansas City some 42 years ago. He raised the money by selling "elephant meat" in Dallas at $1 a pound. "You know," the judge said last night, "Queen never has forgotten who I am. Every time she saw me, she'd raise her trunk in recognition." Queen was between 65-75 years old when she died.

Small Air Jet Is Aid in Dentistry

Chicago, Aug. 31 (AP)—A small air jet which gradually turns from warm to cold has been found successful in numbing the jaws for painless drilling and filling of tooth cavities.

Dr. Robert J. Eustice, a Biloxi, Miss., dentist formerly with the navy, described the technique used in place of local anesthetic on 100 men and women patients.

Dr. Eustice, in a preliminary report today in the Journal of the American Dental Assn., said 94 of the 100 patients who received the mouth-chilling preparation reported little or no discomfort in cavity treatment.

The device used in tests at the U. S. Naval Dental School at Bethesda, Md., was developed by a French dentist, Dr. Pierre D. Bernard of Paris.

A temperature controlling apparatus gradually reduces temperature of the tiny air stream from 98 degrees to 33.8 degrees while it is baing applied to mouth tissues.

Likes the Ups and Downs

Philadelphia, Aug. 31 (AP)—Two-year-old Danny Wentworth's fascination with escalators led police on a three-hour missing boy hunt yesterday in Center City. His mother took the Riverside, N. J., youngster shopping in a downtown department store and he promptly wandered away. It was 10 minutes before she could catch up with him—on an escalator. Enough, said Mrs. Wentworth, and she purchased a harness to keep Danny under control.

World's largest smokestack is at Great Falls, Mont. It is 585 feet tall, with an inside diameter of 60 feet at the top.

India Is Spending Over Million on Hall for UN Parley

New Delhi, India, Aug. 31 (AP)—The Indian government is constructing a huge new meeting hall with facilities capable of accommodating the United Nations General Assembly, if that body ever decides to meet here.

The building is scheduled to be completed by November 1956, when the UN Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) assembles here for a world conference.

India is spending more than a million dollars on the building and its furnishings.

The main auditorium will have room for 700 delegates and their chairs and desks. A balcony will provide space for 300 spectators. Five committee rooms will have horseshoe shaped tables with room for 70 delegates—just like the committee rooms at the UN headquarters in New York. Two larger "commission" rooms each will have room for 300 spectators.

A BOOTH for simultaneous interpreters in four languages will be attached to the main auditorium and the committee and commission rooms. This also is an arrangement modeled after the UN. The building will include lounges, dining rooms, cafeterias and special facilities for the press.

Pakistan has been in the forefront of UN members urging that assembly sessions be rotated among the major capitals. The 1956 session may be held in Paris, where the assembly previously met in 1948 and 1951.

Railroad Home

Holloway, Mich. (AP)—Railroad man J. D. Jaqua is moving into the station house. After working for the railroad for 35 years with 15 more to go for retirement, Jaqua bought the old Holloway station and had it carted off to his own lot. He figures to make a five room house out of the building, which was built in 1882. Jaqua doesn't talk about the price, except that he says it was "very reasonable." The station is typical turn-of-the century architecture. It measures 54 by 16 feet, has long gabled extensions at either end and a double sized freight door. Jaqua and his wife figure it will take two or three years to finish the station so they can live in it.

Defense Industry Loans to Be Part Of SBA Program

Washington, Aug. 31 (AP)—Arthur S. Flemming, defense mobilizer, announced Tuesday the Small Business Administration (SBA) will handle applications for defense industry loans as part of the disaster loan program in the northeastern flood area.

Ordinary the SBA makes loans to owners of homes and businesses stricken by disaster, but does not handle the Special Defense Production Act loans which may be granted only to business firms engaged in defense activities.

SBA LOANS to home owners may run for 20 years. SBA loans to businesses may be paid off in up to 10 years.

There is no dollar ceiling on either the defense industry loans, or the ordinary SBA loans. In both cases, however, the loan is limited to the damage sustained, and can only be made by the government when there is a showing that the credit is not available from commercial sources at reasonable terms.

The SBA will take defense industry loan applications at the 17 temporary disaster loan offices it has in the disaster area. Applications are available at SBA offices and all banks.

FLEMMING promised that applications will be examined and action taken within 24 hours after SBA relays them to the Office of Defense Mobilization.

Loan applications certified by ODM as falling within the more than 200 fields of industry recognized by ODM as essential to defense will be sent to the Treasury Department. There they will be reviewed from a credit standpoint. The loan will be disbursed after both ODM and Treasury approval.

Tallahassee, Fla. (AP)—Florida is preserving the portraits of a man and woman of a bygone era, although it isn't quite sure who they are. A Citizens Committee came across them while culling furnishings from the old governor's mansion to be placed in a new executive dwelling. Said Committee Chairman Frank D. Moor: "No one knows who they are, but someone said they are a former governor and his wife and we figured we ought to save them."

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

If you can't get your youngster to drink enough milk or if you yourself fail to get the recommended daily minimum, try enriching your recipes with instant nonfat dry milk.

Choc-Mint pudding features ¾ cup (one envelope) of instant nonfat dry milk powder with a package of instant chocolate pudding and finely crushed hard peppermint candy. This makes 4 servings. The amount of nonfat dry milk used is the equivalent of one quart of nonfat milk.

Choc-Mint Pudding
(Makes 4 servings)

One (4-ounce) package instant chocolate pudding, ¾ cup (1 envelope) instant nonfat dry milk powder, 1¾ cups cold water, ¾ cup finely crushed hard peppermint candy.

Combine pudding mix and instant nonfat dry milk powder in mixing bowl; add water. Beat with rotary beater or electric mixer until smooth, about 1 minute. Fold in candy. Pour into sherbet glasses. Chill.

Coconut Crisp (Makes 8 servings)

Three-quarters cup (1 envelope) instant nonfat dry milk powder, 1 (4-ounce) package coconut-flavored instant pudding, 2 cups water, 1 cup (15 crackers) graham cracker crumbs, ¼ cup brown sugar, firmly packed, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg, 2 tablespoons butter, melted.

Rosendale

Rosendale, Aug. 30—Plans are being made for free chest X-rays to be taken in Rosendale Sept. 30 at the Grange Hall. The chest X-ray is free for residents over 15 years of age.

Due to the flood, no activities will take place at the Rosendale school playground under the summer recreation program. Such play equipment stored in the basement of the school was damaged by the water.

Thursday, Sept. 1, a bus will leave the Rosendale school at 9 a. m. to take the children to De-Witt Lake. A fishing contest will be held in the morning with prizes given for the largest fish, biggest string, the smallest fish and others. First prize is a gift certificate.

Other activities of the final day will include races, games, swimming and a picnic lunch. Anyone desiring to go should give their name to the director. Parents and friends are welcome to attend.

Reopening of the Rosendale Union Free School has been delayed until Sept. 12, due to the flood which affected the school, according to an announcement by the School Board. This extra time allows authorities to have the school cleaned and disinfected.

Approximately 195,000 pupils will be enrolled in the 410 Catholic elementary and secondary schools of the New York Archiocese at the beginning of the fall term, Monday, Sept. 12, it was announced by Very Rev. Monsignor John Paul Haverty, diocesan superintendent of schools. Of this number, 150,000 will be registered in the elementary schools and 39,000 in the high schools of the Archdiocese.

"The tremendous scope of the parochial school system in the New York Archdiocese can be appreciated only when we realize that its student enrollment exceeds the combined total public, elementary and secondary school population of each of 14 states of the Union," Monsignor Haverty pointed out.

The Archdiocese of New York comprises the boroughs of Manhattan, Bronx and Richmond and the seven upstate counties of Westchester, Putnam, Dutchess, Rockland, Orange, Sullivan and Ulster. Some 145,000 children will be enrolled in the 251 Catholic elementary and secondary schools of Manhattan, Bronx and Richmond and 50,000 in the 159 Catholic schools in the seven Hudson river counties which comprise the remainder of the New York Archdiocese.

Nineteen new schools have been erected and existing structures expanded in the New York Archdiocese at an estimated cost of $15,000,000 during the past year to provide facilities for the growing parochial elementary and secondary school population, Monsignor Haverty reported. Of these, nine are entirely new buildings erected in areas where previously no Catholic school was in operation. Some are completed and ready for immediate use. Others are nearing the final stages of construction and will be ready for occupancy during the course of the fall term. In addition, 12 elementary schools and three high schools of the Archdiocese have expanded their facilities by erecting annexes, adding wings or renovating existing structures to provide accommodations for additional pupils during the coming year.

"The expansion we are experiencing," Monsignor Haverty said, "is part of a national phenomenon that is common to Catholic and public school systems alike. It is fortunate that in the Archdiocese of New York, under the leadership of Francis Cardinal Spellman, this growth had been anticipated and provisions made to accommodate these vast numbers of new pupils."

MOST SENSATIONAL DISCOVERY IN 40 YEARS FOR BETTER BAKING AND FRYING!

FIRST ALL-NEW SHORTENING!

It's RICH! It's YELLOW!

Procter & Gamble's Golden Fluffo

What a cake it makes!
'RICHER-LOOKING... BETTER-TASTING... MORE APPETIZING!

Yes, Fluffo cakes are the highest, lightest, most delicious golden-rich cakes you can possibly bake!

Why? Because fabulous, new, easy-to-mix Fluffo blends into smooth, rich batter never possible before with any other shortening! Glorifies yellow and chocolate cakes — gives delicate moist richness to your white cakes . . . yet leaves them white!

THIS BAKING CHAMPION OF ALL ALABAMA FAIR, Mrs. J. T. Portera, says:—

"You should see the white cake I made with this rich yellow shortening! Used my same old recipe—but changed from white shortening to Fluffo. My cake was absolutely wonderful—had such fine texture—tasted so rich! And still it was nice and white. And I used Fluffo in my icing. Talk about rich! This was the richest, easiest-spreading frosting I ever made!"

"No white shortening ever gave me a cake like this!" says this expert Southern cook who won prize blue ribbon for her baking.

Like cooking champions, you'll be truly excited about golden Fluffo! It gives you high, light, delicate cakes such as you've never been able to bake before . . . richer-looking and better-tasting, by far, than any you can get from white shortening!

That's because Fluffo is different! Even its color is different—yellow from pure carotene.

And Fluffo is such fun to work with! Use it in all your recipes that call for shortening—and see what happens! Without changing a single measurement, you'll get the flakiest, tenderest golden-brown pie-crust possible . . . wonderfully tender-crisp golden-brown fries that are so digestible!

Yet Fluffo costs no more than leading white shortenings! It's available in most areas. Get a can of Fluffo and use it for richer-looking, better-tasting cooking!

AMERICAN MENU

To Increase Milk Intake Try Enriched Mint Pudding

PEPPERMINT CANDY gives glamor to Choc-Mint pudding. And this dessert adds more milk to a child's diet.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

If you can't get your youngster to drink enough milk or if you yourself fail to get the recommended daily minimum, try enriching your recipes with instant nonfat dry milk.

Choc-Mint pudding features ¾ cup (one envelope) of instant nonfat dry milk powder with a package of instant chocolate pudding and finely crushed hard peppermint candy. This makes 4 servings. The amount of nonfat dry milk used is the equivalent of one quart of nonfat milk.

Choc-Mint Pudding
(Makes 4 servings)

One (4-ounce) package instant chocolate pudding, ¾ cup (1 envelope) instant nonfat dry milk powder, 1¾ cups cold water, ¾ cup finely crushed hard peppermint candy.

Combine pudding mix and instant nonfat dry milk powder in mixing bowl; add water. Beat with rotary beater or electric mixer until smooth, about 1 minute. Fold in candy. Pour into sherbet glasses. Chill.

Coconut Crisp (Makes 8 servings)

Three-quarters cup (1 envelope) instant nonfat dry milk powder, 1 (4-ounce) package coconut-flavored instant pudding, 2 cups water, 1 cup (15 crackers) graham cracker crumbs, ¼ cup brown sugar, firmly packed, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg, 2 tablespoons butter, melted.

Combine instant nonfat dry milk powder and instant pudding. Add water. Beat with rotary beater until blended, about 1 minute. Chill. Combine crumbs, brown sugar and spices. Add butter; stir until well blended. Press half of the crumb mixture firmly over bottom of a 8x8x2-inch square pan. Spoon pudding mixture over crumbs. Top with remaining crumb mixture. Chill about 2 hours.

Parochial Schools Enroll 195,000 For Coming Term

Approximately 195,000 pupils will be enrolled in the 410 Catholic elementary and secondary schools of the New York Archiocese at the beginning of the fall term, Monday, Sept. 12, it was announced by Very Rev. Rosendale

Rosendale, Aug. 30—Plans are being made for free chest X-rays to be taken in Rosendale Sept. 30 at the Grange Hall. The chest X-ray is free for residents over 15 years of age.

Due to the flood, no activities will take place at the Rosendale school playground under the summer recreation program. Such play equipment stored in the basement of the school was damaged by the water.

Thursday, Sept. 1, a bus will leave the Rosendale school at 9 a. m. to take the children to De-Witt Lake. A fishing contest will be held in the morning with prizes given for the largest fish, biggest string, the smallest fish and others. First prize is a gift certificate.

Other activities of the final day will include races, games, swimming and a picnic lunch. Anyone desiring to go should give their name to the director. Parents and friends are welcome to attend.

Reopening of the Rosendale Union Free School has been delayed until Sept. 12, due to the flood which affected the school, according to an announcement by the School Board. This extra time allows authorities to have the school cleaned and disinfected.

Town of Olive Reunion Slated For Labor Day

In 1908 when the residents of the upper Esopus valley were moving from their homes and scattering over a wide area as the great Ashokan reservoir project began to come to a close, Millard Davis, later to become assemblyman, called a meeting at Boiceville and it was there determined that on each Labor Day residents of the valley would gather to commemorate the days then vanishing.

Ever since on Labor Day, rainy days excepted, there has been held at Boiceville a reunion of former residents and their friends. At times the number is over two hundred as former neighbors gather from homes now hundred of miles away from the ancestrial homes.

THIS YEAR on Labor Day the Town of Olive reunion will again be held at Joe Friedberg's grove at Boiceville. As usual there will be the picnic lunches at noon with families gathering to renew old friendships and acquaintances. Pratt Boice, president of the association, will have a speaker to later address the group and Fred Russell, with his musicians, will furnish a program of music.

Olive Fire Company No. 3 will have its loud speaker system on the grounds to amplify the activities and refreshments will be served by members of the fire company as usual.

As the Boiceville reunion draws close to its half century mark, many of the older residents will not show up but younger members take their place as descendants, still interested in the town of Olive gathering to make new friendships.

PRATT BOICE, a former Olive resident, is president of the association; Mrs. Lottie Hesley is vice president and Elwyn C. Davis, the squire of West Shokan, is secretary-treasurer.

Discussing the Town of Olive picnic yesterday, President Boice recalled that when Millard Davis and Ben Churchill first planned the gathering back in 1908 and called the group together, few of the residents believed it would become such an important date to the former residents. "My sister, Mrs. Samuel Ware of Petersburgh, Virginia, will be there as she has always been, and there are many others who will come long distances to attend this historic picnic," said Boice.

The picnic, which usually gets under way shortly before noon with family groups gathering for a picnic lunch, will extend into the afternoon when the more formal program will be held, and old residents will have an opportunity to meet and greet friends and relatives they probably have not seen since Labor Day a year ago.

Rangoon, Burma, Aug. 31 (AP)—Forty armed bandits raided a village about 15 miles from Rangoon today. They killed three villagers and beat off police in a bitter gun battle. He was with Judge Loughran until November, 1942, at which time he returned to general practice with the firm of Napoletano, Kelly and Saccoman, located at that time in the Ruzzo Building on Fair street. The firm moved to its present location about 1947 or 1948.

They make their home at 165 Pearl street.

Mr. Kelly said today the appointment of Judge Cashin to the federal district bench was a great honor and a "fitting climax to a long and distinguished career—both at the bar and on the bench." He said the appointment was a "great personal tribute" to Judge Cashin and a signal honor to Ulster county.

Time Bomb Explosion

Nicosia, Cyprus, Aug. 31 (AP)—A time bomb exploded at divisional police headquarters here this mornnig, breaking windows and causing other damage to buildings. No one was reported injured. HE SAID the big companies buy many of the parts for their cars from independent manufacturers, then advertise them as "the genuine parts" for their vehicles in competition with identical parts offered for sale by the original manufacturer. He said the FTC ought to forbid that practice as false advertising.

And what's more, he said, "it is our studied opinion" that the big car makers buy from independent manufacturers at "discriminatory" prices far more parts than they need to produce their cars, and sell the others in competition with the independents.

Halfpenny said the FTC does ride close herd on the pricing practices of the independents. He said FTC has hit numbers of them with orders to cease price discriminations, but contended the orders were based more on lack of understanding of their merchandising problem than on actual violations.

He said the law itself is vague and the FTC "compounds confusion" by issuing orders that do not spell out just what practices it is forbidding. He said FTC should show more common sense, but that Congress also ought to clarify the law.

Followers . . .

Leaflets printed in advance were ready for distribution.

The crowds began to arrive in the Plaza soon after Di Pietro spoke. They chanted, sang and waved banners. Some hoisted an Argentine flag on the pole in the Plaza's center. Those nearest the government offices chanted "Peron, Peron."

The president arrived at his office in the Casa Rosada (Pink House) government headquarters on the Plaza at his usual early hour. It appeared that he was waiting for the crowd to grow big enough before stepping out on a balcony to address it.

There was no announcement of his resignation offer from his or any other government office.

Di Pietri warned the workers in his broadcast against violence and outsiders who might infiltrate the gatherings to provoke it.

The general public had no inkling of a crisis afoot until Di Pietri spoke. But in government and labor circles last night there was unusual activity.

Their ambitious carbuilding program is endangered by the scarcity of plates, which have been a tight steel item for months. They may have to cut back on their building program if the situation doesn't improve. And chances are it won't."

To date 28 applications for assistance have been received by the local chapter and 16 of these are for rehabilitation, ie., the repair and rebuilding of homes.

Contributions toward this work are needed and may be sent to the Chapter House at 308 Clinton avenue.

Successor Will

has become the focus for Nationalist feeling in the protectorate.

The French plans call for formation of a Moroccan government representing all factions by Sept. 12. This government would then negotiate with the French for reforms relaxing France's tight control of the territory.

FAURE'S PROGRAM also would allow Ben Youssef to leave Madagascar and live in France. In Morocco, a three-man "council of the throne" is to replace Ben Moulay Arafa as a regency, serving until a final settlement is worked out on Ben Youssef's future.

Grandval, who was received last night by Faure, said in a statement he was convinced his two months of work in Morocco "has not been useless."

"I believe that the policy of appeasement, of reconciliation and evolution, to which I attached all my efforts, will be followed and that it should succeed," he said.

"I ASK ALL those who have had the occasion to aid me in my efforts and of supporting me in this enterprise, to keep the faith and perservere in their tasks."

France and Tunisia, meanwhile, put into effect their new conventions officially granting that protectorate internal autonomy and home rule.

Faure and Tunisian Premier Tahar Ben Ammar exchanged documents attesting ratification of conventions negotiated and signed in the past year.

Under its new status, Tunisia gradually will take over its own internal administration, including police and judicial functions. France retains control of foreign relations and defense matters and to some extent Tunisia's monetary policies.

In a brief statement, Ben Ammar pledged his government's cooperation and continued friendship.

"We intend to follow the road of a policy working hand in hand with our French friends," he said.

Val Peterson, Federal Civil Defense administrator who is coordinating the government's relief and reconstruction work, and Wilton B. Persons and Jack Martin, White House liaison men with Congress, were to conduct the aid program review for the President.

PETERSON WAS due back here for the meeting from Hartford, Conn., where he has maintained a base of operations since last week.

Under an informal understanding with congressional leaders of both parties, the administration has made available up to 100 million dollars of army engineer corps funds to help reconstruct public facilities in the flooded areas. Through other agencies, it is providing food, loans, housing and health assistance to the homeless, farmers and small businessmen.

Defense industries also have had placed at their disposal up to 900 million dollars for loans to repair and replace factories swamped by flood waters.

IN OTHER developments in the flood story yesterday:

1. Federal Housing Administrator Norman P. Mason said he has set up a committee to devise some means of government help to establish flood insurance. He said that as things now stand private insurance companies regard the loss risk in insuring against flood damage as "too great to be spread, even over a wide base of a group of companies acting together."

2. The army engineers corps reported to the President in Denver that it was carrying on rehabilitation programs in 64 towns and cities in the flood zones and is pushing projects in 30 more communities.

3. The President, through yesterday, had provided initial grants of disaster aid of one million dollars each to Connecticut, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island and New Jersey, and $500,000 to parts of New York.

4. The internal revenue service disclosed it is preparing a special guide to tax reductions for people whose property was damaged or destroyed by the recent hurricanes and floods.

Decline Eating Invite

Houston, Tex., Aug. 31 (AP)—The Indian ambassador to the United States, slickly segregated at a swank airport restaurant here a week ago, declined the mayor's invitation to eat in the same place yesterday. The ambassador, Gaganvihari Lallubhai Mehta, and his secretary were asked to leave the public dining room of Horizon House, International Airport's main dining place, last week. They were whisked into a private dining room so deftly, witnesses said, that the distinguished pair never realized they were mistaken for Negroes.

Vienna, Austria, Aug. 31 (AP)—Prague radio announced today that Communist Czechoslovakia's President Antonin Zapotocky suffered a heart attack last night. School to Open Next Tuesday At Marbletown

The Marbletown Central School will open for a half day next Tuesday as the 1955-56 school year commences, it was announced today by Principal Merton A. Blanchard.

Buses will run on regular schedule the same as last year. School will be in full session on Wednesday with cafeteria open.

Mr. Blanchard said enrolment was expected to be at an all-time high. Last year there were about 410 children enrolled. The school was built originally for about 400 students.

An enrolment of 450 is a possibility, Mr. Blanchard said.

There will be two additions to the faculty this year, Mrs. Robert Hamm and Mrs. William Warren, both of High Falls. Mrs. Hamm will teach third grade and Mrs. Warren fifth grade.

Lawrence Savercool, who taught seventh grade last year, has taken a position as assistant manager of one of the Walter Reade Theaters in Kingston. Mrs. Edna L. K. Davis of Kingston, who taught fifth grade, retired at the end of the 1954-55 school year.

Engineers Survey Disaster Damage

New York, Aug. 31 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Samuel D. Sturgis, chief of the Army Corps of Engineers, is in the northeast today to survey damage and rehabilitation resulting from disastrous floods of nearly two weeks ago.

Before leaving Washington for New York yesterday, Sturgis said the corps had let 112 contracts totaling $3,250,000 for flood repairs in 64 towns of six states.

Two thirds of the work is being done in Connecticut, Massachusetts and Rhode Island, he said. The rest is in Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey.

Strugis estimated it will take six months to complete permanent repairs. The rehabilitation job is called "Operation Noah" by the engineers.

The army engineers' contracts provide for repair of sewers, streets, bridges, river channels, schools and other public buildings.

Town of Olive Reunion Slated For Labor Day

In 1908 when the residents of the upper Esopus valley were moving from their homes and scattering over a wide area as the great Ashokan reservoir project began to come to a close, Millard Davis, later to become assemblyman, called a meeting at Boiceville and it was there determined that on each Labor Day residents of the valley would gather to commemorate the days then vanishing.

Ever since on Labor Day, rainy days excepted, there has been held at Boiceville a reunion of former residents and their friends. At times the number is over two hundred as former neighbors gather from homes now hundred of miles away from the ancestrial homes.

THIS YEAR on Labor Day the Town of Olive reunion will again be held at Joe Friedberg's grove at Boiceville. As usual there will be the picnic lunches at noon with families gathering to renew old friendships and acquaintances. Pratt Boice, president of the association, will have a speaker to later address the group and Fred Russell, with his musicians, will furnish a program of music.

Olive Fire Company No. 3 will have its loud speaker system on the grounds to amplify the activities and refreshments will be served by members of the fire company as usual.

As the Boiceville reunion draws close to its half century mark, many of the older residents will not show up but younger members take their place as descendants, still interested in the town of Olive gathering to make new friendships.

PRATT BOICE, a former Olive resident, is president of the association; Mrs. Lottie Hesley is vice president and Elwyn C. Davis, the squire of West Shokan, is secretary-treasurer.

Discussing the Town of Olive picnic yesterday, President Boice recalled that when Millard Davis and Ben Churchill first planned the gathering back in 1908 and called the group together, few of the residents believed it would become such an important date to the former residents. "My sister, Mrs. Samuel Ware of Petersburgh, Virginia, will be there as she has always been, and there are many others who will come long distances to attend this historic picnic," said Boice.

The picnic, which usually gets under way shortly before noon with family groups gathering for a picnic lunch, will extend into the afternoon when the more formal program will be held, and old residents will have an opportunity to meet and greet friends and relatives they probably have not seen since Labor Day a year ago.

IN SEPTEMBER 1933, he began his practice with Arthur B. Ewig in offices on East Strand. In December, 1933, the firm of Cashin and Ewig was established at 460 Broadway and Mr. Kelly worked with the firm until about 1935.

He then opened his own office in the Whelan Building, practicing until the spring of 1938 when he became secretary to Judge Loughran. He was with Judge Loughran until November, 1942, at which time he returned to general practice with the firm of Napoletano, Kelly and Saccoman, located at that time in the Ruzzo Building on Fair street. The firm moved to its present location about 1947 or 1948.

They have two sons, Willliam H., 15, who will enter the sophomore class at Kingston High School in September, and John Terence, 13, who will enter the eighth grade at St. Joseph's School. They make their home at 165 Pearl street.

Mr. Kelly said today the appointment of Judge Cashin to the federal district bench was a great honor and a "fitting climax to a long and distinguished career—both at the bar and on the bench." He said the appointment was a "great personal tribute" to Judge Cashin and a signal honor to Ulster county.

HE SAID the big companies buy many of the parts for their cars from independent manufacturers, then advertise them as "the genuine parts" for their vehicles in competition with identical parts offered for sale by the original manufacturer. He said the FTC ought to forbid that practice as false advertising.

And what's more, he said, "it is our studied opinion" that the big car makers buy from independent manufacturers at "discriminatory" prices far more parts than they need to produce their cars, and sell the others in competition with the independents.

Halfpenny said the FTC does ride close herd on the pricing practices of the independents. He said FTC has hit numbers of them with orders to cease price discriminations, but contended the orders were based more on lack of understanding of their merchandising problem than on actual violations.

He said the law itself is vague and the FTC "compounds confusion" by issuing orders that do not spell out just what practices it is forbidding. He said FTC should show more common sense, but that Congress also ought to clarify the law.

Leaflets printed in advance were ready for distribution.

The crowds began to arrive in the Plaza soon after Di Pietro spoke. They chanted, sang and waved banners. Some hoisted an Argentine flag on the pole in the Plaza's center. Those nearest the government offices chanted "Peron, Peron."

The president arrived at his office in the Casa Rosada (Pink House) government headquarters on the Plaza at his usual early hour. It appeared that he was waiting for the crowd to grow big enough before stepping out on a balcony to address it.

There was no announcement of his resignation offer from his or any other government office.

Di Pietri warned the workers in his broadcast against violence and outsiders who might infiltrate the gatherings to provoke it.

The general public had no inkling of a crisis afoot until Di Pietri spoke. But in government and labor circles last night there was unusual activity.

The French plans call for formation of a Moroccan government representing all factions by Sept. 12. This government would then negotiate with the French for reforms relaxing France's tight control of the territory.

FAURE'S PROGRAM also would allow Ben Youssef to leave Madagascar and live in France. In Morocco, a three-man "council of the throne" is to replace Ben Moulay Arafa as a regency, serving until a final settlement is worked out on Ben Youssef's future.

"I ASK ALL those who have had the occasion to aid me in my efforts and of supporting me in this enterprise, to keep the faith and perservere in their tasks."

France and Tunisia, meanwhile, put into effect their new conventions officially granting that protectorate internal autonomy and home rule.

Faure and Tunisian Premier Tahar Ben Ammar exchanged documents attesting ratification of conventions negotiated and signed in the past year.

Under its new status, Tunisia gradually will take over its own internal administration, including police and judicial functions. France retains control of foreign relations and defense matters and to some extent Tunisia's monetary policies.

In a brief statement, Ben Ammar pledged his government's cooperation and continued friendship.

"We intend to follow the road of a policy working hand in hand with our French friends," he said.

Amputation Make Shigemitsu Great As Japan Leader

(By The Associated Press)

Mamoru Shigemitsu has come a long way since that day in November of 1948 when an international tribunal branded him "war criminal."

The dapper, one-legged little diplomat had signed the surrender for Japan. And to this ignominy was added the seven-year sentence of the tribunal.

The foreign minister of a rebuilding Japan, is telling U. S. officials that Japan must achieve full independence while maintaining its American ties.

Shigemitsu has been in the depths as well as at the heights before.

BORN IN July of 1887, Shigemitsu was graduated in 1911 from Tokyo University, a brilliant student in jurisprudence. He went immediately into the foreign service. He served in relatively minor posts in Germany, the United Kingdom and the United States.

He was minister to China in 1932 when disaster struck.

Shigemitsu was speaking at a rally in Shanghai. A Korean terrorist—the Koreans were agitating for independence from Japanese rule—threw a bomb that blasted the right leg of the diplomat. It had to be amputated.

THE BOMBING was fateful; it marked a turn for the better in Shigemitsu's career.

The military powers of Japan once had scant use for one of the most handsome and best dressed men in all Japan. They called Shigemitsu a "snobbish bureaucrat" . . . "dapper fool."

Then came the bomb, and the attitude of the military changed. Now he was a friend. Next year, Shigemitsu was vice minister for foreign affairs. Later he held the important ambassadorial posts in Moscow, London and Nanking.

Part of World War 2 he was foreign minister and as foreign minister of the surrender cabinet he limped aboard the battleship Missouri in Tokyo Bay and signed for Japan in September, 1945.

Shigemitsu was named foreign minister in the first cabinet under the occupation. But occupation authorities ordered him out of office as "undesirable." He was soon to stand in the dock before the tribunal.

IT IS NO secret that the United States prosecuted Shigemitsu with reluctance, mainly at the insistence of China and Russia. He had many American friends who felt he had only performed the duties of a diplomat.

At least, he came off with the lightest sentence of any of the major defendants and was out of prison on parole Nov. 21, 1950.

Shigemitsu worked ceaselessly with Conservatives in Japanese politics until today he is vice president of the Japan Democratic party.

IN ADDITION to the important portfolio of foreign minister, he is deputy prime minister — the righthand man of Prime Minister Ichiro Hatoyama.

Despite his successes, the memory of the war crimes trials still rankles. In one chapter of his memoirs he wrote "the military tribunal was conducted unilaterally by the victor against the vanquished on the premise Japan committed international crimes."

One of the purposes of his mission to Washington is to seek the release of all Japanese under U. S. jurisdiction who still are held as war criminals.

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

Remember the boy who lifted a new born calf, and said to himself: "If I lift the calf every day, I'll grow strong enough to lift it when it is a steer."

He learned better. The calf grew faster than he did. When a steer, no one could lift it.

That's a good illustration of the notion now widespread, and entertained by our last three Presidents, that our national wealth and income are increasing so fast that taxes and Government debt (Federal, State and local) will soon be an easy load to carry. The boy will grow faster than the calf. So they say!

Mr. Hutton

The record of 25 years proves them wrong.

What fools people are that they compare today's national income, in 50c dollars, with income when a dollar was a dollar.

But in dollars of the same purchasing power, Government debt has grown 386% since 1929; and taxes, 410%.

On the ability to lift-the-steer side of the question, National production has grown only approximately 98%; National wealth only about 21%, and population only 31%.

The per cent of all taxes we pay to all we produce is now nearly 28%; and unless we stop somewhere, by 1980 it will equal 50% of all we produce.

The Government, neighbor, isn't socializing our cows; just their milk.

"Please settle an argument on the correct way of playing the trump suit in this hand," requests a Minneapolis reader. "South ruffed the second club, took the ace of spades, and then led a spade to the king.

"The spades didn't break, as you see, so South lost a trump trick and failed to make the game. Somebody pointed out that South could have led the jack of spades for a finesse through West, thus avoiding the loss of a trump trick.

"This started the argument. Some said that South should not take a finesse with nine trumps in the combined hands. Others said that East's bid made a difference.

"We all agreed that South would have been better off in this particular hand if he had finessed. What we didn't agree on was what South should do as a general rule. Can you solve the problem for us?"

If neither opponent had bid, it would be correct for South to play the ace and king, wit' ut taking a finesse. This general rule is upset as soon as the bidding or play indicates unusual length in any suit in one of the opponents' hands. In this case, the bidding and the nature of the opening lead indicated that East started with seven clubs. For this reason, South should have taken the ace of spades and should then have led the jack of spades for a finesse through West.

You don't really have to be a mathematician to work this out. Just remember that East has only six cards outside of the club suit, whereas West has 10 such cards. You shouldn't expect the spades to break evenly when the distribution is known to be so unbalanced.

Bond to Address Farm Bureau

At a regular August budget meeting of the Ulster County Farm and Home Bureau and 4-H Club Association, held recently, Fred DuBois Jr., president, announced that Dr. Maurice Bond, director of extension in the State of New York, would be the main speaker at the annual meeting to be held Wednesday evening, Oct. 26, at the New Hurley Church hall.

Joseph Fitzsimmons of Woodstock was introduced as the supervisors' representative to the board of directors, replacing Frank Elliott, recently deceased.

Resolutions of sympathy and condolence were passed regarding the deaths of Mr. Elliott and Michael Moriello.

Revised budgets for 1955 and proposed budgets were presented by each deparament and accepted by the entire board of directors.

Plans were made for presenting the new constitution to be voted on at the annual meeting, which will complete the separation of the extension service from Farm and Home Bureau Federations. This is in line with the recent legislation passed in the state of New York.

Breach of Promise

Singapore (AP) — Six pretty Malay girl receptionists with easy smiles and charm are making travel more pleasant on the Malayan Railways. But trouble is brewing. The railway traffic operating union complains that the management had promised that present employes would have first choice when vacancies came to be filled. Instead, the union charges, the management broke that understanding by appointing the six girl receptionists at stations in Singapore and Kuala Lumpur "whose only connection with the railway was that they had probably traveled once or twice by train."

Amputation Make Shigemitsu Great As Japan Leader

(By The Associated Press)

Mamoru Shigemitsu has come a long way since that day in November of 1948 when an international tribunal branded him "war criminal."

The dapper, one-legged little diplomat had signed the surrender for Japan. And to this ignominy was added the seven-year sentence of the tribunal.

The foreign minister of a rebuilding Japan, is telling U. S. officials that Japan must achieve full independence while maintaining its American ties.

Shigemitsu has been in the depths as well as at the heights before.

BORN IN July of 1887, Shigemitsu was graduated in 1911 from Tokyo University, a brilliant student in jurisprudence. He went immediately into the foreign service. He served in relatively minor posts in Germany, the United Kingdom and the United States.

He was minister to China in 1932 when disaster struck.

Shigemitsu was speaking at a rally in Shanghai. A Korean terrorist—the Koreans were agitating for independence from Japanese rule—threw a bomb that blasted the right leg of the diplomat. It had to be amputated.

THE BOMBING was fateful; it marked a turn for the better in Shigemitsu's career.

The military powers of Japan once had scant use for one of the most handsome and best dressed men in all Japan. They called Shigemitsu a "snobbish bureaucrat" . . . "dapper fool."

Then came the bomb, and the attitude of the military changed. Now he was a friend. Next year, Shigemitsu was vice minister for foreign affairs. Later he held the important ambassadorial posts in Moscow, London and Nanking.

Part of World War 2 he was foreign minister and as foreign minister of the surrender cabinet he limped aboard the battleship Missouri in Tokyo Bay and signed for Japan in September, 1945.

Shigemitsu was named foreign minister in the first cabinet under the occupation. But occupation authorities ordered him out of office as "undesirable." He was soon to stand in the dock before the tribunal.

IT IS NO secret that the United States prosecuted Shigemitsu with reluctance, mainly at the insistence of China and Russia. He had many American friends who felt he had only performed the duties of a diplomat.

At least, he came off with the lightest sentence of any of the major defendants and was out of prison on parole Nov. 21, 1950.

Shigemitsu worked ceaselessly with Conservatives in Japanese politics until today he is vice president of the Japan Democratic party.

IN ADDITION to the important portfolio of foreign minister, he is deputy prime minister — the righthand man of Prime Minister Ichiro Hatoyama.

Despite his successes, the memory of the war crimes trials still rankles. In one chapter of his memoirs he wrote "the military tribunal was conducted unilaterally by the victor against the vanquished on the premise Japan committed international crimes."

One of the purposes of his mission to Washington is to seek the release of all Japanese under U. S. jurisdiction who still are held as war criminals.

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

Remember the boy who lifted a new born calf, and said to himself: "If I lift the calf every day, I'll grow strong enough to lift it when it is a steer."

He learned better. The calf grew faster than he did. When a steer, no one could lift it.

That's a good illustration of the notion now widespread, and entertained by our last three Presidents, that our national wealth and income are increasing so fast that taxes and Government debt (Federal, State and local) will soon be an easy load to carry. The boy will grow faster than the calf. So they say!

Mr. Hutton

The record of 25 years proves them wrong.

What fools people are that they compare today's national income, in 50c dollars, with income when a dollar was a dollar.

But in dollars of the same purchasing power, Government debt has grown 386% since 1929; and taxes, 410%.

Production Is Catching Up Rapidly

Quality of Ships Reported Good

Boston, Aug. 31 (AP)—Gen. Nathan F. Twining warned today that a "flood of aircraft streaming from the aviation arsenals of the Soviet Union holds far more potential danger than the mightiest hurricane."

The air force chief of staff said the United States today is "well ahead in the kind of air power the Soviets respect." But he cautioned that Russian aircraft production is catching up fast not only in quantity but in quality.

"IF WE DO LET the Reds catch up in air power," Twining declared, "you may be certain that a Soviet attack would be more likely than it is now."

The air general, in a speech prepared for the national encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW), reported on progress by the U. S. Air Force.

He said the "battle for preparedness is getting harder instead of easier," and that the nation is still almost two years away from the 137-wing goal set for the air force in 1953.

TWINING said the radar warning line along the U. S.-Canadian boundary is now complete and that work is well under way on a mid-Canada line. But he said the "DEW" or Distant Early Warning line in the Arctic is just getting started.

The general said it will be another year before the Air Defense Command gets supersonic interceptors capable of destroying enemy aircraft with guided missiles.

However, he said U. S. air defense is strong enough so "we can now promise to destroy so many of them (enemy bombers) that an aggressor would have to gamble on losing a high proportion of his attacking force."

AS FOR offensive power, Twining said both strategic and tactical air commands, now poised on bases that almost circle the globe, "could strike an aggressor from almost any direction" with either atomic or conventional weapons.

He described the B52 as "the best jet bomber in the world today," adding that as a result of a recently-ordered speedup in production, the strategic air command will be equipped with these heavy bombers one full year ahead of previously planned schedules.

Twining said the tactical air command has developed to a point where it is now possible to meet large or small challenges almost anywhere in the world.

Twining reported that combat wings of the tactical force are now completely jet equipped and that the first of the supersonic fighters, the F100 Super-Saber, is now going to tactical units "in effective numbers."

He also said the tactical force recently activated a third Matador guided missile wing.

Bus Drivers Strike

Paris, Aug. 31 (AP) — Pedestrians and private cars jammed Paris streets today as the city's bus drivers went on strike. Only one bus in a hundred was operating at midmorning. Subways were not affected. The bus drivers and conductors struck to back demands that a special monthly bonus awarded them be made retroactive to Jan. 1. Pay slips distributed Monday night showed the city-owned transport company was making the bonus retroactive to June 1.

Last Flames of Whiting Fire Are Extinguished

Whiting, Ind., Aug. 31 (AP)—The last flames of the 3½-day fire at the Standard Oil Co. (Indiana) refinery were extinguished last night.

Two persons were killed and 45 were injured in the inferno touched off by the explosion of a giant gasoline cracking still early Saturday. Standard estimated its loss in excess of 10 million dollars.

Most of the 1,700 persons evacuated from homes near the refinery Saturday have been allowed to go back.

The company has kept its entire work force of 8,000 busy combatting the fire and starting repairs. Standard hopes to have the 90 per cent of the plant not damaged by the fire in full operation within two weeks.

Sentenced for Assault

Baltimore, Aug. 31 (AP)—A 33-year-old veteran of 15 years military service was sentenced to three years in prison yesterday for assaulting and kicking his 4-year-old son. Judge Joseph L. Carter imposed the sentence on Cpl. Paul Anthony Mihalik, a military policeman originally from West Brownsville, Pa., but more recently of Baltimore and the Aberdeen, Md., Proving Ground. Mihalik was charged with kicking his son Wayne, and his daughter Marlene, 5, on July 19. The Mihaliks have six children.

Washington, Aug. 31 (AP)—Sen. Carlson (R-Kan.) called today for a Senate investigation of reports that South Korea is subjecting U. S. businessmen to discriminatory taxes and threatening to keep them from leaving Korea until they pay.

Gloria Decides To Take $16,000

New York, Aug. 31 (AP)—Little Gloria Lockerman has taken her $16,000 winnings and passed up a chance to spell her way to more wealth on "The $64,000 Question" television show.

Here's the way she figured it wouldn't be wise to try for $32,000:

"FOR SUCH a big amount of money it would be a hard question. It would be a jumble of words I never heard of, and then I'd be lost. I thought the sensible thing to do was to stop where I was. I'd rather go away and be Gloria the undefeated champion than Gloria the girl who lost.

"Besides," the 12-year-old Negro schoolgirl from Baltimore told newsmen after the CBS program last night, "it's $16,000 more than I started out with."

THE GIRL will net about $11,600 after federal income taxes, according to best estimates. She received $500 to use as she wishes, and Master of Ceremonies Hal March said the rest of the money will be put into a trust fund for her education.

Marine Corps Capt. Richard S. McCutchen of Worthington, Ohio, reached the $16,000 mark last night in his quiz category of cooking and foods. He named the flours and geographical origins of five kinds of bread.

McCutchen, who is assigned as a naval reserve officers training corps instructor at Ohio State University at Columbus, will return to the program next Tuesday to announce whether he will try then for $32,000 or settle for the $16,000 he has won.

Feud Ends in Death

Manhasset, N. Y., Aug. 31 (AP)—Edward A. Ducasse, 38, who climaxed a long-standing feud by shooting at his next-door neighbor and was in turn felled by a policeman's bullet, died yesterday. Ducasse had quarreled with his neighbor, James E. Murray Jr., for years, police said, and had recently been particularly annoyed by a fence Murray built. Shortly before the shooting Ducasse sold his home and was to move out within the next three days.

TWINING said the radar warning line along the U. S.-Canadian boundary is now complete and that work is well under way on a mid-Canada line. But he said the "DEW" or Distant Early Warning line, in the Arctic is just getting started.

The general said it will be another year before the Air Defense Command gets supersonic interceptors capable of destroying enemy aircraft with guided missiles.

However, he said U. S. air defense is strong enough so "we can now promise to destroy so many of them (enemy bombers) that an aggressor would have to gamble on losing a high proportion of his attacking force."

AS FOR offensive power, Twining said both strategic and tactical air commands, now poised on bases that almost circle the globe, "could strike an aggressor from almost any direction" with either atomic or conventional weapons.

He described the B52 as "the best jet bomber in the world today," adding that as a result of a recently-ordered speedup in production, the strategic air command will be equipped with these heavy bombers one full year ahead of previously planned schedules.

Twining said the tactical air command has developed to a point where it is now possible to meet large or small challenges almost anywhere in the world.

Twining reported that combat wings of the tactical force are now completely jet equipped and that the first of the supersonic fighters, the F100 Super-Saber, is now going to tactical units "in effective numbers."

He also said the tactical force recently activated a third Matador guided missile wing.

Bus Drivers Strike

Paris, Aug. 31 (AP) — Pedestrians and private cars jammed Paris streets today as the city's bus drivers went on strike. Only one bus in a hundred was operating at midmorning. Subways were not affected. The bus drivers and conductors struck to back demands that a special monthly bonus awarded them be made retroactive to Jan. 1. Pay slips distributed Monday night showed the city-owned transport company was making the bonus retroactive to June 1.

West Hurley School

The West Hurley School will open for a full day session on Wednesday, September 7. There will be a superintendent's meeting for teachers on Tuesday at 9 a. m., at the Onteora Central School.

Last Flames of Whiting Fire Are Extinguished

Whiting, Ind., Aug. 31 (AP)—The last flames of the 3½-day fire at the Standard Oil Co. (Indiana) refinery were extinguished last night.

Two persons were killed and 45 were injured in the inferno touched off by the explosion of a giant gasoline cracking still early Saturday. Standard estimated its loss in excess of 10 million dollars.

Most of the 1,700 persons evacuated from homes near the refinery Saturday have been allowed to go back.

The company has kept its entire work force of 8,000 busy combatting the fire and starting repairs. Standard hopes to have the 90 per cent of the plant not damaged by the fire in full operation within two weeks.

Sentenced for Assault

Baltimore, Aug. 31 (AP)—A 33-year-old veteran of 15 years military service was sentenced to three years in prison yesterday for assaulting and kicking his 4-year-old son. Judge Joseph L. Carter imposed the sentence on Cpl. Paul Anthony Mihalik, a military policeman originally from West Brownsville, Pa., but more recently of Baltimore and the Aberdeen, Md., Proving Ground. Mihalik was charged with kicking his son Wayne, and his daughter Marlene, 5, on July 19. The Mihaliks have six children.

Calls for Probe

Washington, Aug. 31 (AP)—Sen. Carlson (R-Kan.) called today for a Senate investigation of reports that South Korea is subjecting U. S. businessmen to discriminatory taxes and threatening to keep them from leaving Korea until they pay.

Gloria Decides To Take $16,000

New York, Aug. 31 (AP)—Little Gloria Lockerman has taken her $16,000 winnings and passed up a chance to spell her way to more wealth on "The $64,000 Question" television show.

Here's the way she figured it wouldn't be wise to try for $32,000:

"FOR SUCH a big amount of money it would be a hard question. It would be a jumble of words I never heard of, and then I'd be lost. I thought the sensible thing to do was to stop where I was. I'd rather go away and be Gloria the undefeated champion than Gloria the girl who lost.

"Besides," the 12-year-old Negro schoolgirl from Baltimore told newsmen after the CBS program last night, "it's $16,000 more than I started out with."

THE GIRL will net about $11,600 after federal income taxes, according to best estimates. She received $500 to use as she wishes, and Master of Ceremonies Hal March said the rest of the money will be put into a trust fund for her education.

Marine Corps Capt. Richard S. McCutchen of Worthington, Ohio, reached the $16,000 mark last night in his quiz category of cooking and foods. He named the flours and geographical origins of five kinds of bread.

McCutchen, who is assigned as a naval reserve officers training corps instructor at Ohio State University at Columbus, will return to the program next Tuesday to announce whether he will try then for $32,000 or settle for the $16,000 he has won.

Jamaica's central mountains have a red soil which is rich in bauxite, ore from which aluminum is made.

Feud Ends in Death

Manhasset, N. Y., Aug. 31 (AP)—Edward A. Ducasse, 38, who climaxed a long-standing feud by shooting at his next-door neighbor and was in turn felled by a policeman's bullet, died yesterday. Ducasse had quarreled with his neighbor, James E. Murray Jr., for years, police said, and had recently been particularly annoyed by a fence Murray built. Shortly before the shooting Ducasse sold his home and was to move out within the next three days.

Ancient Chickens

SENDING SON'S FRIENDS HOME

A mother writes: "Will you please tell me how we can get our son's young friends to go home at a reasonable hour? We have a finished basement in our house and our son's friends—boys and girls both—come here often and dance to the victrola. I'm delighted to have them come and they are always welcome but they never seem to want to go home. Would it be proper for my husband or me to go down at a certain hour and tell them to go home, or is there a more tactful way to handle this situation?"

I think if you go down with very light refreshments about the time for them to go home, as they finish you can certainly stop the music and say goodnight to them.

Mrs. or Miss

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it ever correct for a woman who has been married and later divorced and who had her maiden name restored at the time she got her divorce, to thereafter use the title Miss? I contend that after having once been married, it is not correct ever to use the title Miss again even though she has been granted permission by the court to use her maiden name. Will you please tell me if I am right as this is causing a good deal of argument in my family?

Answer: You are right. One who has been married cannot possibly be called "Miss" in other than her professional or business life. Socially she must be "Mrs."

Stationery for Widow

Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to give my sister some stationery for a present. Will you please tell me the correct way to have it marked? She is a widow. Shall I use her husband's name or her own given name?

Answer: She remains Mrs. Husband's name.

Letter writing begins with the proper stationery for the occasion and ends with the proper wording. To help you write notes of various kinds Mrs. Post's booklet No. 502 is available. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 25 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Speaking Is Punishment

Pasadena, Calif., Aug. 31 (AP)—A 26-year-old physical education instructor, who U. S. Forest Service officials say accidentally started a $500,000 forest fire with a camp stove, yesterday was ordered to make 20 public talks on fire safety as a condition of probation. Municipal Judge Richard C. Fildew also fined Bernard V. Buck $100, suspending a six-month county jail sentence. Buck pleaded guilty to a charge of violating county fire ordinances.

To fill the demands of modern decor, the photo workshop is on the band wagon in putting fine pictures back on living room and bedroom walls. What can add more warmth to your home than portraits of your loved ones? A picture of your home at Christmas time or the family at Thanksgiving, or your spaniel with his ears perked up recalls those happiest moments in your household.

We sell pictures, of course, but more than that, we sell imagination in photography.

Won't you come in and visit?

Fashion Coordinator Arrives Here To Prepare 'Fashion Week at Wards'

Miss Rita Perna of New York, fashion coordinator for Montgomery Ward & Co. arrived in Kingston today to complete final plans for the most comprehensive presentation of women's fashions in the history of the local store.

"Fashion Week at Wards" will begin Tuesday and continue throughout the week with special events in the store each day of interest to Kingston women, in addition to a fashion show Thursday, Sept, 8, 8:15 p. m., in the George Washington School auditorium.

V. R. Burns, manager of the local store, in announcing the arrival of Miss Perna, said that the Kingston store is the first in the country to be selected for the concentrated fashion week. He added that each piece of merchandise in the showing will be fresh from the New York market and representative of the fabrics, designs and style trends for the fall and winter seasons.

Miss Perna joined Wards fashion staff last year with a comprehensive background of experience in the fashion world as well as in the field of fashion education. She has taught courses in fashion trends, color and design, fashion coordination and publicity, and textiles at New York University, and presently is a guest lecturer there.

Miss Perna majored in art and education at New Rochelle College and earned her master's degree in those subjects at Columbia Teachers College. After leaving school, she entered the teaching field and served as art instructor at New Rochelle College, and several other New York schools.

When she entered the business world, she followed in the footsteps of her father, who is a designer and former clothing manufacturer. Together they were among the first Americans to explore the fashion market in Paris after the close of World War 2. Right before joining Wards, Miss Perna was fashion coordinator for Abraham and Strauss in Brooklyn.

Miss Perna is often referred to by Ward officials as the firm's "fashion conscience." She not only works with buyers in determining the fashion trends, but also maintains constant communication with the fashion heads in Wards stores to keep them informed of the new and developing trends in the fashion world.

Pasadena, Calif., Aug. 31 (AP)—A 26-year-old physical education instructor, who U. S. Forest Service officials say accidentally started a $500,000 forest fire with a camp stove, yesterday was ordered to make 20 public talks on fire safety as a condition of probation. Municipal Judge Richard C. Fildew also fined Bernard V. Buck $100, suspending a six-month county jail sentence. Buck pleaded guilty to a charge of violating county fire ordinances.

Modern photography is building a new concept called Speed-light Photography. Glaring heat from floodlights is eliminated, and a brief flash is substituted to catch those precious, fleeting expressions of children that could never be recorded with floodlights.

To fill the demands of modern decor, the photo workshop is on the band wagon in putting fine pictures back on living room and bedroom walls. What can add more warmth to your home than portraits of your loved ones? A picture of your home at Christmas time or the family at Thanksgiving, or your spaniel with his ears perked up recalls those happiest moments in your household.

We sell pictures, of course, but more than that, we sell imagination in photography.

Kesselring Points Out Mistakes of Hitler, Churchill

Washington, Aug. 31 (AP)—Former Field Marshal Albert Kesselring said Tuesday Hitler could have successfully invaded Britain but that the Nazi Fuehrer "did not want to destroy the British Navy or the British Empire."

Kesselring declared in a copyrighted interview with the magazine U. S. News & World report that Hitler "had a curious predilection for the British." Kesselring said that on one occasion during World War 2 he reported to Hitler on British feats of arms, Hitler commented, "Of course, they are Germanic people too."

Kesselring, interviewed at Bad Oeynhausen, Germany, said Hitler kept thinking the British would make peace. But Hitler, he said, did not really understand the British and offended them with his offer to protect the empire. The former German officer said:

"CHURCHILL said 'No!' as only Churchill could say it. 'No!'. Ha. That was Churchill's biggest mistake. He should have made peace at the latest by 1943. That is the only way Stalin could have been kept out of Europe."

In the interview published Tuesday Kesselring said a properly prepared invasion of Britain up to the middle of August 1940 would have succeeded and that there was a further chance even later. But in addition to Hitler's feeling about Britain, he said, the German navy wanted more air support than the Luftwaffe could provide.

KESSELRING LISTED as other mistakes which led to German defeat:

1. Failure to launch "full industrial mobilization immediately the war started in 1939."
2. Failure to produce a Messerschmidt jet fighter in 1943 in enough quantity to stop the allied bombing offensive and to go into early quantity production of a four-engine bomber.
3. Failure to attack more vigorously the British evacuation from Dunkerque to Great Britain.
4. Failure to get an advance Japanese commitment to attack Siberia when Germany invaded Russia.
5. Failure to permit more flexible operations in Russia.
6. Failure to concentrate troops quickly against the allied beachhead in Normandy.
7. Lack of coordination with the Japanese and Italians.

Kesselring criticized American and allied strategy in Italy, saying it "made it easy" to fight a long delaying action.

The former marshal said the much-debated frontal attack across the Rapido "should never have been made." Without naming Gen. Mark W. Clark, the American commander, Kesselring said that if one of his subordinates had ordered such an attack, "I would not have treated him very politely."

New Homes Ready Near Woodstock

New medium priced ranch type homes are now being built at Woodstock Park on the former Eignor and Greco properties, located in a scenic Woodstock area just off Route 375, between West Hurley and Woodstock. These homes are located on an 85 acre tract.

Those who have already moved in are the John Bennetts, the Richard Braens and the John Murdocks and others have negotiated purchases and will shortly take possession.

Each of the homes are set on a wooded plot of an acre or more and are of the ranch type with three bedrooms atnd large cedar lined closets. The living room is 26 feet long and each house has one and a half baths.

Joseph Mecca, Joseph Schiavone and Edward Schrader, builders of homes in the Newburgh area, saw the possibilities of the area and purchased the tract. They intend to continue erecting homes in the park.

William Engelen, realtor, of 68 Main street, who is the exclusive agent selling these houses, said he finds a great demand for homes of this type in this desirable area.

SCOLDS—White House Aide E. Frederic Morrow took the nation's 16 million Negroes to task, declaring they should spend more of their 15-billion-dollar income in the fight for civil rights and spend less on "whisky, furs, cosmetics, cars and other items of luxury." He spoke at the annual convention of the Improved Benevolent Protective Order of the Elks of the World, at Atlantic City, N.J.

Kesselring Points Out Mistakes of Hitler, Churchill

Washington, Aug. 31 (AP)—Former Field Marshal Albert Kesselring said Tuesday Hitler could have successfully invaded Britain but that the Nazi Fuehrer "did not want to destroy the British Navy or the British Empire."

Kesselring declared in a copyrighted interview with the magazine U. S. News & World report that Hitler "had a curious predilection for the British." Kesselring said that on one occasion during World War 2 he reported to Hitler on British feats of arms, Hitler commented, "Of course, they are Germanic people too."

Kesselring, interviewed at Bad Oeynhausen, Germany, said Hitler kept thinking the British would make peace. But Hitler, he said, did not really understand the British and offended them with his offer to protect the empire. The former German officer said:

"CHURCHILL said 'No!' as only Churchill could say it. 'No!'. Ha. That was Churchill's biggest mistake. He should have made peace at the latest by 1943. That is the only way Stalin could have been kept out of Europe."

In the interview published Tuesday Kesselring said a properly prepared invasion of Britain up to the middle of August 1940 would have succeeded and that there was a further chance even later. But in addition to Hitler's feeling about Britain, he said, the German navy wanted more air support than the Luftwaffe could provide.

KESSELRING LISTED as other mistakes which led to German defeat:

1. Failure to launch "full industrial mobilization immediately the war started in 1939."
2. Failure to produce a Messerschmidt jet fighter in 1943 in enough quantity to stop the allied bombing offensive and to go into early quantity production of a four-engine bomber.
3. Failure to attack more vigorously the British evacuation from Dunkerque to Great Britain.
4. Failure to get an advance Japanese commitment to attack Siberia when Germany invaded Russia.
5. Failure to permit more flexible operations in Russia.
6. Failure to concentrate troops quickly against the allied beachhead in Normandy.
7. Lack of coordination with the Japanese and Italians.

Kesselring criticized American and allied strategy in Italy, saying it "made it easy" to fight a long delaying action.

The former marshal said the much-debated frontal attack across the Rapido "should never have been made." Without naming Gen. Mark W. Clark, the American commander, Kesselring said that if one of his subordinates had ordered such an attack, "I would not have treated him very politely."

New Homes Ready Near Woodstock

New medium priced ranch type homes are now being built at Woodstock Park on the former Eignor and Greco properties, located in a scenic Woodstock area just off Route 375, between West Hurley and Woodstock. These homes are located on an 85 acre tract.

Those who have already moved in are the John Bennetts, the Richard Braens and the John Murdocks and others have negotiated purchases and will shortly take possession.

Each of the homes are set on a wooded plot of an acre or more and are of the ranch type with three bedrooms atnd large cedar lined closets. The living room is 26 feet long and each house has one and a half baths.

Joseph Mecca, Joseph Schiavone and Edward Schrader, builders of homes in the Newburgh area, saw the possibilities of the area and purchased the tract. They intend to continue erecting homes in the park.

William Engelen, realtor, of 68 Main street, who is the exclusive agent selling these houses, said he finds a great demand for homes of this type in this desirable area.

SCOLDS — White House Aide E. Frederic Morrow took the nation's 16 million Negroes to task, declaring they should spend more of their 15-billion-dollar income in the fight for civil rights and spend less on "whisky, furs, cosmetics, cars and other items of luxury." He spoke at the annual convention of the Improved Benevolent Protective Order of the Elks of the World, at Atlantic City, N.J.

Jones Dairy Cops Twi Half as Bowlodrome Stops Nadler

Dates for Series To Be Announced

City League
(Second Half Finals)

Nadler Motors	2	2

Jones Dairy backed into the second half pennant in the City Baseball League yesterday, thanks to an assist from an unexpected quarter.

Ferraro's Bowlodrome, winners of only one game during the season, reared up and eliminated the last contender with a 5-2 decision over Nadler Motors in another of those 4½-inning specialties.

YOUNG JOHNNY Acker mesmerized the Motormen on five hits, walked five and struck out five to gain the decision over Torm Larsen and Chuck Engle. It was another outstanding pitching stint by the East Kingston hurler.

The Nadler loss gave every team but the Dairymen at least two setbacks. Yesterday's game terminated regular activities for the season. Dates for the best of three championship series between Jones Dairy and New York Panthers will be announced later.

The inspired bowling alley tossers cinched the victory with three run rally in the bottom of the fourth. Schoonmaker and John Burris belted singles to sandwich consecutive doubles by Don Herzog and Don Whitten off Engle.

NADLERS SPLICED singles by Ward Dunham, Larsen and Joe Gardner to go ahead 1-0 in the second. The Bowlodrome bounced back with two in their half when John Mustion singled, Angie Fondino tripled and Herzog dropped a perfect squeeze bunt.

The Motormen tied it at 2-2 in the third as Don Lyons walked, moved to third on Chuck Engle's single and scored on Dunham's sacrifice fly.

Subway Grill-Rapp's Playoff Set Today for National Title

Hasbrouck Park Is Battle Site

Subway Grill and Rapp's Express clash this evening at Hasbrouck Park in a single game playoff for the City Softball League's National division crown.

Probable starters are Al Hunt or Tom Spada for Subways against the Expressmen's Jim Massuccio.

The teams finished the regular season with identical records of 21 wins and 3 losses. In seasonal competition between the clubs, Rapp's held a 2-1 edge.

IN ANOTHER contest today, Perry's American division champions, will meet Chez Emile at Block Park in the continuation of a protested contest.

Should the Grillmen win, and they are leading 1-0, Chez will drop to third place in the American loop. A victory by Chezzies will tie them for second place with the Destroyer A. C. and necessitate a playoff for that spot.

The league has set up an elaborate Shaughnessy playoff system this season, with the winners of the two divisions to engage in a best of seven series to determine the city title.

EACH DIVISION will conduct a Shaughnessy playoff within the division with the 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th place teams involved in a best of three series. The two divisional champions will engage in a best of seven series.

Playoffs are scheduled to start next week.

In the only league action yesterday, the American champion Perry's knocked off the American Legion, 5-3, as Joe Venuti spun a five-hitter.

A four-run rally in the fourth off Tom Rizzi settled the issue. Bob Graves hit a triple for Perry's and Joe Fautz had one for the Legion. Moll Leonard of the Legion hit two singles.

LL Playoff Canceled

Any hopes of a city Little League playoff tournament have been squashed, LL officials said today.

The late finish in the Jaycee league and the weekend Moose Small Fry tournament are squeezed too tightly together to permit a playoff between the National, American and Jaycee season champs.

The Jaycee circuit is scheduled to finish tomorrow night. The Small Fry tourney begins Saturday.

Small Fry Nines Card Practices

The Moose Lodge Small Fry Reds and Whites will hold final practice at Little League Stadium on Thursday at 6 p. m. The Moose Whites are requested to report at Ross Field, Port Ewen, Thursday at 6 p. m.

Jackson 2-1 Over Charles

Cleveland, Aug. 31 (AP) — Ezzard Charles, confident he can win and stay in the heavyweight title picture, may be a 2-1 underdog in his televised return match with windmill-swinging Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson tonight.

The 10 round bout in Cleveland Arena between the 34-year-old ex-champion, who is trying a comeback, and the rising, 24-year-old Jackson will be carried nationally at 10 p. m., Eastern Daylight Time, on ABC radio and television networks.

Jackson, now third-ranking contender for Rocky Marciano's title, upset Charles by a unanimous decision at Syracuse, N. Y., several weeks ago. The odds in the first fight favored Charles 3-1.

SPORTS

By Charles J. Tiano
Sports Editor

With the Little League and PONY national baseball tournaments out of the way, the City of Kingston becomes the hub of junior baseball in the eastern sector of the country over the weekend.

While the local Loyal Order of Moose is host to 20 teams in the third annual New York State Moose Lodge Small Fry playoffs, the Fraternal Youth League All Stars will be vieing for their second straight National Junior baseball title at Bridgeport, Conn.

Regardless of the fate of the three city entries in the Small Fry tourney and the FYL stars at Bridgeport, the city of Kingston should feel proud of these promotions.

But the greatest credit and glory belongs to that small group of individuals who make these teams and promotions possible. In each case the city reaps excellent publicity and, in the Small Fry operation, a substantial boost in weekend business. More than 300 boys, coaches, league officials, families and friends will descend on Kingston and spend a lot of money here. The local Moose Lodge will be lucky to clear expenses.

Remember that the next time you are asked to contribute your services as an umpire, official, manager or coach. And you beg off claiming you haven't got time.

• The Tenpin Trail:

Bowling is just around the corner, with most leagues swinging into action next week. Big news out of Poughkeepsie is that Bob Hoe, owner of the Mardi-Bob bowling alleys, has purchased the Academy Bowling Center on Academy street. Armand "Army" Happel, who has been asociated with several Poughkeepsie alleys and the former Ruzzo Bowlatorium in Kingston, is general manager of the combined operations. Charlie DeStefano, the popular Bridge City golfer, will serve as assistant manager at Mardi-Bob, with Freddie Dahn, one-time Poughkeepsie baseball and bowling ace, will be second in command at the Academy Center. . . . IBM reported taking over the Ferraro Bowlodrome for a 20-team league. . . . George Palmateer reports from Poughkeepsie that bowlers will be pleasantly surprised when they walk into the Dutchess Recreation alleys. The place is a virtual pin palace, now that renovations have been completed. The Levine family, by the way, recently purchased 40 new alleys. Plans are being made to build an establishment in Connecticut.

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

Ray Billows, perennial favorite at Dutchess Country Club, led qualifiers for the club championship with a par 70. Dutchess qualified 80 players in five flights. That should answer the question of whether or not a golf club should conduct a qualifying round for its annual championships. Navy coach Eddie Erdelatz, ghosting for NEA, picks Army as the team to watch in the East this season. The NEA's probable All-East squad for 1955 follows: Ends—Ron Beagle, Navy, and Paul Lopata, Yale; tackles—John Miller, Boston College, and Ralph Chesnauska, Army; guards—Bill Meigs, Harvard, and Jim Buonopane, Holy Cross; center—John Cenci, Pitt; quarterback—George Welsh, Navy; halfbacks—Lenny Moore, Penn State, and Royce Flippin, Princeton; fullback—Pat Uebel, Army.

Basilio Wants Bobo Olson

Alexandria Bay, Aug. 31 (AP) — Welterweight champion Carmen Basilio wants to take on Bobo Olson, the middleweight titleholder, after defending his welter crown against Sugar Ray Robinson Nov. 5.

Basilio issued the challenge yesterday. He is training here for a non-title bout with Gil Turner at the War Memorial Auditorium in Syracuse Sept. 7.

Joe Nitro, Basilio's co-manager, plans to negotiate with Jim Norris, head of the International Boxing Club, for a match with Olson in January or February.

Pat Preston, athletic director at Wake Forest, is a former all-time athletic great at the University and played pro football with the Chicago Bears.

Jackson 2-1 Over Charles

Cleveland, Aug. 31 (AP) — Ezzard Charles, confident he can win and stay in the heavyweight title picture, may be a 2-1 underdog in his televised return match with windmill-swinging Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson tonight.

The 10 round bout in Cleveland Arena between the 34-year-old ex-champion, who is trying a comeback, and the rising, 24-year-old Jackson will be carried nationally at 10 p. m., Eastern Daylight Time, on ABC radio and television networks.

Jackson, now third-ranking contender for Rocky Marciano's title, upset Charles by a unanimous decision at Syracuse, N. Y., several weeks ago. The odds in the first fight favored Charles 3-1.

LL Playoff Canceled

Any hopes of a city Little League playoff tournament have been squashed, LL officials said today.

The late finish in the Jaycee league and the weekend Moose Small Fry tournament are squeezed too tightly together to permit a playoff between the National, American and Jaycee season champs.

The Jaycee circuit is scheduled to finish tomorrow night. The Small Fry tourney begins Saturday.

Small Fry Nines Card Practices

The Moose Lodge Small Fry Reds and Whites will hold final practice at Little League Stadium on Thursday at 6 p. m. The Moose Whites are requested to report at Ross Field, Port Ewen, Thursday at 6 p. m.

With the Little League and PONY national baseball tournaments out of the way, the City of Kingston becomes the hub of junior baseball in the eastern sector of the country over the weekend.

While the local Loyal Order of Moose is host to 20 teams in the third annual New York State Moose Lodge Small Fry playoffs, the Fraternal Youth League All Stars will be vieing for their second straight National Junior baseball title at Bridgeport, Conn.

Regardless of the fate of the three city entries in the Small Fry tourney and the FYL stars at Bridgeport, the city of Kingston should feel proud of these promotions.

But the greatest credit and glory belongs to that small group of individuals who make these teams and promotions possible. In each case the city reaps excellent publicity and, in the Small Fry operation, a substantial boost in weekend business. More than 300 boys, coaches, league officials, families and friends will descend on Kingston and spend a lot of money here. The local Moose Lodge will be lucky to clear expenses.

Remember that the next time you are asked to contribute your services as an umpire, official, manager or coach. And you beg off claiming you haven't got time.

● The Tenpin Trail:

Bowling is just around the corner, with most leagues swinging into action next week. Big news out of Poughkeepsie is that Bob Hoe, owner of the Mardi-Bob bowling alleys, has purchased the Academy Bowling Center on Academy street. Armand "Army" Happel, who has been asociated with several Poughkeepsie alleys and the former Ruzzo Bowlatorium in Kingston, is general manager of the combined operations. Charlie DeStefano, the popular Bridge City golfer, will serve as assistant manager at Mardi-Bob, with Freddie Dahn, one-time Poughkeepsie baseball and bowling ace, will be second in command at the Academy Center. . . . IBM reported taking over the Ferraro Bowlodrome for a 20-team league. . . . George Palmateer reports from Poughkeepsie that bowlers will be pleasantly surprised when they walk into the Dutchess Recreation alleys. The place is a virtual pin palace, now that renovations have been completed. The Levine family, by the way, recently purchased 40 new alleys. Plans are being made to build an establishment in Connecticut.

● Flotsam and Jetsam:

Ray Billows, perennial favorite at Dutchess Country Club, led qualifiers for the club championship with a par 70. Dutchess qualified 80 players in five flights. That should answer the question of whether or not a golf club should conduct a qualifying round for its annual championships. Navy coach Eddie Erdelatz, ghosting for NEA, picks Army as the team to watch in the East this season. The NEA's probable All-East squad for 1955 follows: Ends—Ron Beagle, Navy, and Paul Lopata, Yale; tackles—John Miller, Boston College, and Ralph Chesnauska, Army; guards—Bill Meigs, Harvard, and Jim Buonopane, Holy Cross; center—John Cenci, Pitt; quarterback—George Welsh, Navy; halfbacks—Lenny Moore, Penn State, and Royce Flippin, Princeton; fullback—Pat Uebel, Army.

Free Boat-Handling Courses Open in Kingston, Sept. 13

Sponsored by the Mid-Hudson Squadron of the United States Power Squadrons, these lectures are given in the interest of safe pleasure boating.

Persons new to this increasingly popular sport, those who have owned boats for years and those who are hoping to be boat owners will find these lectures of value. Subjects covered include Lights required on different class boats, Required life saving equipment, Rules of the Road, Safety at Sea, Charts & Piloting, the Mariner's Compass, Aids to Navigation, Seamanship, Manners and customs.

The instructors will be members of the Mid-Hudson Squadron from Kingston and nearby areas. There will be no fee of any kind and both men and women are invited to attend. Classes will start at 7 p. m. Additioal information may be had by phoning Charles R. Cole or Harold F. Davis.

Dorpian Pitcher Misses No-Hitter

(By The Associated Press)

If it hadn't been for a first inning single to left by Schenectady's Larry Novak, Reading hurler Jake Striker would have a no-hit, no-run game to his credit today.

Striker retired the last 14 men in order yesterday in beating the Blue Jays 2-0. Because of the defeat, fifth place Schenectady sunk a half-game further from the first division, and will have a hard fight on its hands for a position in the playoffs.

Two of the contenders in the tight playoff race, the Binghamton Triplets and the Williamsport Grays, were idled by rain. The Elmira Pioneers were 6-4 victors at Johnstown and the Allentown Redbirds inched the Albany Senators 3-2 at Allentown.

Blow to A's

Kansas City, Aug. 31 (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics, desperately shorthanded in the field, lost shortstop Joe Demaestri through an injury in the fourth inning of last night's game with the New York Yankees. Minutes later the A's announced they were calling up Gerald Schypinski, 23-year-old shortstop from the Savannah club of the South Atlantic League.

No matter who wins the pennant, the American League idols will have clay feet and a glass chin.

The four contenders, one of whom has to serve as champ, have been tagged with a sucker punch in 10 of their last 18 games with the second division, and a pretty scrawny second division at that.

Seventh-place Washington and last-place Baltimore banged the Chicago White Sox against the ropes last week, winning four-of-seven. Then Washington barred Cleveland's way to the top Sunday with a doubleheader sweep.

AND LAST night, Kansas City, 24 games deep in sixth place, dropped New York 4-3, spilling the Yankees from first place into a second-place tie with Cleveland. With that assist, the White Sox moved a half-game ahead with a 7-5 decision over Boston.

The White Sox didn't ride into the lead on a white charger. They backed in with five unearned runs.

Cleveland, meanwhile moved up with a 7-4 triumph over Baltimore — but had the help of eight walks that became four runs.

Chicago, playing one less game than either New York or Cleveland for a five-percentage-point edge, tied it at 4-4 in the fourth with the first two gift runs. Then the Chisox put it away with the other three unearned runs while reliefer Millard Howell checked Boston on three hits over the last five frames.

TED WILLIAMS, whose double opened a 4-3 Boston lead, booted a liner by Nelson Fox for a two-base error to set up the final Chicago runs in the sixth. George Kell followed with a two-run triple and Minnie Minoso knocked in the gravy marker with a single, running his hitting streak to 23 games.

New York bunched three of its five hits off Alex Kellner to tie the A's at 3-all in the fifth. Then Hec Lopez gave Alex his 10th victory with a home run off loser Bob Grim in the bottom of the frame.

Bob Lemon won his 15th for the Indians, but gave up 12 hits and needed help from Don Mossi to get the final out following two singles with two away in the ninth.

In the National, Brooklyn went 13 games in front by beating Milwaukee 8-6 as Don Newcombe finally won his 19th; New York ended a five-game slump with a 5-0, 9-7 sweep of Cincinnati; Chicago's Cubs clipped Philadelphia 3-1, and Pittsburgh beat St. Louis 3-1 after the Cards had wrapped up a 1-0 verdict in the completion of a suspended game.

NEWCOMBE, 0-3 since July 31, gave up two-run homers by Bobby Thomson and Johnny Logan, but led 8-4 when he gave way to a back ache after six innings. Roy Campanella homered twice and Duke Snider got one in the 12 hits Brooklyn smacked off four Milwaukee hurlers.

The Giants had four unearned runs in the first game. In the nightcap, the Redlegs Ted Kluszewski upped his major league home run lead to 43 with a pair, while New York's Willie Mays hit two to tie Snider for second place with 40.

Reliefer Hal Jeffcoat saved Sam Jones' 12th victory after Sad Sam had walked the bases loaded with one out in the eighth at Philadelphia.

Yonkers Winner

Yonkers, Aug. 31 (AP)—Acres of Diamonds, a 3-year-old brown colt driven by Paul Vineyard, took the Bedford pace at Yonkers Raceway last night in 2:04.1, winning by half a length over Symbol Chance. The victor, owned by Dr. L. C. Rees, Millersville, Pa., paid $3.40.

NY-NJ Loop Restores Contest to Colonials

And Adds Two More Games to Schedule

If you attempt to follow the doings of the New York-New Jersey Semi-pro Baseball League and in the process become slightly confused, don't be upset. Chances are you're not alone.

The semi-pro circuit, which had apparently settled its difficulties and its pennant race last weekend, threw the matter into a turmoil again last night.

Here's what transpired:

First, the loop authorities meeting in Paterson, voted to return the Kingston Colonials' 9-2 victory over the New York Mohawks back to the local squad after it had allowed a Mohawks' protest.

Second, the Colonials will play their two remaining games with the Paterson Uncle Sams and the Brooklyn Windsors.

Third, if Paterson defeats Kingston the latter team will play the Mohawks, with the winner of that game meeting Poughkeepsie for the season championship.

If Item One confuses anyone, here it is chronologically:

JULY 16. Colonials surprise Mohawks at Dietz Stadium with 9-2 triumph.

AUG. 9. League officials rule that Kingston used ineligible player (Steve Cea, who had umpired previous game against Mohawks) and therefore game is forfeited to Mohawks.

AUG. 23. League officials rule that Kingston won game in the first place, therefore forfeit is reversed. Vote was 3-2 with Kingston, Paterson and Poughkeepsie on winning side, Brooklyn and New York on losing side and Newburgh abstaining.

So it looks like local fans will have another chance to see the Colonials. The Kingston club plays at Paterson this Sunday afternoon and entertains Brooklyn at Dietz Stadium the following Sunday.

As of now, the Poughkeepsie and New York teams have finished their seasons with 7-3 records. Paterson has a 6-3 mark and must win against Kingston to have a chance for the crown.

If Paterson does beat the locals, the Uncle Sams and the Mohawks will collide at the latter's field in the Bronx. Poughkeepsie, which drew a bye in the draw, will be host for the final game.

Don't be too sure of all of the above working out, however. The league history, however brief, indicates that while at one time it'll give a game back to the Indians, at another appointed hour it will be an Indian giver.

Here's the standings:

	W	L
Poughkeepsie	7	3
New York	7	3
Paterson	6	3
Newburgh	6	4
Kingston	1	7
Brooklyn	1	8

HOUSTON—Teddy (Red Top) Davis, 127, Hartford, Conn., outpointed Paul Jorgensen, 126, Houston, 10.

Swaps 3-5 At Post

Chicago, Aug. 31 (AP)—Nashua from the East and Swaps from the West——possibly the most brilliant three-year-olds ever to be matched—take off today in what should rank as one of the greatest showdowns in thoroughbred racing history.

They will settle sophomore honors and undoubtedly "horse of the year" recognition, in a $100,000 winner-take-all race at 1¼ miles on Washington Park's "neutral" dirt oval.

EACH WILL pack 126 pounds —the same impost, the same distance, and the same jockeys as in their only other 1955 meeting—the Kentucky Derby. In that race, Nashua with Eddie Arcaro up, challenged in mid-stretch strongly only to have Willie Shoemaker and Swaps sweep on to a 1½ lengths triumph in 2:01 4/5.

The race will be televised and broadcast nationally starting at 5 p. m. EST, by CBS. There will be parimutuel win betting only.

Odds list Swaps at 3-5 and Nashua 6-5.

In case of a dead heat in today's race, all money bet will be refunded, a Washington Park spokesman said.

Game Postponed

The Fraternal Youth League game scheduled Thursday between the Vols and the Elks has been postponed because of the Bridgeport tournament.

NY-NJ Loop Restores Contest to Colonials

And Adds Two More Games to Schedule

If you attempt to follow the doings of the New York-New Jersey Semi-pro Baseball League and in the process become slightly confused, don't be upset. Chances are you're not alone.

The semi-pro circuit, which had apparently settled its difficulties and its pennant race last weekend, threw the matter into a turmoil again last night.

Here's what transpired:

First, the loop authorities meeting in Paterson, voted to return the Kingston Colonials' 9-2 victory over the New York Mohawks back to the local squad after it had allowed a Mohawks' protest.

Second, the Colonials will play their two remaining games with the Paterson Uncle Sams and the Brooklyn Windsors.

Third, if Paterson defeats Kingston the latter team will play the Mohawks, with the winner of that game meeting Poughkeepsie for the season championship.

If Item One confuses anyone, here it is chronologically:

JULY 16. Colonials surprise Mohawks at Dietz Stadium with 9-2 triumph.

AUG. 9. League officials rule that Kingston used ineligible player (Steve Cea, who had umpired previous game against Mohawks) and therefore game is forfeited to Mohawks.

AUG. 23. League officials rule that Kingston won game in the first place, therefore forfeit is reversed. Vote was 3-2 with Kingston, Paterson and Poughkeepsie on winning side, Brooklyn and New York on losing side and Newburgh abstaining.

So it looks like local fans will have another chance to see the Colonials. The Kingston club plays at Paterson this Sunday afternoon and entertains Brooklyn at Dietz Stadium the following Sunday.

As of now, the Poughkeepsie and New York teams have finished their seasons with 7-3 records. Paterson has a 6-3 mark and must win against Kingston to have a chance for the crown.

If Paterson does beat the locals, the Uncle Sams and the Mohawks will collide at the latter's field in the Bronx. Poughkeepsie, which drew a bye in the draw, will be host for the final game.

Don't be too sure of all of the above working out, however. The league history, however brief, indicates that while at one time it'll give a game back to the Indians, at another appointed hour it will be an Indian giver.

Here's the standings:

	W	L
Poughkeepsie	7	3
New York	7	3
Paterson	6	3
Newburgh	6	4
Kingston	1	7
Brooklyn	1	8

HOUSTON—Teddy (Red Top) Davis, 127, Hartford, Conn., outpointed Paul Jorgensen, 126, Houston, 10.

Swaps 3-5 At Post

Chicago, Aug. 31 (AP)—Nashua from the East and Swaps from the West——possibly the most brilliant three-year-olds ever to be matched—take off today in what should rank as one of the greatest showdowns in thoroughbred racing history.

They will settle sophomore honors and undoubtedly "horse of the year" recognition, in a $100,000 winner-take-all race at 1¼ miles on Washington Park's "neutral" dirt oval.

EACH WILL pack 126 pounds —the same impost, the same distance, and the same jockeys as in their only other 1955 meeting—the Kentucky Derby. In that race, Nashua with Eddie Arcaro up, challenged in mid-stretch strongly only to have Willie Shoemaker and Swaps sweep on to a 1½ lengths triumph in 2:01 4/5.

The race will be televised and broadcast nationally starting at 5 p. m. EST, by CBS. There will be parimutuel win betting only.

Odds list Swaps at 3-5 and Nashua 6-5.

In case of a dead heat in today's race, all money bet will be refunded, a Washington Park spokesman said.

Game Postponed

The Fraternal Youth League game scheduled Thursday between the Vols and the Elks has been postponed because of the Bridgeport tournament.

Final Sunday Concert Planned for Maverick

Woodstock, Aug. 31—The last concert in the Maverick Sunday afternoon series on Sept. 4, at 4 p. m., will mark the only appearance this year of Woodstock's own William Kroll. The famous chamber musicians will share performing honors with Mr. Kroll, flutist, Julius Baker and pianist, Artur Balsom.

Julius Baker, considered one of the world's leading flutists, appears in Woodstock for the first time. He has been solo flutist with such orchestras as the Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Chicago and CBS Symphony Orchestras and is one of the original members of the Bach Aria Group. With this latter organization he scored at the Casals Festival in Prades, France, this summer. He is flying in from his European tour especially to meet the Maverick engagement.

In line with his own inclination as well as the tradition set in former years by Woodstock's own master of the flute, Berrare, Baker will play a Sonata for Flute and Piano by Johann Sebastian. He will also take part in the performance of the master's Trio Sonata for Flute, Violin and Piano from the famous "Musical Offering." William Kroll and Arthur Balsam have chosen Mozart's Sonata in B flat and Faure's Sonata in A for Violin and Piano to round out a program which promises to be a fitting climax to the fortieth season of Woodstock Maverick Sunday Concerts.

After the death of her husband in 1925, Mrs. Zwemer took up her abode in Madanapalle and courageously began on her career alone. Her son was born on April 24 of that same year and was her companion during the lonely years that followed. Since that time she has been engaged in a wide variety of mission work, acted as a superintendent of the Hindu Girls' School in Punganur, served at a school for missionaries' children in Kadaikanal in the hills of South India. Although she came back to this country during the war years, she returned to India to carry on her work there.

The association, affiliated with the Air Line Pilots Assn., said the agreement covers about 1,200 agent and clerical employes. The association said more than 60 contract changes were settled, including pay increases, increased benefits in expense allowances, accumulation of sick leave, uniform allowances, and overtime provisions. At a preliminary hearing in Municipal Court yesterday, Shirley Stickles, Rosenfeld's 12-year-old stepdaughter, testified she saw Rosenfeld shoot her mother, Celia, 37, last Aug. 14. Committee Named On Temporary Milk Price Figure

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 31 (AP)—A committee representing northeastern farm organizations has been chosen to draw up proposals for a temporary farmers' milk price to be presented to the secretary of agriculture.

The committee was chosen yesterday at a meeting of 50 representatives of 20 organizations, called by the Dairymen's League.

Dairymen want the stopgap price increase because a current order by Secretary Ezra Taft Benson establishing a price floor will expire Oct. 1 and a long-range revision of the New York milkshed marketing order is considered months off.

BENSON SET the floor price of $4.75 a hundredweight for fluid milk last spring. Actually, the price has been higher through the normal working of the marketing order except in May and June.

A resolution was adopted yesterday urging that any action toward a stopgap increase should not bring about a lengthy hearing or in any way disrupt the long-term program. Benson has in the past not granted such requests without hearings.

The committee was empowered to work out a program and seek a meeting with the secretary. No specific proposals were approved.

THE COMMITTEE includes: Dr. Kenneth A. Shaul, Cobleskill, president of the Mutual Federation of Independent Cooperatives; James Young, Angelica, president of the Metropolitan Milk Producers Bargaining Agency; a representative of Eastern Milk Producers, to be chosen later; Stanley Benham, treasurer of the Dairymen's League; Don Wickham, Hector, president of the State Farm Bureau; Clarence Johncox, Corfu, representing the State Grange; Tony Waldo, Canastota, representing the State Council of Farmer Co-Operatives; D. L. Smith, Montpelier, Vt., representing Vermont dairymen; and J. Collins McSparron, Harrisburg, representing Pennsylvania dairymen.

THE RIGHT CONNECTIONS are necessary for any businessman to get new business and increase his income. The best way to get a direct line to the people who will become your customers is through Freeman Classified Ads. Phone 5000 and let us help you work out a hook-up.

She will talk about her work in India where she went as a young woman with her husband, the Rev. Theodore Zwemer in 1923. After the death of her husband in 1925, Mrs. Zwemer took up her abode in Madanapalle and courageously began on her career alone. Her son was born on April 24 of that same year and was her companion during the lonely years that followed. Since that time she has been engaged in a wide variety of mission work, acted as a superintendent of the Hindu Girls' School in Punganur, served at a school for missionaries' children in Kadaikanal in the hills of South India. Although she came back to this country during the war years, she returned to India to carry on her work there.

Air Agents Sign

Chicago, Aug. 31 (AP)—The Air Line Agents Assn., International, announced yesterday the union had signed a renewal agreement in Miami, Fla., with the National Airlines, Inc. The association, affiliated with the Air Line Pilots Assn., said the agreement covers about 1,200 agent and clerical employes. The association said more than 60 contract changes were settled, including pay increases, increased benefits in expense allowances, accumulation of sick leave, uniform allowances, and overtime provisions. Pay boosts ran as high as $70.50 per month and averaged more than $20 per month, retroactive to Feb. 7, the association said.

Held for Murder

Los Angeles, Aug. 31 (AP)—Harold Rosenfeld, 45, an interior decorator, has been ordered held for trial on a charge of murder in the shooting of his estranged wife. At a preliminary hearing in Municipal Court yesterday, Shirley Stickles, Rosenfeld's 12-year-old stepdaughter, testified she saw Rosenfeld shoot her mother, Celia, 37, last Aug. 14. Judge William Gallagher set Sept. 13 as the date of arraignment.

Committee Named On Temporary Milk Price Figure

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 31 (AP)—A committee representing northeastern farm organizations has been chosen to draw up proposals for a temporary farmers' milk price to be presented to the secretary of agriculture.

The committee was chosen yesterday at a meeting of 50 representatives of 20 organizations, called by the Dairymen's League.

Dairymen want the stopgap price increase because a current order by Secretary Ezra Taft Benson establishing a price floor will expire Oct. 1 and a long-range revision of the New York milkshed marketing order is considered months off.

BENSON SET the floor price of $4.75 a hundredweight for fluid milk last spring. Actually, the price has been higher through the normal working of the marketing order except in May and June.

A resolution was adopted yesterday urging that any action toward a stopgap increase should not bring about a lengthy hearing or in any way disrupt the long-term program. Benson has in the past not granted such requests without hearings.

The committee was empowered to work out a program and seek a meeting with the secretary. No specific proposals were approved.

THE COMMITTEE includes: Dr. Kenneth A. Shaul, Cobleskill, president of the Mutual Federation of Independent Cooperatives; James Young, Angelica, president of the Metropolitan Milk Producers Bargaining Agency; a representative of Eastern Milk Producers, to be chosen later; Stanley Benham, treasurer of the Dairymen's League; Don Wickham, Hector, president of the State Farm Bureau; Clarence Johncox, Corfu, representing the State Grange; Tony Waldo, Canastota, representing the State Council of Farmer Co-Operatives; D. L. Smith, Montpelier, Vt., representing Vermont dairymen; and J. Collins McSparron, Harrisburg, representing Pennsylvania dairymen.

THE RIGHT CONNECTIONS are necessary for any businessman to get new business and increase his income. The best way to get a direct line to the people who will become your customers is through Freeman Classified Ads. Phone 5000 and let us help you work out a hook-up.

School Teacher Enjoys Vacation Economy

Manhattan Beach, Calif., Aug. 31 (AP)—Well, how did you enjoy your vacation this summer, and did it cost more than you could afford?

A Manhattan Beach school teacher, Susan Waters, 28, probably travelled much farther, saw more, had a better time, and it's almost a cinch she spent less than you did.

Susan toured southern Europe by bicycle for four weeks, including Portugal, Spain and the French Riviera. It cost her nothing, except for minor luxuries.

Miss Waters was a leader of American Youth Hostels, Inc., and directed a group of eight on the tour, which cost each one in the group $590, including round trip ship passage. As a leader, her expenses were paid by AYH.

This was the sixth such trip, and on the last four she has been a leader—meaning her expenses were paid. So, she is seeing the world free of charge.

The ark carried eight human persons: Noah and his wife, their three sons (Shem, Ham and Japheth) and the sons' wives.

Boy Scout News

Cub Pack 9, sponsored by the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, held an outdoor meeting Monday evening at Lawton Park, in keeping with the August theme, "Outdoor Fun." Members of Den 3, Gerard Buboltz and John McCullough, Jr. led the opening ceremony.

DURING the parents session, Cubmaster Bob Elliott read a letter from Scout Executive George V. Dennis thanking the pack members for their participation on Cub Scout Day at Camp Tri-Mount during the summer. At that time, Pack 9 portrayed the story of Henry Hudson's exploration up the Hudson river and his crew's barter with the local Indians, in conjunction with July's theme of "Discovering America."

Parents of the Cubs were given the opportunity to discuss themes for the next twelve months and to volunteer as members of the Ideas Committees to plan future pack meetings around the various themes.

BILL DAUM, Den 1 Dad, led the Scouts in various outdoor games, after which the following awards were presented: Den 1—Bear badge to Michael Boomhower; Silver arrows on Wolf badge to William Daum, Robert Elliott, and Donald Lane; Den 4—Wolf badge to Paul Richers.

Cubmaster Elliott announced the theme for next month to be "Robin Hood" and the meeting will be held at Redeemer Church, Wurts and Rogers streets, September 26th, at 7:15. At that time, many more boys who have been working on advancement during the summer months will receive their awards. A bobcat induction ceremony for new Cubs and their families is also planned.

Following refreshments around the campfire, John McCullough, Sr., led the Cub Scouts in songs.

Saugerties Game Club Seeks Land For Posting

The posting of local farm and timber lands for the purpose of encouraging membership in the club was discussed at the regular monthly meeting of the Saugerties Fish and Game Club Monday night.

The proposal as presented to the group would call for a committee to visit area land owners and farmers asking permission to post lands. The posted lands would then only be available to the farmer and members of the club bearing the official tag.

A MOVE FOR adoption of the measure will be made at the next meeting scheduled for Monday, Sept. 26 at 8 p. m. in the R. A. Snyder Fire Company rooms.

Take Antlerless Deer One Day

Albany, Aug. 31 (AP)—Hunters will be permitted to take antlerless deer this year for one day—Dec. 3—in 15 counties in central and western New York.

Conservation Commissioner Louis A. Wehle today declared the one-day season in:

Allegany, Cattaraugus, Cayuga, Chautauqua, Chemung, Cortland, Gensee, Livingston, Niagara, Onondaga, Steuben and Wyoming counties, the part of Broome and Chenango counties west of the Susquehanna river, and part of Erie county. It applies in the part of Erie county where the conservation law allows hunting of deer having horns at least three inches long.

Wehle said he was acting because deer in excessive numbers were damaging crops and browsing the ranges too much in those counties.

School Teacher Enjoys Vacation Economy

Manhattan Beach, Calif., Aug. 31 (AP)—Well, how did you enjoy your vacation this summer, and did it cost more than you could afford?

A Manhattan Beach school teacher, Susan Waters, 28, probably travelled much farther, saw more, had a better time, and it's almost a cinch she spent less than you did.

Susan toured southern Europe by bicycle for four weeks, including Portugal, Spain and the French Riviera. It cost her nothing, except for minor luxuries.

Miss Waters was a leader of American Youth Hostels, Inc., and directed a group of eight on the tour, which cost each one in the group $590, including round trip ship passage. As a leader, her expenses were paid by AYH.

This was the sixth such trip, and on the last four she has been a leader—meaning her expenses were paid. So, she is seeing the world free of charge.

The ark carried eight human persons: Noah and his wife, their three sons (Shem, Ham and Japheth) and the sons' wives.

Boy Scout News

Cub Pack 9, sponsored by the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, held an outdoor meeting Monday evening at Lawton Park, in keeping with the August theme, "Outdoor Fun." Members of Den 3, Gerard Buboltz and John McCullough, Jr. led the opening ceremony.

DURING the parents session, Cubmaster Bob Elliott read a letter from Scout Executive George V. Dennis thanking the pack members for their participation on Cub Scout Day at Camp Tri-Mount during the summer. At that time, Pack 9 portrayed the story of Henry Hudson's exploration up the Hudson river and his crew's barter with the local Indians, in conjunction with July's theme of "Discovering America."

Parents of the Cubs were given the opportunity to discuss themes for the next twelve months and to volunteer as members of the Ideas Committees to plan future pack meetings around the various themes.

BILL DAUM, Den 1 Dad, led the Scouts in various outdoor games, after which the following awards were presented: Den 1—Bear badge to Michael Boomhower; Silver arrows on Wolf badge to William Daum, Robert Elliott, and Donald Lane; Den 4—Wolf badge to Paul Richers.

Cubmaster Elliott announced the theme for next month to be "Robin Hood" and the meeting will be held at Redeemer Church, Wurts and Rogers streets, September 26th, at 7:15. At that time, many more boys who have been working on advancement during the summer months will receive their awards. A bobcat induction ceremony for new Cubs and their families is also planned.

Following refreshments around the campfire, John McCullough, Sr., led the Cub Scouts in songs.

Saugerties Game Club Seeks Land For Posting

The posting of local farm and timber lands for the purpose of encouraging membership in the club was discussed at the regular monthly meeting of the Saugerties Fish and Game Club Monday night.

The proposal as presented to the group would call for a committee to visit area land owners and farmers asking permission to post lands. The posted lands would then only be available to the farmer and members of the club bearing the official tag.

A MOVE FOR adoption of the measure will be made at the next meeting scheduled for Monday, Sept. 26 at 8 p. m. in the R. A. Snyder Fire Company rooms.

A special election was held for treasurer to replace Robert Thompson who is moving from Saugerties to Colorado. Ross Snyder was designated treasurer by a unanimous vote.

Elden Myers, vice president, was elevated by succession to the office of president due to the retirement of Richard L. Melius who is moving to Albany.

ARTHUR SPERL, chairman of the fish committee, reported that the club's application for a consignment of trout from the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Division was approved for the Plattekill Creek running through Mt. Marion.

President Myers appointed John Kaminski as chairman of the entertainment committee which was vacated by Mr. Thompson.

Donald Westergard, junior member who attended De Bruce Conservation Camp as a guest of the club for one week reported on his activities.

The award of the month was presented to Walter Decker of Katsbaan.

Take Antlerless Deer One Day

Albany, Aug. 31 (AP)—Hunters will be permitted to take antlerless deer this year for one day—Dec. 3—in 15 counties in central and western New York.

Conservation Commissioner Louis A. Wehle today declared the one-day season in:

Allegany, Cattaraugus, Cayuga, Chautauqua, Chemung, Cortland, Gensee, Livingston, Niagara, Onondaga, Steuben and Wyoming counties, the part of Broome and Chenango counties west of the Susquehanna river, and part of Erie county. It applies in the part of Erie county where the conservation law allows hunting of deer having horns at least three inches long.

Wehle said he was acting because deer in excessive numbers were damaging crops and browsing the ranges too much in those counties.

Car Collision Helps Restore Man's Sight

Riverhead, N. Y., Aug. 31 (AP)—A 61-year-old cigar stand operator, blind for 10 years, says his sight is returning, thanks to an auto collision last Saturday.

William Francis, whose cigar stand is in the Suffolk county courthouse, was riding with the courthouse superintendent when a car behind rammed into them at a stop light. Francis cracked his head against the windshield.

"I felt as if something went into my left eye," he said yesterday. "I began to see out of it Saturday night in Mather Hospital.

"I went home Sunday and all Sunday night I kept turning on lights. I could see them."

Francis, who began to lose his sight when a shell burst near him in Belgium during World War 1, was overjoyed.

"I'm so happy I'm almost crazy," he said. "I can see the customers light matches. I can see the white shirts. Faces look like blobs, but I can see."

A Riverhead eye specialist who examined Francis said it is possible that the blow on his head helped his sight, but "only time will tell if his sight is fully restored."

Francis is a widower. His daughter was killed in World War 2 while serving as a nurse at Anzio beachhead.

Feel Lack of News

Washington, Aug. 31 (AP)—Two congressmen touring the nation's outermost defense bases reported today that many GIs feel "very keenly the lack of up-to-minute news from home. Reps. Sikes (D-Fla.) and Ostertas (R-N.Y.), now in Greenland, said in a statement issued by Sikes' office that the armed forces radio network is not transmitting news to some posts. In their wireles report, the congressmen said: "We feel that there is a definite need for a more complete news coverage. People in these far away stations feel very keenly the great gulf between them and their people back home and they miss an up-to-the-minute source of news."

Ship Master Retires

After 32 years on the 30-mile run—except in World War 2, when service was stopped and Mussetter was a Long Beach harbor pilot and coast guard reservist—he says: "If I had two more lives to live, I'd do it over again."

To Inspect Aid Results

Washington, Aug. 31 (AP)—With another hefty cut in U. S. foreign aid spending as his goal, Rep. Passman (D-La.) leaves this week on a 10-nation Middle East-Asian tour to see how Uncle Sam's money is being spent. Passman is chairman of a House Appropriations subcommitee handling foreign aid money legislation. This year his group succeeded in cutting half a billion dollars from budget requests for President Eisenhower. "Last year's trip paid prettty big dividends," Passman told a reporter. "I hope this year's trip can bring an equal savings in next year's appropriations."

Five Sentenced In Sewer Scandal

New York, Aug. 31 (AP)—Victor Clemente, a Queens sewer contractor, and four former city sewer engineers and inspectors have been jailed as a result of a 1953 sewer scandal.

Clemente, 58, drew an 8½-to-17-year prison term yesterday for conspiracy, fraud and bribery in building the $185,000 Laurelton sewer in a way so faulty it had to be replaced the following year at a cost of $391,368.

SEWER OFFICIALS who were supposed to supervise the job were sentenced as follows:

Gerard Brinkman, 49, former Queens sewer engineer, 3 to 5 years on 25 counts of conspiracy and fraud.

John A. Neary, 49, former sewer inspector, 2 to 4 years on 23 counts.

Walter C. Bullis, 61, former city construction inspector, 2 to 4 years on 9 counts.

Another former sewer inspector, George H. Schmidt, 49, was sent to the City Penitentiary for an indeterminate term for perjury before a grand jury probing the sewer scandal.

Sentencing of Clemente's son, Dominic, 26, was postponed until Sept. 27 on the basis of city doctor's confirmation that he is ill and must undergo an abdominal operation.

IN FIXING the sentences following a guilty verdict returned by a jury last June 9, Queens County Judge Alfred J. Hoffmann declared:

"This is a deterrent, a warning, to other contractors that the peoples of Queens want dollar for dollar value . . . the people of the city will not stand still for a gyp."

Complaints of odors coming from the Laurelton sewer shortly after it was built touched off the original investigation. When dug up, some pipes were found to be missing. Others were broken or clogged with newspapers, rags and sand.

No fines were levied against the defendants, since the city has filed a suit to recover the cost of replacing the sewer.

Seek Riot Wagons

Detroit, Aug. 31 (AP)—Detroit police who fight future gun battles will be protected by two large armored "riot wagons" if the City Council approves a recommendation by Police Commissioner Edward S. Piggins. Death of a patrolman last week and serious wounding of a police executive Sunday night led to police department plans to send armored mobile units to future shooting scenes. Each unit would be equipped with armored platforms which could be raised to a second floor level. Bullet-proof glass would enable police to look into a room without danger of being shot.

Air Force Picks Out Quick Change Teams

The teams will race in changing the Allison J33 engines of six Lockheed T33 Shooting Star Jet Fighters.

The first team to complete the change, inspect the job, start the engine and operate it at idling speed will receive the Allison trophy.

At open house exercises at Webb Air Force Base, Big Spring, Tex., last May, a crew made the change in 8 minutes and 15 seconds. It claimed that to be a world record.

Car Collision Helps Restore Man's Sight

Riverhead, N. Y., Aug. 31 (AP)—A 61-year-old cigar stand operator, blind for 10 years, says his sight is returning, thanks to an auto collision last Saturday.

William Francis, whose cigar stand is in the Suffolk county courthouse, was riding with the courthouse superintendent when a car behind rammed into them at a stop light. Francis cracked his head against the windshield.

"I felt as if something went into my left eye," he said yesterday. "I began to see out of it Saturday night in Mather Hospital.

"I went home Sunday and all Sunday night I kept turning on lights. I could see them."

Francis, who began to lose his sight when a shell burst near him in Belgium during World War 1, was overjoyed.

"I'm so happy I'm almost crazy," he said. "I can see the customers light matches. I can see the white shirts. Faces look like blobs, but I can see."

A Riverhead eye specialist who examined Francis said it is possible that the blow on his head helped his sight, but "only time will tell if his sight is fully restored."

Francis is a widower. His daughter was killed in World War 2 while serving as a nurse at Anzio beachhead.

Feel Lack of News

Washington, Aug. 31 (AP)—Two congressmen touring the nation's outermost defense bases reported today that many GIs feel "very keenly the lack of up-to-minute news from home. Reps. Sikes (D-Fla.) and Ostertas (R-N.Y.), now in Greenland, said in a statement issued by Sikes' office that the armed forces radio network is not transmitting news to some posts. In their wireles report, the congressmen said: "We feel that there is a definite need for a more complete news coverage. People in these far away stations feel very keenly the great gulf between them and their people back home and they miss an up-to-the-minute source of news."

Ship Master Retires

Los Angeles, Aug. 31 (AP)—A man who has hauled an estimated six million passengers 390,000 miles to and from nearby Santa Catalina Island makes his last voyage today. Stocky, 68-year-old Lee Mussetter is retiring as master of the steamship Catalina that carries vacationers and pleasure-seekers to the world-famed resort. It will be approximately his 6,500th trip. After 32 years on the 30-mile run—except in World War 2, when service was stopped and Mussetter was a Long Beach harbor pilot and coast guard reservist—he says: "If I had two more lives to live, I'd do it over again."

To Inspect Aid Results

Washington, Aug. 31 (AP)—With another hefty cut in U. S. foreign aid spending as his goal, Rep. Passman (D-La.) leaves this week on a 10-nation Middle East-Asian tour to see how Uncle Sam's money is being spent. Passman is chairman of a House Appropriations subcommitee handling foreign aid money legislation. This year his group succeeded in cutting half a billion dollars from budget requests for President Eisenhower. "Last year's trip paid prettty big dividends," Passman told a reporter. "I hope this year's trip can bring an equal savings in next year's appropriations."

Five Sentenced In Sewer Scandal

New York, Aug. 31 (AP)—Victor Clemente, a Queens sewer contractor, and four former city sewer engineers and inspectors have been jailed as a result of a 1953 sewer scandal.

Clemente, 58, drew an 8½-to-17-year prison term yesterday for conspiracy, fraud and bribery in building the $185,000 Laurelton sewer in a way so faulty it had to be replaced the following year at a cost of $391,368.

SEWER OFFICIALS who were supposed to supervise the job were sentenced as follows:

Gerard Brinkman, 49, former Queens sewer engineer, 3 to 5 years on 25 counts of conspiracy and fraud.

John A. Neary, 49, former sewer inspector, 2 to 4 years on 23 counts.

Walter C. Bullis, 61, former city construction inspector, 2 to 4 years on 9 counts.

Another former sewer inspector, George H. Schmidt, 49, was sent to the City Penitentiary for an indeterminate term for perjury before a grand jury probing the sewer scandal.

Sentencing of Clemente's son, Dominic, 26, was postponed until Sept. 27 on the basis of city doctor's confirmation that he is ill and must undergo an abdominal operation.

IN FIXING the sentences following a guilty verdict returned by a jury last June 9, Queens County Judge Alfred J. Hoffmann declared:

"This is a deterrent, a warning, to other contractors that the peoples of Queens want dollar for dollar value . . . the people of the city will not stand still for a gyp."

Complaints of odors coming from the Laurelton sewer shortly after it was built touched off the original investigation. When dug up, some pipes were found to be missing. Others were broken or clogged with newspapers, rags and sand.

No fines were levied against the defendants, since the city has filed a suit to recover the cost of replacing the sewer.

Seek Riot Wagons

Detroit, Aug. 31 (AP)—Detroit police who fight future gun battles will be protected by two large armored "riot wagons" if the City Council approves a recommendation by Police Commissioner Edward S. Piggins. Death of a patrolman last week and serious wounding of a police executive Sunday night led to police department plans to send armored mobile units to future shooting scenes. Each unit would be equipped with armored platforms which could be raised to a second floor level. Bullet-proof glass would enable police to look into a room without danger of being shot.

Air Force Picks Out Quick Change Teams

Philadelphia, Aug. 31 (AP)—The air force today named six teams of quick-change experts among mechanics in its air training command for a new type of contest at the National Aircraft Show here next weekend.

The teams will race in changing the Allison J33 engines of six Lockheed T33 Shooting Star Jet Fighters.

The first team to complete the change, inspect the job, start the engine and operate it at idling speed will receive the Allison trophy.

At open house exercises at Webb Air Force Base, Big Spring, Tex., last May, a crew made the change in 8 minutes and 15 seconds. It claimed that to be a world record.
